Deputy Shot Twice Making 'Routine' Arrest

Traffic Violation Suspect Fires From Patrol Car's Back Seat

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

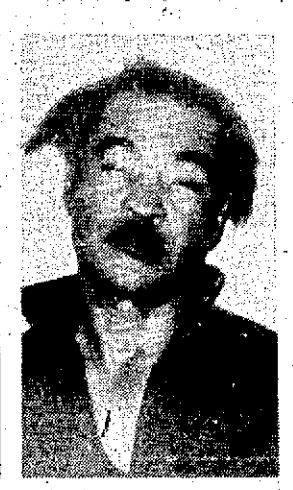

Berrien Deputy Sheriff Ross Brumbaugh, 24, was reported in "fair" condition today at Mercy hospital after he was shot twice Saturday when he stopped a pickup truck for no tail lights in a Benton Harbor residential neighborhood.

Arrested in connection with the shooting was a man, identified as Dock Smith, 66, of 467 North Winans street, Benton Harbor. Smith was booked on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

The shooting occurred shortly before 11 p.m. on Forest avenue, just north of Territorial road. No motive has been established.

DOCK SMITH
Arrested after shooting

Brumbaugh Sunday was listed in "fair" condition at Mercy hospital.

Brumbaugh was shot in the back of the head, but the slug didn't penetrate the skull. He also was shot in the right shoulder and was to undergo surgery for removal of the bullet in the shoulder.

Sheriff's Capt. Ronald Immoos described this sequence of events:

Brumbaugh stopped a pickup truck and parked behind the truck. The truck driver suddenly drove backward, hitting the patrol car. Bumpers of both vehicles locked.

Brumbaugh got out and asked the driver for his operator's license. Brumbaugh then asked the driver to sit in the back seat of the patrol car. Brumbaugh got into the front seat and was reaching for his radio microphone, when shot in the head.

The slug grazed the scalp entering from behind and exiting at the top of the head. Brumbaugh rolled out of the patrol car and onto the pavement, when shot again, in the right shoulder.

Brumbaugh got up, jumped over a guard rail leading to a ravine and returned fire. Brumbaugh fired six shots from his service revolver. Five slugs embedded in the side of the patrol car, and the sixth wasn't located.

The alleged assailant, meanwhile, got out of the patrol car and into the pickup, to drive away, Immoos said. Bumpers were locked, however, and the driver fled on foot after dragging the patrol car a few feet.

Immoos commented that Brumbaugh tried to flag down motorists for help, but at least six pulled around the patrol car and pickup and continued without stopping.

Help came from Mr. and Mrs. Connie Bass of 494 Forest avenue, Benton Harbor, who stopped and drove Brumbaugh to the hospital, Immoos said.

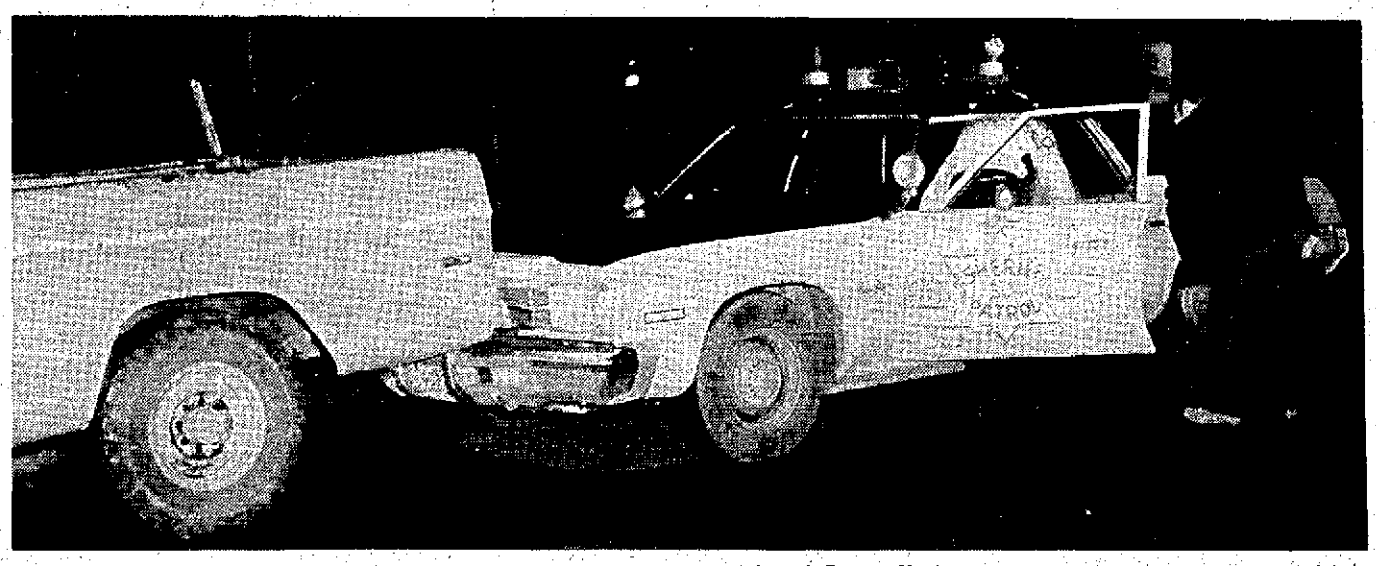

Another unknown man also stopped and summoned police by using the radio in Brumbaugh's patrol car, Immoos said.

Brumbaugh still had a driver's license clutched in his hand, upon arrival at Mercy hospital, Immoos said.

Before this was discovered, state police with a tracking dog were dispatched to search the ravine, while sheriff's officers were joined by Benton Harbor and Benton township police in the investigation.

Immoos said Smith was arrested at his home and a handgun was confiscated after registration check was made of the pickup truck. Immoos said a breath test indicated Smith had been drinking, but was not intoxicated. He reportedly registered .05, compared to .08 for impaired driving and .10 for driving while intoxicated.

Brumbaugh joined the department in August, 1974. He and his wife, Sue, live in Benton Harbor.

POLICE SLAY ALLEGED BURGLAR

Fairplain Plaza Rooftop Location Of Niles Man's Death

OFFICER KIM FOWLER
Fired Fatal Shots

An alleged rooftop burglar was shot and killed by a Benton township police officer early Sunday after an attempt was made to break into Muir's Drug store at Fairplain Plaza.

Township police reported they were called to the plaza when a janitor at Muir's heard thumping noises on the roof and plaster began to fall.

Capt. Paul Farris said three men were found on the roof by Patrolman Kim Fowler.

Two of the men fled on the rooftop and the third slid to ground on a pipe. Fowler ordered the pair to halt, fired two warning blasts from his 12-gauge shotgun, and then a third round that struck one of the pair.

The dead man was identified as Billy K. Gober, 33, of 1434 Eagle street, Niles.

Arrested at the scene were Daniel M. Williams, 33, of route 2, box 342, Watervliet; and Larry D. Homan, 28, of 1342 Silverbrook avenue, Niles.

Homan, who allegedly fled with Gober, surrendered after Gober was shot, police said. Williams slid down drain pipe to the ground where he was apprehended.

Berrien Prosecutor John Smietanka said today he was investigating the death and expects to make a ruling tomorrow on whether it was justifiable homicide.

Found by police on the roof were a bag containing alleged burglary tools and a case containing a sawed-off shotgun and pistol. Police said a hole had been pounded around a drain pipe above Muir's.

An autopsy Sunday at Mercy hospital by Dr. Charles Boonstra, pathologist, indicated that Gober died of massive internal hemorrhaging, the department said. Nine shotgun pellets were located in the body.

Township Lt. Raymond Frye said Action ambulance attendants found Gober still alive, on a roof above Fox's Jewelers, but that Gober died before he could be removed. Fox's Jewelers is five stores south of Muir's Drugs.

Township police were called at 12:28 a.m., after a janitor at Muir's heard noises on the roof and saw ceiling plaster falling. Police said the janitor notified store manager George Rosenberger, who phoned the department.

Patrolman Fowler said he and three other officers took positions in front and behind the Muir store, located in a line of shops along the east side of the shopping center.

Fowler said he then went behind the store and used boxes to climb to a lower roof that led to the Muir roof. Fowler said he saw three men on the roof.

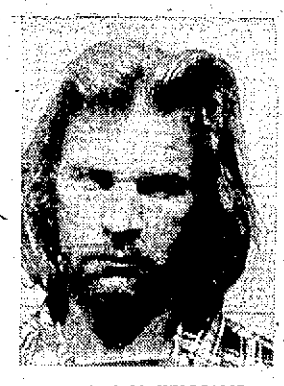

Two fled across roofs covering Hall of Cards, Terry's, Woolworth's, and the Beauty Salon, before the final shot ended the chase, above the jewelry store.

Cold Weather Pops Bubble Of Warmth

Mid-December illusions of summer in southwestern Michigan were crumpling fast this morning and will shatter completely tonight.

The National Weather Service predicted the temperature, after touching in the 60s Saturday and Sunday, will nosedive into the low teens tonight.

The mercury touched a high of 63 degrees at the weather recording station at the Herbert Teichman farm northeast of Eau Claire on Sunday, after reaching 62 Saturday. Closer to Lake Michigan; the recording thermometer at the Herald-Palladium in downtown Benton Harbor hit 59 on Saturday and 56 Sunday afternoon.

The weather service indicated record highs for the day were set in various parts of the state Sunday. Some readings were: Detroit, 65; Sault Ste Marie and Alpena, 53; Muskegon, 56.

Along with cold air tonight, occasional snow flurries are expected tonight and Tuesday.

Teichman recorded 1.48 inches of rainfall over the weekend at his station, accompanied by some thunder and lightning.

Had the temperature been more December-like over the weekend, the precipitation could have produced well over a foot of snow. A rule of thumb for converting rain to snow is that one inch of rain equals 10 inches of snow.

Bandit Kills Youth Second Night On Job

MONROE, Mich. (AP)-A 19-year-old youth was shot to death during an apparent holdup early today on his second night as attendant at an all-night gas station.

The body of Roi Hanon of Erie was found on the station floor by customers who stopped at the station. State Police said he had been shot with a small handgun and that the cash register had been rifled.

The amount of loot could not be determined until an audit is completed.

"That's it..I've had it," said station manager Richard Philips who said his station would no longer be an all-night stop, but would be restricted to daylight and evening hours.

The station is located off Interstate 75 just west of Luna Park.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

Respite For Michigan Business

Last week the Democratic legislative majority gave up in an effort to expand substantially the benefits under Michigan's workmen's compensation system.

Facing a certain veto from Governor Milliken and realizing it lacked the votes to override his rejection, the majority broke off further discussions to reach a compromise between its high sided proposal and the administration's indicated willingness to accept a modest increase.

The intention now is to try again during the legislature's new session which opens following this year-end.

The Democratic proposal, one worked out for the party by the UAW, called for raising the maximum payments for death or serious injury by sizeable amounts, retroactively increasing payments to claimants now being paid, adding COLA (cost of living allowance) to present and future benefits, and adding two more injuries of a psychosomatic nature to the list of compensable injuries.

The rationale for this giveaway at the employers' expense is that in a number of specific situations Michigan's benefits lag behind those payable in other highly industrialized states.

The cost of the package has been estimated at $180 million annually. Last year employers subject to the system paid $535 million in premiums to insure against their liability.

Milliken stated from the outset this is no time to be laying additional burdens on Michigan's employers, that our state projects a bad enough image as being anti-business without plastering another black eye upon its visage.

He offered to accept a $25 million annual increase in the form of padding the present benefit scale.

The talks broke off after the majority party's leadership in the legislature failed to sell a package of $90 million benefit gains, limiting the payments for the two newly proposed injuries, phasing in gradually rather than applying over night the retroactivity feature, and limiting claims by retired workers.

The latter has become a red flag among employers.

Judicial interpretation of the compensation statute has introduced a double dip payment which neither labor, management nor earlier day legislatures ever contemplated. It has become increasingly popular and productive for people going on pension to file a claim for an injury supposedly occurring during their active employment years.

The justification for allowing the claim is that the symptoms in certain injuries do not surface immediately, in fact, may lie dormant for years before manifesting themselves.

A minor chip in a bone frequently does not result in an irritation to the patient for a week or more, but the free wheeling application of that medical fact to the hundreds of stale claims now being granted is beginning to sound like a chorus from the graveyard.

The fact of the Democratic majority offering to put a limit of this double dip indicates how questionable the practice has become.

Milliken's bold stance against the workmen's compensation enlargement may rest on a concession last month to extending unemployment compensation in exchange for some technical corrections in that system's more glaring faults.

While the unemployment compensation system is such that in many instances it is more profitable to sit at home than to take a job; Michigan's continuing high unemployment rate poses undeniable hardships in other situations.

Though not approving the idea of putting a welfare problem solely on the employer's back, Milliken did follow a compromise route which is of no one's choosing.

Having approved that extra load, the Governor correctly took the position that a camel can only carry so many straws at a given time.

MILLIKEN DECISION ON VET TRUST FUND

Editor,

In view of the large number of letters that have been written regarding elimination of the Veterans' Trust Fund, I want you and your readers to know that after reviewing the alternatives I have decided that the best course of action for the state is to borrow the $50 million in the fund and pay it back on a definite — although delayed — schedule.

This, I feel is the best way to meet our obligations, balance our budget and avoid disturbing a large number of concerned citizens.

In a book store in Grand Rapids the other night, a woman came up to me and said "Don't let them take away our Veterans' Trust Fund; that's what's putting our boy through college." I was happy to be able to tell her that so far as I was concerned, it would not be eliminated — but I hastened to add that her son was never in any danger of losing those needed benefits. My proposals from the beginning were that the state general fund treasury pick up the obligations of the fund.

My proposal to borrow from the fund and to repay it on a set schedule will allow us to meet our budgetary problems, to continue to meet our obligations to our veterans and their families, and to put many minds at ease. And even while the fund is being reimbursed, its obligations will be met from the installments.

As I have indicated publicly on numerous occasions, I firmly believe that Michigan government bears a special obligation to veterans and their families. I believe we have met that obligation in recent years, and I believe we should continue to meet it in the years ahead.

In my judgment Senate Bill 1219 best meets the position I believe to be the responsible one. It is imperative that the bill receive prompt legislative action.

Sincerely,
William G. Milliken
Governor
State of Michigan

AMERICANS 'NEUROTIC' ABOUT GUN CONTROL

Editor,

I have for a long been a proponent of gun control, but it seems that a large percentage of the American people have a neurosis involving guns. Freud described a neurosis as being, generally speaking, the entrapment of present reality by past fantasy. That is, the neurotic personality is "fixated" in its early period and the adult reacts as he did in his childhood.

I have sometimes wondered whether people and nations, can have a "collective neurosis". It certainly seems that each country may have its own peculiar deviation from a norm of rationality that may have been caused by its early history.

It is quite possible, in my view, that the American obsession with guns, so unusual in the modern world, is part of our "fixation" on our frontier heritage and part of our reoccurring fantasy that we are still surrounded beasts, wild Indians, and desperados.

In Japan, for instance, which is comparable to the United States in industrialization and density of population, there are only one-tenth as many murders a year per capita as there are in the United States. Less than four per cent of these murders are committed by firearms.

Nobody, but the police, with a few exceptions, wants or has a gun there. The Japanese are certainly not a less people homicidal than we are; it is simply that you can't kill as easily or safely without a gun. We are not only 10 times as murderous as the Japanese, but the greater majority of our homicides are committed with firearms. Most of the homicides are committed, not by criminals, but by ordinary citizens with no former criminal records. I think our infatuation with the gun is not to be explained or understood on rational grounds. Obviously, the "right to bear arms" clause in the Constitution was meant for militias not for individual citizens. This relates back to our infantile fixation on our early days as a pioneer people facing a hostile and unknown environment. In those days, a gun made sense because it was a requisite

The denounciation has acted as a stimulant on the student body of the St. Joseph high school and a grand ball in the Maccabee hall on the evening of December 21 has been threatened. In substance, Supt. Clarke said: "I am always in favor of promoting the social interests of the pupils but I cannot honestly allow this social to be held. It would break up in a dance and there would be no end of mischief. Dancing at school gatherings is wrong and, as far as I can prevent it, there will be no feet throwing at meetings of St. Joseph pupils."

Reagan Reading From Old Script

WASHINGTON — Ronald Reagan is reading from an old script in the early hours of his presidential campaign. Like the tough but wise marshal of his theatrical past he insists the town needn't die if folks have the resolve to save it. What must be done, he explains, is to run off the welfare loafers, reduce the tax drain for Social Security, grow crops only for the productive, and get back to the days when men were men and women were not on Aid for Dependent Children.

"There are simple answers," he says.

One of the simple answers, apparently, is to be rich rather than poor. If public assistance for the latter is part of the problem, aid to the former is merely part of the system. And candidate Reagan is an embarrassing example. A man who worked his way up the hard way, through long days at the studio, the candidate has time and again taken government financial assistance as his just due.

When governor of California he told the citizens that "taxes should hurt," but not necessarily hurt millionaires. In 1970, because of "business reverses," he paid no state tax at all on a $49,000 income. More recently, according to a commentary in the Service Union Report of California, the former governor has paid, through the generosity of loopholes, only $1,108 in taxes on $500,000 worth of ranch property in Santa Barbara County. There is nothing illegal in this; it is merely part of the program of welfare for the wealthy.

How much blessing? Overall, according to information gathered by the congressional Joint Economic Committee, the federal government alone provides from $115 to $120 billion worth of public assistance. It is difficult to break this down into class receipts, but since it does not include Washington's direct payments to those on the dole it is safe to say only a fraction goes to welfare chiselers, those "Joe Doaks" whom Reagan says "spend their checks down at the pool hall."

Lockheed is not a Joe Doaks. Amtrak is not. Most farmers are not either, but even in time of food shortages and solid market prices they continue to receive $3 billion annually in price support assistance. As for some others: home owners get $5 billion a year in aid through mortgage interest deductions; those who are involved with capital gains transactions are granted $7 billion per annum in tax credits; people who have money enough to give to charity are rewarded by the government with $5 billion in yearly tax gifts.

No argument, the man on unemployment gets a handout. But people who are employed under federal defense contracts receive $10 billion annually in no-interest advances to use as working capital; many ranchers enjoy irrigation subsidies which reduce the cost of delivered water by as much as 90 per cent; small corporations receive tax rate reductions that will save them at least $3.5 billion this year.

Meanwhile, Ronald Reagan, who once used public money to build a $2 million executive mansion in California, travels the nation on donated political funds to condemn "wasted spending" on the down and out. The trouble with the peasantry, he says in effect, is that it isn't in a position to milk the government with sophistication.

Simple answers? There sure are. As another Californian, Earl Warren, once said: Some people consider the things government does for them to be social progress, but for others just socialism.

Someone Else May Clean House

WASHINGTON — The House of Representatives is not easily embarrassed.

In recent years, a steady parade of congressmen have been convicted of a variety of crimes. Bertram Podell, D.-N.Y., pleaded guilty to conspiracy and conflict of interest last year, one month after he was defeated in a primary. Frank Brasco, D-N.Y., was convicted last year of conspiracy to take payoffs for aiding a reputed Mafia figure obtain truck leasing contracts.

J. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., was fined $11,000 for forcing his congressional employees to pay him $50,000 in kickbacks from salaries. John Dowdy, D-Tex., was convicted of bribery. Frank Boykin, D-Ala., and Thomas Johnson, R-Md., were found guilty of wrongdoing in a savings and loan scandal. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.Y., pleaded guilty to tax evasion, in return for government withdrawal of perjury and kickback cover-up charges.

All except Podell wisely declined to seek reelection after their legal problems developed.

Congress has been content to ignore such abuses of power, preferring not to pass judgment on its own. The House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct has technical responsibility for investigating possible misconduct by members. But in reality it has never done so.

Only one time in modern history has the House moved to punish a member for corruption. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., used public money for his own private pleasure and was found guilty of libeling a black woman in a New York civil action. The House stripped him of his committee chairmanship and voted as a body to take away his seat in 1967. (The courts, however, later ruled that Congress had no power to expel him.) It appeared to observers at the time that Congress was at least as angry with Powell over his flamboyance as over his immorality. He had achieved the practically impossible; he had embarrassed his colleagues.

The House Standards Committee had a close call last month. Rep. Robin Beard, R.-Tenn., filed a formal complaint charging Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., with illegal disclosure of classified testimony about the Central Intelligence agency's covert activities in Chile. If a single member files a complaint, the committee is required to consider the matter (though not necessarily to do anything about it).

Unaccustomed to such unpleasantness, the committee promptly backed out of the situation on a technicality. It declared the committee hearing from which Harrington leaked the testimony to have been conducted improperly and therefore the complaint was invalid.

But the Standards Committee may face an even trickier situation soon. Under its rules, an outside group may also file a complaint, if it has first asked three congressmen to do so and has been rejected by them. No group has ever done this.

Common Cause (CC), with its fondness for breaking precedents; is moving to request the committee to investigate possible conflict of interest by Rep. Robert Sikes, D-Fla. A series of newspaper stories have charged that Sikes, who is chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that passes on all military construction, may have profited from private investments that were enhanced by his own legislation and congressional influence.

Butz Critics Note: Grain Cushion Adequate

Earlier this year, a large body of American consumers became more than a little concerned when the news broke that the Soviet Union was making another large dip into the American grain market to make up shortages on its own farms. Burned once by the upset which occurred in the domestic grain markets when the Soviets made similar large purchases a few years ago, some consumers cried out about what they perceived to be another disruption in the making.

Fortunately, it didn't happen. The record grain harvests turned in by American farmers this year were more than enough to meet domestic demand and large orders from abroad as well. The situation was different this time around. The market was prepared for large foreign orders.

Grain prices, in fact, have been dropping in recent months — a good indication in itself that harvests have been sufficient to meet demand. Better preparation in the form of all-out planting of grain crops is largely responsible, but just in case the five-year grain agreement signed with the Soviets this year, to take effect Oct. 1, 1976, should prevent any surprises coming from that direction in the future.

Under the agreement, the Soviet Union is committed to buy at least six million tons of wheat and corn each year and may purchase up to eight million tons without Washington's special authorization. Any orders over that amount will require advance approval.

The eight - million - ton limit is only about half the quantity the Soviets have purchased twice in the last several years. Continuing the present high level of production should provide an adequate cushion.

Earl Butz, Secretary of Agriculture, took quite a beating from the eastern press and certain TV pontificators for the grain shortage that was supposed to develop and didn't. Now it turns out that Earl and the Ford Administration have made a good deal for U.S. farmers, simultaneously helping every other American by improving the U.S. overseas trade balance.

It isn't likely that Midwesterner Butz will ever find favor in the New Yorker. But out here in the Great Lakes basin he looks pretty good right now.

Respite For Michigan Business

Last week the Democratic legislative majority gave up in an effort to expand substantially the benefits under Michigan's workmen's compensation system.

Facing a certain veto from Governor Milliken and realizing it lacked the votes to override his rejection, the majority broke off further discussions to reach a compromise between its high sided proposal and the administration's indicated willingness to accept a modest increase.

The intention now is to try again during the legislature's new session which opens following this year-end.

The Democratic proposal, one worked out for the party by the UAW, called for raising the maximum payments for death or serious injury by sizeable amounts, retroactively increasing payments to claimants now being paid, adding COLA (cost of living allowance) to present and future benefits, and adding two more injuries of a psychosomatic nature to the list of conpensable injuries.

The rationale for this giveaway at the employers' expense is that in a number of specific situations Michigan's benefits lag behind those payable in other highly industrialized states.

The cost of the package has been estimated at $180 million annually. Last year employers subject to the system paid $535 million in premiums to insure against their liability.

Milliken stated from the outset this is no time to be laying additional burdens on Michigan's employers, that our state projects a bad enough image as being anti-business without plastering another black eye upon its visage.

He offered to accept a $25 million annual increase in the form of padding the present benefit scale.

The talks broke off after the majority party's leadership in the legislature failed to sell a package of $90 million benefit gains, limiting the payments for the two newly proposed injuries, phasing in gradually rather than applying over night the retroactivity feature, and limiting claims by retired workers.

The latter has become a red flag among employers.

Judicial interpretation of the compensation statute has introduced a double dip payment which neither labor, management nor earlier day legislatures ever contemplated. It has become increasingly popular and productive for people going on pension to file a claim for an injury supposedly occurring during their active employment years.

The justification for allowing the claim is that the symptoms in certain injuries do not surface immediately, in fact, may lie dormant for years before manifesting themselves.

A minor chip in a bone frequently does not result in an irritation to the patient for a week or more, but the free wheeling application of that medical fact to the hundreds of stale claims now being granted is beginning to sound like a chorus from the graveyard.

The fact of the Democratic majority offering to put a limit of this double dip indicates how questionable the practice has become.

Milliken's bold stance against the workmen's compensation enlargement may rest on a concession last month to extending unemployment compensation in exchange for some technical corrections in that system's more glaring faults.

While the unemployment compensation system is such that in many instances it is more profitable to sit at home than to take a job, Michigan's continuing high unemployment rate poses undeniable hardships in other situations.

Though not approving the idea of putting a welfare problem solely on the employer's back, Milliken did follow a compromise route which is of no one's choosing.

Having approved that extra load, the Governor correctly took the position that a camel can only carry so many straws at a given time.

MILLIKEN DECISION ON VET TRUST FUND

Editor,

In view of the large number of letters that have been written regarding elimination of the Veterans' Trust Fund, I want you and your readers to know that after reviewing the alternatives I have decided that the best course of action for the state is to borrow the $50 million in the fund and pay it back on a definite — although delayed — schedule.

This, I feel is the best way to meet our obligations, balance our budget and avoid disturbing a large number of concerned citizens.

In a book store in Grand Rapids the other night, a woman came up to me and said "Don't let them take away our Veterans' Trust Fund; that's what's putting our boy through college." I was happy to be able to tell her that so far as I was concerned, it would not be eliminated — but I hastened to add that her son was never in any danger of losing those needed benefits. My proposals from the beginning were that the state general fund treasury pick up the obligations of the fund.

My proposal to borrow from the fund and to repay it on a set schedule will allow us to meet our budgetary problems, to continue to meet our obligations to our veterans and their families, and to put many minds at ease. And even while the fund is being reimbursed, its obligations will be met from the installments.

As I have indicated publicly on numerous occasions, I firmly believe that Michigan government bears a special obligation to veterans and their families. I believe we have met that obligation in recent years, and I believe we should continue to meet it in the years ahead.

In my judgment Senate Bill 1219 best meets the position I believe to be the responsible one. It is imperative that the bill receive prompt legislative action.

Sincerely,
William G. Milliken

State of Michigan

AMERICANS 'NEUROTIC' ABOUT GUN CONTROL

Editor,

I have for a long been a proponent of gun control, but it seems that a large percentage of the American people have a neurosis involving guns. Freud described a neurosis as being, generally speaking, the entrapment of present reality by past fantasy. That is, the neurotic personality is "fixated" in its early period and the adult reacts as he did in his childhood:

I have sometimes wondered whether people and nations, can have a "collective neurosis". It certainly seems that each country may have its own peculiar deviation from a norm of rationality that may have been caused by its early history.

It is quite possible, in my view, that the American obsession with guns, so unusual in the modern world, is part of our "fixation" on our frontier heritage and part of our reoccurring fantasy that we are still surrounded beasts, wild Indians, and desperados.

In Japan, for instance, which is comparable to the United States in industrialization and density of population, there are only one-tenth as many murders a year per capita as there are in the United States. Less than four per cent of these murders are committed by firearms.

Nobody, but the police, with a few exceptions, wants or has a gun there. The Japanese are certainly not a less people homicidal than we are; it is simply that you can't kill as easily or safely without a gun. We are not only 10 times as murderous as the Japanese, but the greater majority of our homicides are committed with firearms. Most of the homicides are committed, not by criminals, but by ordinary citizens with no former criminal records. I think our infatuation with the gun is not to be explained or understood on rational grounds. Obviously, the "right to bear arms" clause in the Constitution was meant for militias not for individual citizens. This relates back to our infantile fixation on our early days as a pioneer people facing a hostile and unknown environment. In those days, a gun made sense because it was a requisite

The denounciation has acted as a stimulant on the student body of the St. Joseph high school and a grand ball in the Maccabee hall on the evening of December 21 has been threatened. In substance, Supt. Clarke said: "I am always in favor of promoting the social interests of the pupils but I cannot honestly allow this social to be held. It would break up in a dance and there would be no end of mischief. Dancing at school gatherings is wrong and, as far as I can prevent it, there will be no feet throwing at meetings of St. Joseph pupils."

Reagan Reading From Old Script

WASHINGTON — Ronald Reagan is reading from an old script in the early hours of his presidential campaign. Like the tough but wise marshal of his theatrical past he insists the town needn't die if folks have the resolve to save it. What must be done, he explains, is to run off the welfare loafers, reduce the tax drain for Social Security, grow crops only for the productive, and get back to the days when men were men and women were not on Aid for Dependent Children.

"There are simple answers," he says.

One of the simple answers, apparently, is to be rich rather than poor. If public assistance for the latter is part of the problem, aid to the former is merely part of the system. And candidate Reagan is an embarrassing example. A man who worked his way up the hard way, through long days at the studio, the candidate has time and again taken government financial assistance as his just due.

When governor of California he told the citizens that "taxes should hurt," but not necessarily hurt millionaires. In 1970, because of "business reverses," he paid no state tax at all on a $49,000 income. More recently, according to a commentary in the Service Union Report of California, the former governor has paid, through the generosity of loopholes, only $1,108 in taxes on $500,000 worth of ranch property in Santa Barbara County. There is nothing illegal in this; it is merely part of the program of welfare for the wealthy.

How much blessing? Overall, according to information gathered by the congressional Joint Economic Committee, the federal government alone provides from $115 to $120 billion worth of public assistance. It is difficult to break this down into class receipts, but since it does not include Washington's direct payments to those on the dole it is safe to say only a fraction goes to welfare chiselers, those "Joe Doaks" whom Reagan says "spend their checks down at the pool hall."

Lockheed is not a Joe Doaks. Amtrak is not. Twin City Highlights

St. Joseph Traveling Rocky Financial Road

By JIM DeLAND
Assistant CITYEditor

The City of St. Joseph is on the road to financial trouble.

That is the general opinion among members of a blue ribbon study committee currently wrestling with the city's financial future.

"It's very bad...very serious," says Commissioner Joseph Hanley, chairman of the study committee. "We all feel that way. Without question, something has to be done. Some major step has to be taken."

The problem, as spelled out by city officials, is simple — unless St. Joseph finds a source of additional income, it will be unable to pay all the bills it anticipates next year.

Projections by City Manager G.W. Heppler based on present sources of revenue and expenses, indicate that St. Joseph would end the 1976-77 fiscal year with a $118,000 deficit and would wind up almost $2 million in the red over the next five years.

How has St. Joseph, which traditionally has operated on a balanced budget, arrived at such a financial crossroads?

Heppler says there are two major factors:

1. Spiraling inflation, which has increased the city's expenses 46 per cent since 1970 and threatens similar cost hikes in the next five years.

2. A dramatic leveling-off of the city's state equalized valuation after a period of impressive growth.

Heppler says that in the past year, prices the city pays for gasoline have gone up 50 per cent, for patrol cars 20 per cent, for concrete 25 per cent, for blacktop 44 per cent and for natural gas 31 per cent.

The city's cost for street lighting, he says, has increased from $57,000 last year to an estimated $71,000 for the current fiscal year — a jump of 24.5 per cent.

But the biggest drain on St. Joseph's pocketbook according to Heppler is salaries and fringe benefits of city employes, which he says account for 70 per cent of the 1975-76 budget and predicts will claim an even larger share of each tax dollar in future years.

According to Heppler, the city payroll has increased from 139 employes in 1970 to 140 at the present time — a gain of less than one per cent.

But he says that raises given to these employes in the past five years have totalled 37 per cent, boosting the city's payroll by some $490,000.

Heppler says that in some cases the pattern for wage increases was set by binding arbitration, which under law now applies to St. Joseph's organized public safety employes (policemen and firemen), but he adds that despite such forced hikes, salaries are not out of line.

"If you take a look at police and fire departments in communities our size, we're right in the middle salary-wise," he says. "We're competitive."

Based on Heppler's projections, salaries and fringe benefits for city and library employes will rise more than 40 per cent in the next five years, adding another $698,516 to the payroll.

In recent years, Heppler says, some of these cost increases have been offset by growth in St. Joseph's property valuation.

While the city's property tax rate has remained at the statutory limit of 12.5 mills for general operating expenses established by charter in 1928, he says, the city's state equalized valuation has climbed from $81 million in 1970 to more than $98 million in 1975.

Heppler says that this increase in valuation alone produced $217,000 more in 1975 than in 1970 for general operating expenses and almost $290,000 more on the total tax levy of 16.7 mills, which includes separate charges for rubbish service, library, band, street resurfacing and the city's interest and sinking fund.

But projections for the next five years show the city's property valuation rising to only $104 million — a modest 5.9 per cent increase compared to the jump of 21.4 per cent over the past five years.

"I think if we weren't so land-locked, it wouldn't be so much of a problem right now," Hanley says. "There simply isn't room to expand or locate new industries."

Recent industrial and commercial growth has been accompanied by a major increase in personal property because of inventory tax credit provisions, according to city assessor Dick Kiesel, but he says that the state's new single business tax will limit that source of city income from now on.

Heppler says inflationary pressure on St. Joseph has been eased by a total of $758,000 in federal revenue-sharing funds the city has received since 1972.

These have not been used for general operations, he says, but have been spent for major projects like a $300,000 storm sewer separation and a $98,000 fire house remodeling that otherwise would have had to be financed with general funds or special bond issues.

However, Heppler says, revenue-sharing to cities has not been assured past December, 1976, and it is possible that new restrictions might be placed on the use of whatever money, if any, is doled out by Washington.

Thus, he says, St. Joseph is faced with a projected rise of only 5.9 per cent in income over the next five years with which to meet a projected increase of 36 per cent in operating costs.

"Based on those projections," Heppler says, "we're heading into serious trouble."

Benton Zeroes In On 2 Areas For $443,000 Fixup Campaign

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

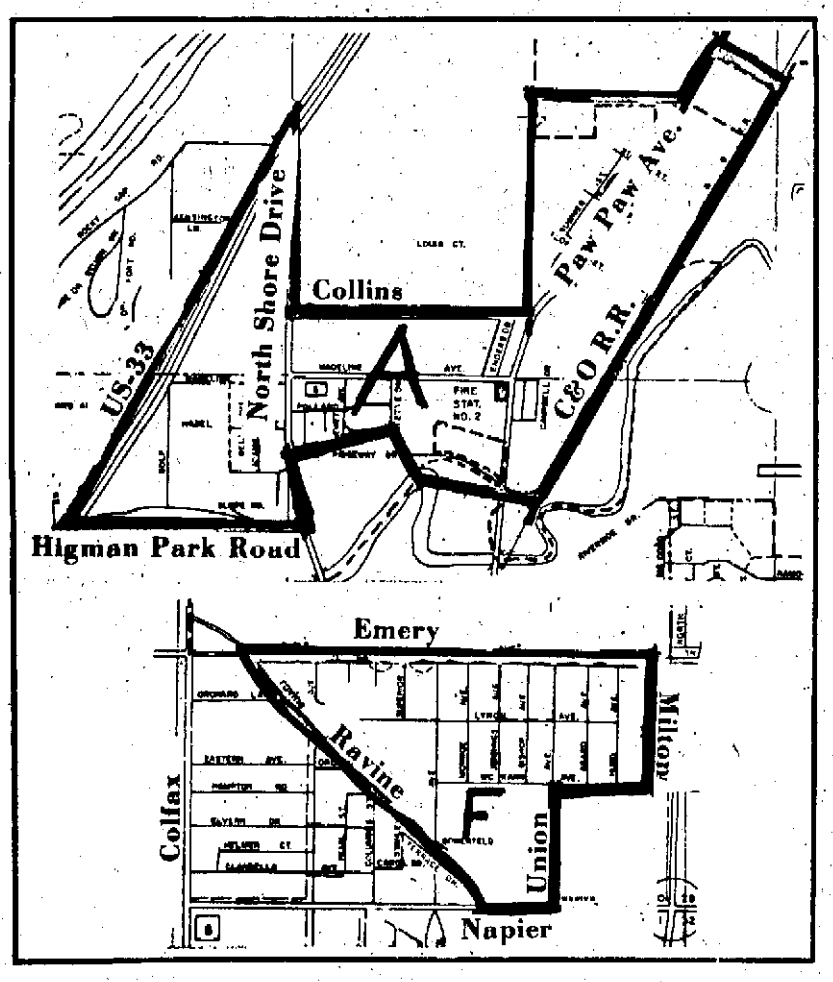

Some $443,000 of Benton township's first-year federal community development grant of $778,000 is earmarked for housing rehabilitation and public works in two target areas, according to Judd Spray, township director of community development.

The areas are in the northwest portion of the township and in Fairplain immediately south of the Benton Harbor city limits.

Spray said community development will rehabilitate approximately 75 homes at an estimated cost of $245,000 and do some $198,700 in public works such as storm sewers, paving, curbs and gutters and sidewalks.

The housing rehabilitation will be in direct grants and low cost loans. Home owners who want to participate are asked to contact the Benton Township Community Development office, 1725 Territorial road. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The target areas for rehabilitation and public works were selected after a survey of the township, Spray said.

REHABILITATION TARGETS: These areas of Benton township inside heavy lines have been selected for housing rehabilitation under community development program with federal grants. Home owners who want to apply for grants and low cost loans are asked to contact township Community Development office.

Whirlpool Mum On Reports Of Warwick Sale

A Whirlpool Corporation spokesman said today the firm has no comment on a report that it is discussing possible sale of a major interest in Warwick Electronics, Inc., to another company. Whirlpool, the principal stockholder of Warwick, said announcement of the reported sale discussions was made without its knowledge by Robert F. Gunts, president of Warwick.

Gunts, former general manager of Whirlpool's St. Joseph division, said Whirlpool has been engaged in "exploratory discussions" with another company, but that "no understanding has been reached and that there is no assurance any transaction will evolve."

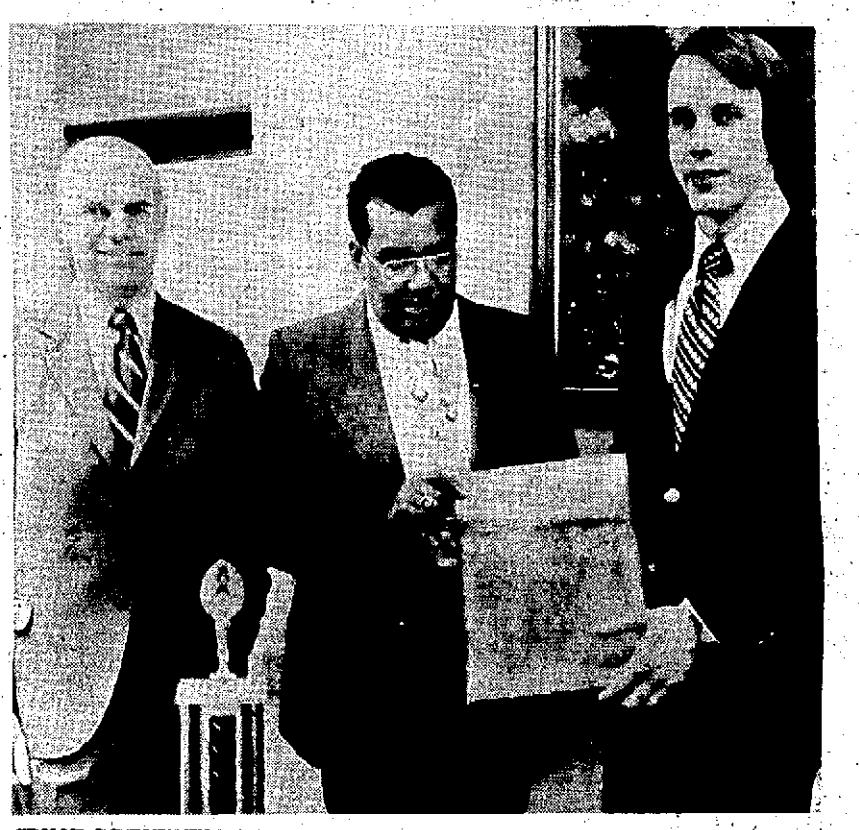

Gunts said Whirlpool previously has held similar talks with other companies about possible sale of its interest in Warwick.

Warwick, based in Niles, Ill., manufactures consumer electronic products, including color television sets and stereos, most of which are sold to Sears, Roebuck & Co.

About 57 per cent of Warwick common stock is owned by Whirlpool and about 25 per cent by Sears.

The Wall Street Journal said there were reports over the weekend that Whirlpool has had talks with Sanyo Electric Co., Tokyo.

In an interview last month, Whirlpool's chairman, John H. Platts, indicated that the company might eventually consider getting out of the television-set business if Japanese manufacturers continue strong price competition.

CRIME PREVENTION TROPHIES: Twin Cities Association of Independent Insurance agents and Benton Harbor police department's Crime Prevention Unit are sponsoring contest to promote Operation Identification. Contest, which begins today and runs until March 15, will award trophies to block club that enrolls most people in Operation Identification, program that encourages residents to mark their personal property with engraver to discourage theft. Engravers are available at police station. Displaying awards are, from left to right, Dean DeVries, president of Twin Cities Association of Independent Insurance agents; Lt. Al Edwards, project director of Crime Prevention Unit, and Dennis Stowers, member of Association of Independent Insurance agents. Crime Prevention Unit had five block clubs when it started in Jan., 1974. It now has 21 block clubs. (Staff photo)

Area Girls Vying For State Title

Two southwestern Michigan high school seniors will compete in the Michigan Junior Miss program Friday and Saturday, Jan. 23 and 24, at Pontiac after regional competition yesterday in Marshall.

Sandy Gotstein, Lakeshore Junior Miss, and Lita Masini, St. Joseph's Junior Miss, were among 12 girls selected from the 25 competing at Marshall.

Miss Gotstein, a senior at Lakeshore high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gotstein, Stevensville.

Miss Masini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Masini, St. Joseph, was one of 16 selected from 100 girls throughout the state to receive "at large" candidacy approval. She is sponsored by St. Joseph area Jaycees.

Santa: Donations Help The Elderly

"Remember a senior citizen this Christmas by contributing to the Benton Harbor Area Good Fellow fund," Santa Claus reminded today.

He explained that the majority of this year's gifts to the Good Fellow fund are going to elderly people who otherwise would have a bleak Christmas.

Years ago the fund was devoted mainly to poor families, but various state and federal welfare programs provide for families, and the Good Fellow fund this year is directed to the elderly.

A portion of this year's contribution will go to families who have been screened to assure they are in true need.

The Benton Harbor Area Good Fellow fund was nudging the $2,000 mark today. The weekend mail brought in $60 putting the total at $1,974.61.

There was $50 from the Alcoholics Anonymous Thursday Night Group and $10 from Robert and Thelma Brown.

Struck By Hit-Run Car

A 15-year-old Lake Michigan Beach boy told Berrien sheriff's deputies he was hit by a car that left the scene as he walked Sunday on Bundy road east of US-33, Hagar township. Treated for abrasions on his left side and leg and released from St. Joseph Memorial hospital was Paul Curtin, 2912 Wilson street. He told deputies the car came from behind him as he walked west on the shoulder of the road about 8 p.m. He said he was knocked from the shoulder and was not able to see the vehicle. Deputies are seeking to identify the hit-and-run vehicle.

St. Joseph Area Good Fellow fund heads into its final 10 days with a $182.23 step toward its goal of making Christmas merry for everyone.

The Good Fellow gifts will go to families with a large number of youngsters who might face a bleak holiday, and also a great many senior citizens. Many of the elderly are alone and forgotten most of the year but at Christmas it's a much more painful tragedy.

The $182.23 in contributions included $122.23 from the Monday Music Club which traditionally shares its collection taken after its Christmas Vesper service with the Good Fellows.

Then a friend slipped in $5 and Disabled American Veterans, Twin City Chapter No. 17 added $5.

Finally the Alcoholics Anonymous Thursday Night Group contributed $50.

Auto Damaged

Benton Harbor firemen Saturday extinguished a blaze that extensively damaged the front seat of an auto. Firemen said the blaze appeared to have originated from a a partially burned matchbook found on the seat. Firemen said the fire occurred about 9:20 a.m. in a 1966 Chevrolet owned by James Buford, 193 Concord court, parked at the rear of 640 Thresher avenue.

SAFETY AWARD TO PEARSON: Hartford Insurance Group Saturday presented its Pewter Stag award to Pearson Construction Co., Benton Harbor, for "distinguished achievement in accident control." Pearson is the only Hartford insured contractor worldwide to have earned the award. From 1970 to 1975, Pearson's accident ratio was less than one-tenth of national averagre for construction firms. Presentation was Saturday at Pearson open house for employes. From left are John Watson, Robert Adams, James DeVries, Burton Pearson, president of Pearson Construction; John Kelling and Edward Johnson. Twin City Highlights

St. Joseph Traveling Rocky Financial Road

By JIM DeLAND
Assistant CITYEditor

The City of St. Joseph is on the road to financial trouble.

That is the general opinion among members of a blue ribbon study committee currently wrestling with the city's financial future.

"It's very bad...very serious," says Commissioner Joseph Hanley, chairman of the study committee. "We all feel that way. Without question, something has to be done. Some major step has to be taken."

The problem, as spelled out by city officials, is simple — unless St. Joseph finds a source of additional income, it will be unable to pay all the bills it anticipates next year.

Projections by City Manager G.W. Heppler based on present sources of revenue and expenses, indicate that St. Joseph would end the 1976-77 fiscal year with a $118,000 deficit and would wind up almost $2 million in the red over the next five years.

How has St. Joseph, which traditionally has operated on a balanced budget, arrived at such a financial crossroads?

Heppler says there are two major factors:

1. Spiraling inflation, which has increased the city's expenses 46 per cent since 1970 and threatens similar cost hikes in the next five years.

2. A dramatic leveling-off of the city's state equalized valuation after a period of impressive growth.

Heppler says that in the past year, prices the city pays for gasoline have gone up 50 per cent, for patrol cars 20 per cent, for concrete 25 per cent, for blacktop 44 per cent and for natural gas 31 per cent.

The city's cost for street lighting, he says, has increased from $57,000 last year to an estimated $71,000 for the current fiscal year — a jump of 24.5 per cent.

But the biggest drain on St. Joseph's pocketbook according to Heppler is salaries and fringe benefits of city employes, which he says account for 70 per cent of the 1975-76 budget and predicts will claim an even larger share of each tax dollar in future years.

According to Heppler, the city payroll has increased from 139 employes in 1970 to 140 at the present time — a gain of less than one per cent.

But he says that raises given to these employes in the past five years have totalled 37 per cent, boosting the city's payroll by some $490,000.

Heppler says that in some cases the pattern for wage increases was set by binding arbitration, which under law now applies to St. Joseph's organized public safety employes (policemen and firemen), but he adds that despite such forced hikes, salaries are not out of line.

"If you take a look at police and fire departments in communities our size, we're right in the middle salary-wise," he says. "We're competitive."

Based on Heppler's projections, salaries and fringe benefits for city and library employes will rise more than 40 per cent in the next five years, adding another $698,516 to the payroll.

In recent years, Heppler says, some of these cost increases have been offset by growth in St. Joseph's property valuation.

While the city's property tax rate has remained at the statutory limit of 12.5 mills for general operating expenses established by charter in 1928, he says, the city's state equalized valuation has climbed from $81 million in 1970 to more than $98 million in 1975.

Heppler says that this increase in valuation alone produced $217,000 more in 1975 than in 1970 for general operating expenses and almost $290,000 more on the total tax levy of 16.7 mills, which includes separate charges for rubbish service, library, band, street resurfacing and the city's interest and sinking fund.

But projections for the next five years show the city's property valuation rising to only $104 million — a modest 5.9 per cent increase compared to the jump of 21.4 per cent over the past five years.

"I think if we weren't so land-locked, it wouldn't be so much of a problem right now," Hanley says. "There simply isn't room to expand or locate new industries."

Recent industrial and commercial growth has been accompanied by a major increase in personal property because of inventory tax credit provisions, according to city assessor Dick Kiesel, but he says that the state's new single business tax will limit that source of city income from now on.

Heppler says inflationary pressure on St. Joseph has been eased by a total of $758,000 in federal revenue-sharing funds the city has received since 1972.

These have not been used for general operations, he says, but have been spent for major projects like a $300,000 storm sewer separation and a $98,000 fire house remodeling that otherwise would have had to be financed with general funds or special bond issues.

'It's Very Bad . . Very Serious,' Says Commissioner Hanley

However, Heppler says, revenue-sharing to cities has not been assured past December, 1976, and it is possible that new restrictions might be placed on the use of whatever money, if any, is doled out by Washington.

Thus, he says, St. Joseph is faced with a projected rise of only 5.9 per cent in income over the next five years with which to meet a projected increase of 36 per cent in operating costs.

"Based on those projections," Heppler says, "we're heading into serious trouble."

Benton Zeroes In On 2 Areas For $443,000 Fixup Campaign

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

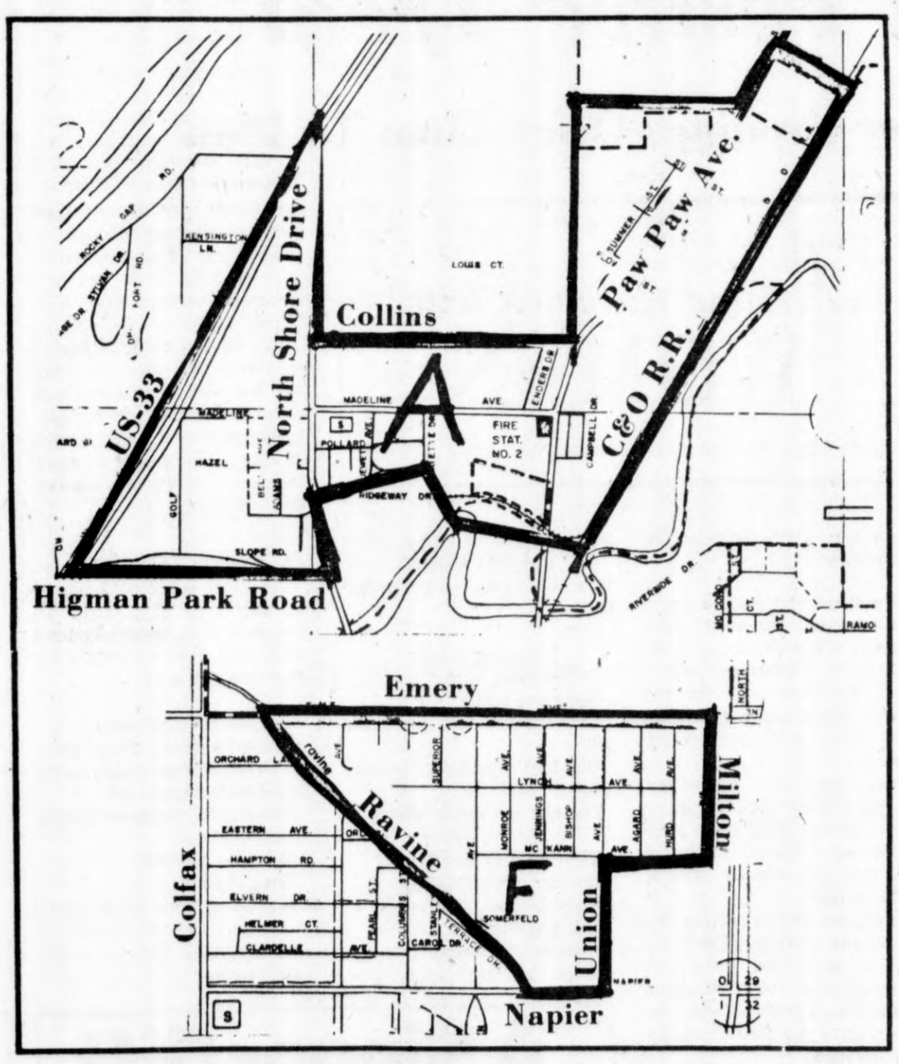

Some $443,000 of Benton township's first-year federal community development grant of $778,000 is earmarked for housing rehabilitation and public works in two target areas, according to Judd Spray, township director of community development.

The areas are in the northwest portion of the township and in Fairplain immediately south of the Benton Harbor city limits.

Spray said community development will rehabilitate approximately 75 homes at an estimated cost of $245,000 and do some $198,700 in public works such as storm sewers, paving, curbs and gutters and sidewalks.

The housing rehabilitation will be in direct grants and low cost loans. Home owners who want to participate are asked to contact the Benton Township Community Development office, 1725 Territorial road. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The target areas for rehabilitation and public works were selected after a survey of the township, Spray said.

REHABILITATION TARGETS: These areas of Benton township inside heavy lines have been selected for housing rehabilitation under community development program with federal grants. Home owners who want to apply for grants and low cost loans are asked to contact township Community Development office.

Children To Lead Christmas Carolers

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT: A group of 18 children who live on South and North Riviera drives, Stevensville, will go Christmas caroling on their street Tuesday, Dec. 23. The project is the idea of Karen and Kevin Ingwersen. They organized the children with older ones teaching younger ones and will direct the singing. Among those who will participate are, front row, Becky Mackay, 3, left, and David Carmichael, 5, and back row, Kevin Ingwersen, 9, left, and Karen Ingwersen, 11. (Staff photo)

Like the little drummer boy whose gift to the baby Jesus was a song — 18 small children in the Stevensville area will give a gift of songs to their neighbors Tuesday, Dec. 23.

The children will go caroling on South and North Riviera drives on Dec. 23 between 6 and 7 p.m.

The caroling project was the idea of Karen, 11, and Kevin, 9, Ingwersen, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Ingwersen, 1550 South Riviera drive.

The children's purpose was to give the younger children in the neighborhood a chance to go caroling because, according to the children, most younger children do not have the opportunity to go caroling until they are in school.

Parents were contacted for permission for the children to participate. Karen and Kevin then enlisted the help of other children, ages eight to 11, to help teach the carols to the younger children.

The Ingwersen children have been conducting extensive rehearsals for the children. When they go caroling they will carry a tape recorder with Roger Williams at the piano for accompaniment.

According to the children, they will sing Christmas carols rather than secular Christmas song in an attempt to portray the true meaning and spirit of the Christmas season.

The children will carry lanterns as they carol the length of South and North Riviera drives.

Neighbors who wish to hear the children are asked to turn on porch lights and watch for the children.

Following the caroling, the children will return to the Ingwersen home for refreshments.

Children who will participate in addition to the Ingwersen children are Tammi Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ball; Donny Pylman, son of Mrs. Carol Pylman; Ann, Billy and Mark Westerbeake, children of Dr. and Mrs. Ed Westerbeake; Timmy and Becky Mackay, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mackay; Rayetta, Judy and Timmy Hicks, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hicks; Cherie, Donny and David Carmichael, children of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Carmichael; Tyler Moon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Moon; and Mike and Stephen Ernst, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Ernst.

Families Sing Together

KALAMAZOO (AP) — This Christmas Eve, in many homes around the country, families will put finishing touches to their tree decorating and gather around the piano for carol singing.

The American Music Conference here has found this traditional custom strongly returning to favor.

You may want to prepare younger children for the caroling by encouraging them to sing along to carol records or to carols on the radio while they play rhythm sticks or small drums.

Educators say that youngsters who are reticent about singing find it much easier when they can accompany themselves on an instrument.

If you are planning a tree-trimming party for family and friends, have the preschoolers plan a dramatic interpretation of a simple carol such as "Jingle Bells," "Frosty the Snowman" or "Away in a Manger."

If your children are studying music in school, they may want to sing one of the carols they are learning in the classroom accompanied by the instrument they are studying.

Let the youngsters take turns leading the whole group in their favorite song or serving as accompanist for the other singers.

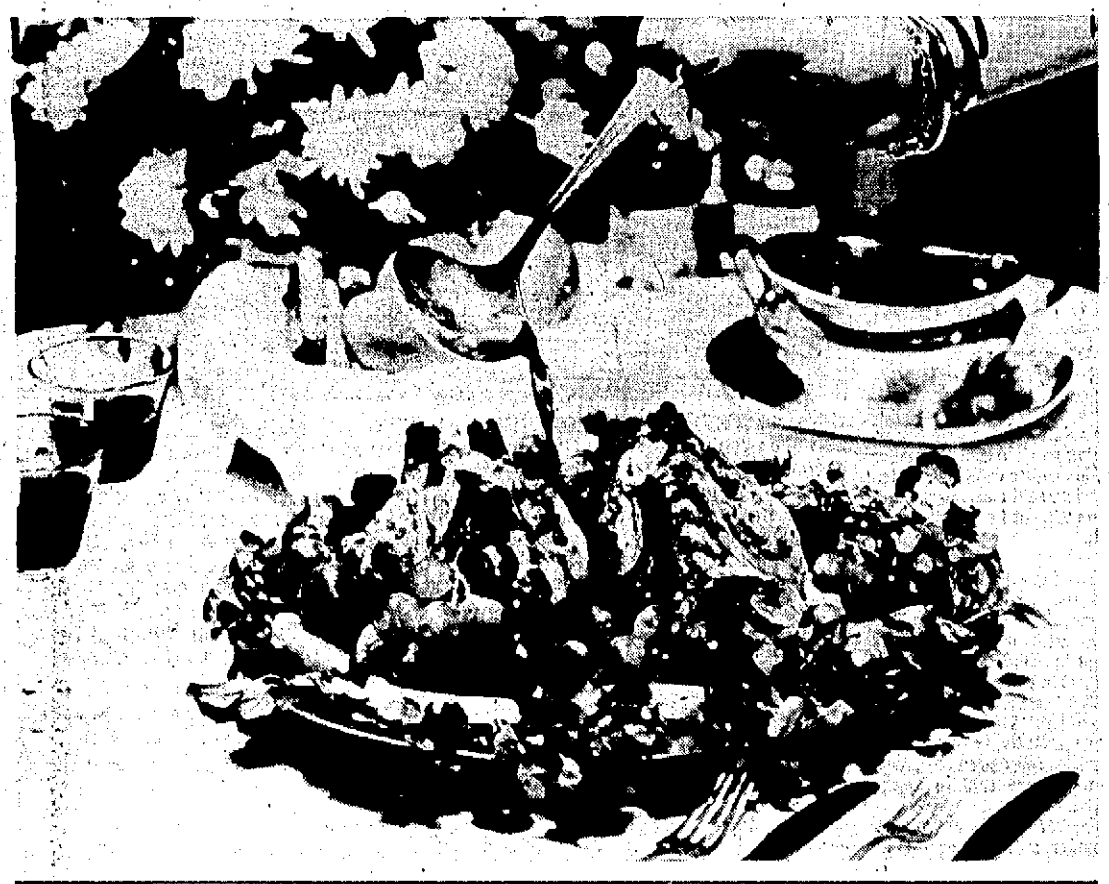

Another effective way to involve children in holiday caroling is to use round songs such as "Twelve Days of Christmas" with everyone adding a verse.

If your guests include amateur musicians, ask them to bring their instruments along.

The joy of music at Christmas is well expressed in these words from the traditional French carol, "Pat-A-Pan:"

"Willie, get your little drum,
"Robin, bring your flute, and come.
"Aren't they fun to play upon?
"Turelurelu, pat-a-pat-a-pan.
"When you play your fife and drum,
"How can anyone be glum?"

Turn Dinner For Two Into A Festive Treat

December Evenings Offer Time To Plan

For the Christmas couple who have always associated the winter holiday with large families, lots of kids and a huge dinner, including an 18 pound turkey with all the trimmings, all is not lost.

Christmas for two can be just as joyous — and twice as romantic — as Christmas for 20.

December evenings offer plenty of time to start planning for your holiday season. Begin preparation by making tree hangings or Christmas cards, stringing cranberries, writing gift lists together or just enjoy warming up to the idea of Christmas at home.

Trees are best decorated with the boughs so full that they hang with heaviness. Boxes with multi-colored ribbons and your artful decorations add to an elegant evergreen. Place a colorful string across a doorway on which to hang the cards you receive from your family and friends.

Use the Christmas colors for your table setting as well. A red tablecloth with green napkins, green candles and a poinsettia centerpiece are the basics; and with a few personal touchs, you can turn your dining room table into a winter wonderland. There is nothing like a full-bodied cream sherry to warm your toes on a cold Christmas Eve, so remember — "Tis the season to drink sherry."

To turn dinner for two into a festive feast, substitute rock Cornish hens with sherry for the traditional Christmas turkey. Stuff the hens with the old family filling and serve them with wild rice and winter squash.

For dessert, Christmas cookies are light and fitting; or if you prefer, supplement your Christmas spirit with a different but equally special spirit, cognac.

With your glasses full, the two of you can sit before your yule log, planning the future or remembering the past. And remember, Christmas won't be Christmas if you forget to hang the mistletoe!

Here are a few suggestions for a delicious Christmas dinner for two:

Around the clock with WOMEN

CLUBS · CHURCH · FAMILY · FASHION · SCHOOL · HOME SOCIETY

ROCK CORNISH HENS WITH SHERRY SAUCE

Two one-pound rock Cornish hens

Basting Sauce
One-half cup butter
One clove garlic
One and one-half teaspoons salt
One-half teaspoon rubbed sage
One-half cup cream sherry

Sherry Sauce
Three tablespoons flour
One cup orange jelly
One teaspoon dry mustard
One teaspoon salt
One cup cream sherry

Make basting sauce first. Melt butter, remove from heat, add remaining ingredients.

Cook hens for approximately one hour at 400 degrees, brushing occasionally with basting sauce.

Pour off drippings, returning two-thirds cup to the roasting pan. Add flour to drippings and stir until smooth. Add remaining ingredients of sherry sauce, stirring constantly until thickened. Serve the sherry sauce with hens.

WINTER SQUASH

December is the peak season for this type of squash. To prepare: Cut as desired, remove seeds and boil or steam for about one-half hour.

One-fourth cup butter
Two tablespoons orange juice
Two tablespoons brown sugar
One-half teaspoon salt
One-fourth teaspoon grated orange peel
Dash of cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg

Add ingredients listed above to one and one-half pounds of cooked squash. Simmer about five minutes.

Season Isn't Always Jolly

NEW YORK — 'Tis the season to be jolly.

But, very often, it doesn't work out that way. Along with accelerated activity, the holidays frequently bring unrealistic expectations that leave many of us feeling decidedly more morose than merry.

This year especially, says a leading life insurance company, economic uncertainty may make the holiday season particularly stressful for many families.

And while there are no simple solutions to the problems of undue stress and tension, the big insurance company says that one way to alleviate anxiety is to talk out troubles.

If, for example, your holiday budget isn't what it used to be, why not explain the situation simply to older children and relatives. Perhaps you could exchange names or give "grab bag" type gifts. And maybe more emphasis could be placed on the time you spend together during the holidays, rather than on the number of gifts you give and get.

Too, if you're a person without close relatives or friends, the holidays can be trying. Many people find problems they have learned to cope with increasingly difficult to manage when the seasonal emphasis is on making merry.

The most important thing, says the insurance company, is to recognize fears and worries, rather than to suppress them. Your family doctor can help.

Doctors today increasingly recognize the effect that emotions have on bodily health. They can help you understand the cause of your tensions and, often, help you change your situations or learn to live with it.

There's a strong correlation between emotional and bodily health. Physicians have found that many patients have ailments that are brought about or made worse by emotional stress.

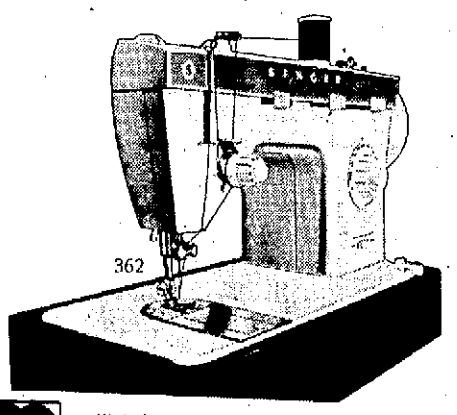

Prolonged emotional tensions, for example, are believed to play a prominent role in certain kinds of heart and circulatory disorders, especially high blood pressure; digestive ailments, such as peptic ulcer and colitis; headache and joint and muscular pains; skin disorders, and some allergies. Stress should certainly not be ignored.

There are precautions, too, that we can take to lessen everyday emotional stress. We can make sure we balance work with play, have some time to ourselves, get enough sleep and rest, get proper physical exercise, talk out our troubles with a sympathetic friend or counselor and have regular medical checkups.

If your children are studying music in school, they may want to sing one of the carols they are learning in the classroom accompanied by the instrument they are studying.

Let the youngsters take turns leading the whole group in their favorite song or serving as accompanist for the other singers.

Another effective way to involve children in holiday caroling is to use round songs such as "Twelve Days of Christmas" with everyone adding a verse.

If your guests include amateur musicians, ask them to bring their instruments along.

The joy of music at Christmas is well expressed in these words from the traditional French carol, "Pat-A-Pan:"

"Willie, get your little drum,
"Robin, bring your flute, and come.
"Aren't they fun to play upon?
"Turelurelu, pat-a-pat-a-pan.
"When you play your fife and drum,
"How can anyone be glum?"

Turn Dinner For Two Into A Festive Treat

December Evenings Offer Time To Plan

For the Christmas couple who have always associated the winter holiday with large families, lots of kids and a huge dinner, including an 18 pound turkey with all the trimmings, all is not lost.

Christmas for two can be just as joyous — and twice as romantic — as Christmas for 20.

December evenings offer plenty of time to start planning for your holiday season. Begin preparation by making tree hangings or Christmas cards, stringing cranberries, writing gift lists together or just enjoy warming up to the idea of Christmas at home.

Trees are best decorated with the boughs so full that they hang with heaviness. Boxes with multi-colored ribbons and your artful decorations add to an elegant evergreen. Place a colorful string across a doorway on which to hang the cards you receive from your family and friends.

Use the Christmas colors for your table setting as well. A red tablecloth with green napkins, green candles and a poinsettia centerpiece are the basics; and with a few personal touchs, you can turn your dining room table into a winter wonderland. There is nothing like a full-bodied cream sherry to warm your toes on a cold Christmas Eve, so remember — "Tis the season to drink sherry."

To turn dinner for two into a festive feast, substitute rock Cornish hens with sherry for the traditional Christmas turkey. Stuff the hens with the old family filling and serve them with wild rice and winter squash.

For dessert, Christmas cookies are light and fitting; or if you prefer, supplement your Christmas spirit with a different but equally special spirit, cognac.

With your glasses full, the two of you can sit before your yule log, planning the future or remembering the past. And remember, Christmas won't be Christmas if you forget to hang the mistletoe!

Here are a few suggestions for a delicious Christmas dinner for two:

Around the clock with WOMEN
CLUBS · CHURCH · FAMILY · FASHION · SCHOOL · HOME SOCIETY

ROCK CORNISH HENS WITH SHERRY SAUCE

Two one-pound rock Cornish hens

Basting Sauce
One-half cup butter
One clove garlic
One and one-half teaspoons salt
One-half teaspoon rubbed sage
One-half cup cream sherry

Sherry Sauce
Three tablespoons flour
One cup orange jelly
One teaspoon dry mustard
One teaspoon salt
One cup cream sherry

Make basting sauce first. Melt butter, remove from heat, add remaining ingredients.

Cook hens for approximately one hour at 400 degrees, brushing occasionally with basting sauce.

Pour off drippings, returning two-thirds cup to the roasting pan. Add flour to drippings and stir until smooth. Add remaining ingredients of sherry sauce, stirring constantly until thickened. Serve the sherry sauce with hens.

WINTER SQUASH

December is the peak season for this type of squash. To prepare: Cut as desired, remove seeds and boil or steam for about one-half hour.

One-fourth cup butter
Two tablespoons orange juice
Two tablespoons brown sugar
One-half teaspoon salt
One-fourth teaspoon grated orange peel
Dash of cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg

Add ingredients listed above to one and one-half pounds of cooked squash. Simmer about five minutes.

Season Isn't Always Jolly

NEW YORK — 'Tis the season to be jolly.

But, very often, it doesn't work out that way. Along with accelerated activity, the holidays frequently bring unrealistic expectations that leave many of us feeling decidedly more morose than merry.

This year especially, says a leading life insurance company, economic uncertainty may make the holiday season particularly stressful for many families.

And while there are no simple solutions to the problems of undue stress and tension, the big insurance company says that one way to alleviate anxiety is to talk out troubles.

If, for example, your holiday budget isn't what it used to be, why not explain the situation simply to older children and relatives. Perhaps you could exchange names or give "grab bag" type gifts. And maybe more emphasis could be placed on the time you spend together during the holidays, rather than on the number of gifts you give and get.

Too, if you're a person without close relatives or friends, the holidays can be trying. Many prople find problems they have learned to cope with increasingly difficult to manage when the seasonal emphasis is on making merry.

The most important thing, says the insurance company, is to recognize fears and worries, rather than to suppress them. Your family doctor can help.

Doctors today increasingly recognize the effect that emotions have on bodily health. They can help you understand the cause of your tensions and, often, help you change your situations or learn to live with it.

There's a strong correlation between emotional and bodily health. Physicians have found that many patients have ailments that are brought about or made worse by emotional stress.

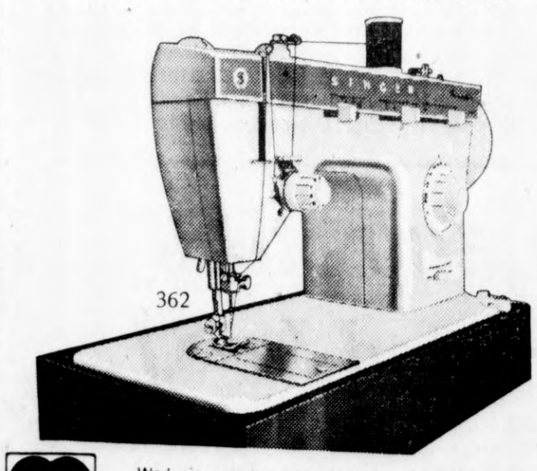

Prolonged emotional tensions, for example, are believed to play a prominent role in certain kinds of heart and circulatory disorders, especially high blood pressure; digestive ailments, such as peptic ulcer and colitis; headache and joint and muscular pains; skin disorders, and some allergies. Stress should certainly not be ignored.

There are precautions, too, that we can take to lessen everyday emotional stress. We can make sure we balance work with play, have some time to ourselves, get enough sleep and rest, get proper physical exercise, talk out our troubles with a sympathetic friend or counselor and have regular medical checkups.

Saturday Bride

MRS. MICHAEL CLEARY
Linda Reed

EAU CLAIRE — Miss Linda L. Reed and Michael E. Cleary exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Dec. 13, at Coloma United Methodist church.

The Rev. Carl Hausermann performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vestus Reed, route 2, Box 84B, Eau Claire, and the son of Edgar M. Cleary, 333 Pleasant, Watervliet, and the late Mrs. Edgar M. Cleary.

The bride wore an organza over taffeta gown trimmed with Nottingham lace and designed with a lacyoke and lace-edged chapel train. Matching lace edged her fingertip veil and she carried yellow roses, daisy pompons and baby's breath.

Miss Karen Klug was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carole Bock, Mrs. Chris Meyer and Miss Janice Cleary and Miss Marla Cleary, sisters of the groom.

Lisa Reed, sister of the bride, was flower girl and Kevin Hausermann was ringbearer.

Serving as best man was William Bos Jr. Ushers were Victor Mowter Jr., Michael Wojciechowski, Steven Reed, brother of the bride, and Pat Cleary, brother of the groom.

A reception was held in the church.

Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will make their home at Briarwood Apartments, Benton Harbor.

The bride is a graduate of Watervliet high school and Lake Michigan college. She is employed as a secretary at Saluto Foods, Benton Harbor. Her husband, a graduate of Watervliet high school, is employed as a carpenter by Cleary Construction, Watervliet.

Retrospective Art Show

A Retrospective Exhibit of the AAUW Art Shows will open Saturday, Dec. 20, at the St. Joseph Art Center, 600 State street, St. Joseph, and continue through Jan. 15.

On display will be paintings, drawings and sculpture from the annual spring art show sponsored by the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph branch of the American Association of University Women. The exhibit will cover the years 1958 to 1975.

Gallery hours are 1 to 4 p.m. and the gallery is closed Mondays.

When the local chapter of AAUW was chartered in 1941, one of the topics chosen for its study groups was art.

Members of this Creative Arts study group exhibited samples of their talents at branch meetings of the association for several years.

From this beginning evolved the idea of a community art show displaying the talents of twin city residents.

The first show was held April 6, 1948, and shows have been held each year since.

The first show was held at the YWCA in St. Joseph. For the past few years, the show has been held at the Benton Harbor public library.

Every year, a qualified artist has been asked to view the paintings, select winners and and comment on the works displayed. In 1970, the show became semi-juried so that the best works are selected by the judges for showing, yet each artist is assured of having at least one work shown. In 1972, artists outside the immediate area were encouraged to display their works.

An artist-of-tomorrow section for high school seniors was added in 1974. The purpose of sponsoring the show is to enourage regional artists and to give them an opportunity to get their work before the public.

Among the ribbon winners represented in the Retrospective Exhibit include Jane Abshier, Catherine Beckmann, Emily Cooper, Jack Holme, Fran Larson, Phyllis Rhoads, Lucille Sabin, Foster Willey and Dorothy Witkoskie. Work by other artists, cited for excellence will also be included.

The Art Center is operated and maintained by the St. Joseph Art association, a non-profit organization devoted to community service in art.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Don't Play With Sorehead

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is my husband. He's a great father, a good provider, a lovely guy, but a rotten loser.

Whenever we play backgammon and I win, Pat throws the board across the room and starts a fight.

He accuses me of trying to humiliate him — says I must have cheated because he is the superior player and should beat me every time.

I hate to give up playing backgammon with Pat just because he's a sorehead. It's great fun after the children are asleep to sit down to this fascinating game. But Pat's behavior is so despicable when he loses I don't know what to do. Any suggestions, Ann? — Perplexed In Glendale Heights

Dear Plex: Yeah, do something else — anything — but don't play backgammon with the sorehead. Obviously he can't stand losing to you. If you're smart you'll give up those night games to protect something more important. Your marriage.

Grateful For Cure

Dear Ann Landers: You are not a doctor and you don't pretend to know all the answers. Yet you were the one who identified my husband's medical problem after we had gone from doctor to doctor for 15 years.

Recently, I wrote to you about Jim falling asleep during movies, card games, in church, even at the dinner table. It used to worry me sick that he might fall asleep while driving the car. All the doctors who checked him said he was O.K. and not to worry.

When he feel asleep at a Notre Dame football game (he is a proud alumnus of that great school) I knew something must be terribly wrong. It was you who suggested the possibility that Jim might have narcolepsy.

The following day he went to a doctor recommended by a new neighbor. Sure enough, that was the diagnosis. Since Jim has been on medication he is 100 per cent better. I'm fascinated by the fact that you called the shot. I feel as if we should send you a check. — Grateful

Dear G.: Please don't. It was the new doctor who made the diagnosis, furthermore, I don't want to be nailed for practicing medicine without a license. Glad I could help.

Call In Advance

Dear Ann Landers: Is it wrong to bring a cake when invited to a friend's home for dinner?

I came from a small town. My mother and aunts did this often.

ANN LANDERS

It seemed like a warm gesture. So far as I know, nobody ever resented it.

We moved to Pittsburgh a few months ago. People here have been very kind to us. Three times I have baked cakes and brought them to dinner parties. Each time I had the feeling the hostess was not pleased.

What about this, Ann? — Love To Bake

Dear Bake: Better bring a box of candy or some non-perishable delicacy in a jar or can.

When a guest brings a cake the hostess may feel obligated to serve it. This louses up her menu. She must either ditch her dessert or serve it in addition to the guest's cake, which is just too much.

If you "Love to Bake" ask the hostess in advance if you can bring the dessert. There's a good chance she'll be pleased. But don't surprise her.

Discover how to be date bait without falling hook, line and sinker. Ann Landers's booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," will help you be more poised and sure of yourself on dates. Send 50 cents in coin along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Impressive Statistics

I'm one of those women who believe that life will continue even if I don't know that quarterback Charlie Fuggs needs 14 passes to move ahead of the legendary Orlow Spitt who threw 6,442 completions for a combined yardage of 36,033 yards, 1,500 of them while wearing SuppHose.

Maybe it's not a complete, full life, but I'm willing to make sacrifices. My husband is not.

He believes there has not been a prophet like Curt Gowdy since Moses and that when Curt announces someone has broken Johnny Unitas's record of 26 passes in a sudden-death playoff, there will be a flush of lightning and rain for 40 days and nights.

"Who cares?" I shouted back at the set.

"Shhh," he said motioning for silence.

"They could make up those statistics and..."

"Will you knock it off," said my husband. "Now I'll never know who holds the record for fumbles in the NFL during a nationally-televised game which was attended by a Vice President."

"If you're so impressed by statistics," I said hysterically, "I'll give you some statistics. Did you know:

"The record for rushing is held by your son who has been the first one to answer the phone on the first ring for the last five years?

"Did you know that I lead the Domestic League in toilet tissue spindle changing? I have single-handedly changed the spindle 6,340 times and lead by 60 rolls the closest contender, Brenda Claptree, who signed on with the Hiltons?

"Are you remotely interested that a little known draft choice, who as a kid used to hang around the kitchen a lot and dream, now picks up 184 pairs of socks a day in her son's bedroom?

"Maybe you'd be interested in how many incomplete sentences I toss out a day that no one listens to or answers? Or how many times I've intercepted the car keys so we can use our own car once in awhile?

"You want color? I'll give you color. We have two brothers playing on the same team for dishes. I think if you'll check the record book you will find we have not had that kind of a relationship between siblings since Cain and Abel were a dun back in Genesis."

I looked at my husband. He hadn't heard a word I said. Oh well, I just witnessed another record for a shut-out . . . eight months and four days.

Oswald: "We discussed strong two bids all last week. There are lots of reasons why you should use something better if you want to get the best possible results. On the other hand if you are an ordinary bridge player and just want to have fun there is no reason to complicate your bridge life by trying something else. The old-fashioned two bid works pretty well."

Jim: "Most experts use two clubs as their only forcing opening. A very few use one club. These can both work well if you learn how to handle all the problems they cause you but don't let anyone tell you that they simplify bidding. They, and particularly the artificial one club, really complicate matters."

Oswald: "Here is a hand bid some years ago. South decided to take full control. His plan was to bid six if North showed two or three aces. When North showed all four (they played five clubs to show zero or four aces) South bid seven spades."

Jim: "He probably had some anxious moments if North though about no trump, but I see things ended happily. North let him play the one makable grand slam."

Dr. Lester Coleman

My 10-year-old son occasionally gets a nosebleed. He gets frightened. I admit I do, too, especially when the bleeding is hard to stop. What is the best way to stop a nosebleed?
Mrs. H.D., Ga.

Dear Mrs. D.:

Nosebleeds in children almost always are of little medical importance.

The bleeding usually occurs from a small area about one-half inch inside the nose, on the septum, the partition which divides both sides of the nose. There is a group of tiny blood vessels at this point which are easily injured by the fingers.

Children who have a tendency to pick their noses are more likely to have nosebleeds.

As the blood accumulates on a towel or into the sink it may frighten the family. But there is no need to be frightened. There is a simple way of treating a nosebleed.

Keep your child sitting up, not lying down. In this way less blood is pumped to the head and the bleeding becomes less severe.

Place a large piece of cotton in the bleeding nostril. If you then squeeze the nostrils together for 10 minutes, without releasing the pressure, the bleeding will almost always stop.

Sometimes it is necessary to cauterize the blood vessels and pack the nose, but most often the pressure treatment works.

Many parents find that lubrication of the nostrils with a light mineral oil and increasing the humidity in the room are very helpful in reducing attacks of nosebleed. Avoid nose picking with or without handkerchief.

When a bump is so severe that it looks as if it will turn black and blue, which is better: applications of heat or cold?
Mrs. V.L., Mich.

Dear Mrs. L.:

A black and blue mark means that a blood vessel has been broken and that blood is seeping into the soft tissues. First, pressure must be applied at once to the site of the injury. Then ice packs should be used in order to slow down the seepage of blood.

When the bleeding has stopped, as it does with pressure after a few hours, heat can then be applied. The purpose of the heat now is to speed the recovery of the hurt tissues. The heat helps to absorb the blood under the skin and facilitates the return of the soft tissues to their normal condition.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Don't Play With Sorehead

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is my husband. He's a great father, a good provider, a lovely guy, but a rotten loser.

Whenever we play backgammon and I win, Pat throws the board across the room and starts a fight.

He accuses me of trying to humiliate him — says I must have cheated because he is the superior player and should beat me every time.

I hate to give up playing backgammon with Pat just because he's a sorehead. It's great fun after the children are asleep to sit down to this fascinating game. But Pat's behavior is so despicable when he loses I don't know what to do. Any suggestions, Ann? — Perplexed In Glendale Heights

Dear Plex: Yeah, do something else — anything — but don't play backgammon with the sorehead. Obviously he can't stand losing to you. If you're smart you'll give up those night games to protect something more important. Your marriage.

Chlorine Fumes Kill 4 In Blast At Niagara Falls

By DAVID OVED
Associated Press Writer

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Four persons were killed and nearly 80 others overcome by chlorine fumes, including some people in a store three miles away, after a railroad tank car exploded and spread the deadly gas over a wide area.

The tank car, parked permanently on a siding at the Hooker Chemicals & Plastics Corp. plant here, exploded about 7:40 p.m. Sunday.

The dead and many of the seriously ill were Hooker employes, but motorists driving past the plant and people in the store also were felled by clouds of gas.

The blast blew parts of the tank car 150 feet, damaged an unoccupied employe locker room and cut a hole in one of two other tank cars on the siding. Authorities feared for a time that the second car also would explode.

"We heard about four loud explosions out of nowhere, and then there was a lot of smoke," said Edward Chatmon, who lives near the plant. "There weren't any flames, just smoke and fumes filled the air."

Sheriff's deputies warned nearby residents of the spreading gas. Several hours later they said the fumes had dissipated.

Walter E. Fitzgerald, the plant's production manager, said the cause of the blast had not been determined. He said the four workers killed by the gas were in the immediate area of the blast.

Dead at Niagara Falls Memorial Medical Center were Clyde J. McBride, 34, Raymond E. Zaso, 60, James D. Colquhoun, 29, and Lester Docks, 63, all of Niagara Falls.

Oscar H. Bell, Niagara County's coroner, said the men apparently died of gas inhalation.

One man was hospitalized in critical condition and 10 other persons were admitted for observation, spokesmen said. Hospitals reported treating 75 persons.

Dr. Melvin Dyster, a physician at the medical center, said he treated a number of persons for varying degrees of gas inhalation or irritation.

Frank Bongiovanni was one of several firemen at a fire house across the road from the plant when the blast occurred.

"We ran to the front," he said. "We saw three people in the street. Two others were running out of the plant and gasping for breath."

John Deuro of Niagara Falls said he was driving by the plant when his car was engulfed by a cloud of smoke.

He said his vision became so blurred that he had to slam on the brakes. Deuro, hospitalized in good condition, said his 2-year-old son was thrown to the floor of the car and was less seriously affected by the fumes.

At the K-Mart discount department store three miles from the plant, five persons were stricken by fumes. Manager Richard Hinkle said people began choking and had trouble breathing.

He said a cloud of gas descended on the store's parking lot that "just took your breath away."

Wind blew the fumes toward the northeast, and police feared for a time that the gases would affect people in their homes miles away.

Sheriff's deputies cruised around used loudspeakers to warn people to remain inside and keep all windows closed.

Within several hours the fumes had dissipated.

Lake Superior Trout DDT, PCB Buildup Told

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Some Lake Superior trout have twice the level of DDT and nearly three times the level of polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) considered safe for human consumption by the federal government, researchers report.

Northern Michigan University scientists said the trout contained from 1 to 9 parts per million of DDT and from 3 to 14 p.p.m. of PCBs, a heat-resistant chemical with widespread industrial applications.

The legal maximum level for commercially sold fish is 5 p.p.m. for both contaminants.

Results of the five-year study were published recently in the Bulletin of Environmental Contamination & Toxicology.

The trout were taken from two points 140 miles apart — near Rock Harbor on Isle Royale and 30 miles north of Grand Marais, Mich., near Caribou Island.

The study began in 1970 by Dr. Ronald Parejko, an NMU biology professor. He later was joined by Raymond Johnson, a biology teacher in Marquette public schools, and Robert Keller, a former NMU graduate student now living in Kalamazoo.

The study, funded by the U.S. Department of the Interior and NMU, is continuing.

The article reported that both DDT and PCBs are building up in aquatic life — especially at or near the surface and the lake bottom — and are found in greatest concentrations in higher forms of life.

Trout are believed to have the highest concentrations of the contaminants, which are found mainly in fatty tissue.

DDT, an insecticide, recently was banned by the United States except for emergency use.

SPYING: Guenther Guillaume, 46, once a top aide to former West German chancellor Willy Brandt, was convicted of high treason in Dusseldorf, West Germany today and sentenced to 13 years in prison. Guillaume's exposure as spy for East Germany prompted Brandt's resignation. (AP Wirephoto)

'Glow Of Life' Pictures Have Routine Explanation

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A photographic process that produces the mysterious "glow of life" that has puzzled scientists and fascinated mystics has a simple, natural explanation, a group of Gonzaga University researchers say.

In 1939, a Russian scientist, Semyon Kirlian, discovered that by running an electric current through an object placed on an unexposed piece of film he could produce a glowing image of the object.

The process was revealed to the West by the Soviet Union in 1970 and since then mystics, parapsychologists and other believers in the supernatural have claimed it reveals the "life force" of the object photographed.

But five Gonzaga undergraduates studying so-called Kirlian photography under a grant from the National Science Foundation say the glow is due only to the amount of water in the object.

The students based their study on Kirlian's own writings. Kirlian claimed his process showed "the physical, chemical and dynamic characteristics of the objects, transformed into electrical characteristics which are represented on film or on a screen in geometric, dynamic, colored figures."

One of the students, John W. Robinson of Greybull, Wyo., said the Gonzaga researchers began by trying to determine if the Kirlian process would show the absence of certain chemicals in plants. He said the photographs showed no difference between a plant with a certain chemical and a plant without it.

What the students did notice, however, was the glow around the photographed plants diminished by the amount of water the plant contained, Robinson said. The group concluded, he said, that "Kirlian photography doesn't predict chemical variance ... but it does show the amount of water in a substance."

The students also found an explanation for the bright red spots that sometimes appear during the process. They are caused by water between the film and the object, Robinson said.

Working with Robinson were David Maeir of The Dalles, Ore., Mark O'Hallaren of Portland, Ore., Bobbie Sue Daniels of Nampa, Idaho, and John Staeheli of Tacoma. They began their study last March.

TV Series To Aid BH Adults On GED Exams

If you're an early riser with an idea that you'd like to finish your high school education, Operation: Second Chance will soon be available in the Benton Harbor area to help you.

Benton Harbor area schools adult education director Edward Woods, Jr. has announced that the school system has agreed to participate in the television training program with WKZO-Channel 3, Kalamazoo, beginning sometime early in 1976.

Operation: Second Chance features a series of 30 half-hour television broadcasts to be aired daily from 6:30 to 7:00 a.m. on WKZO. After viewing the programs for six weeks, adults should be prepared to take the GED high school equivalency exams.

As Woods explains, the GED program "offers adults who have never had the opportunity to finish high school a chance to take a series of exams which will demonstrate that they have learned high school skills and are able to complete high school level work."

The tests are not easy, he adds, but frequently the opportunity for review in a program like Operation: Second Chance will provide a basis for further study by the individual student, and successful completion of the exams.

The Benton Harbor area schools adult education services GED program offers additional tutorial assistance for those who encounter difficulties in their studies. These sessions are held at Benton Harbor high school Monday through Thursday, 7:00-9:00 p.m.

"Many times adults find that the 'school of life' has given them practical experience in math and English, for example, for example," says Woods, "and the high school equivalency testing program gives these people the chance to demonstrate these skills."

Details of the program will be announced early next year. For additional information about the adult education program, call the adult education services at the Benton Harbor high school, 927-4743.

New Marine's Death Brings On Inquiry

PLAINVILLE, Conn. (AP) — The family of a Marine private who collapsed on a double time march in boot camp wasn't notified of the incident until 13 hours after their son died.

Pvt. Lawrence Warner, 19, of Plainville, "never had a sick day in his life," said his father, Joseph Warner, himself an ex-Marine.

Warner died Dec. 3, less than two days after he reported to Parris Island Marine Corps training camp. He was scheduled to have his first medical examination at the South Carolina base two days later.

Officials said he collapsed on the 13th step of a doubletime march and was brought to a Naval hospital in Beaufort, S.C., with a 108 degree temperature.

"If they had only called us. We would have flown right down and been at his side. Maybe it might have changed things," Warner said.

Warner's congressman, Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., said he is investigating the death. Moffett said serious questions remain unanswered about Warner's treatment.

"One thing is clear, the treatment was too severe for him," Moffett said. "How can they throw these kids in there if they are not ready."

Moffett said he had learned that drill instructors "are having people dumped in their laps who are not prepared but whose papers state they are prepared."

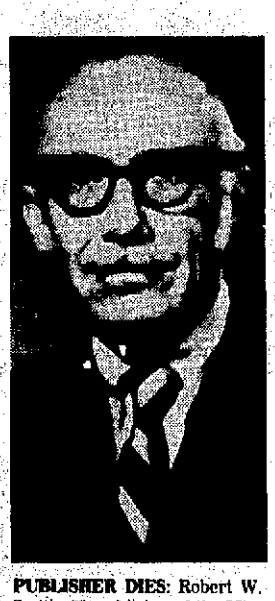

Moffett said there was no indication that Warner was under unusual strain. "The question is, what was he doing there?" Moffett said.

Lincoln Smashup Hurts Three

Three people were injured in a two-car collision investigated by Berrien sheriff's officers on Red Arrow highway south of St. Joseph avenue, Lincoln township, at 10:50 p.m. Saturday.

Treated at St. Joseph Memorial hospital were the drivers, Eleanor Lee Johnson, 42, of 892 Broadway, Benton Harbor, and Jean Duane Lake, 52, of 2711 Wildwood lane, Stevensville; and a passenger in the Johnson auto, Dennell Williams, 57, of 826 East Main street, Benton Harbor.

Deputies said the Lake auto was southbound on Red Arrow and the Johnson auto was exiting a driveway at Win Schuler's restaurant. No tickets were issued, officers reported.

Police Order Evacuation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Police ordered the evacuation of a city block of residences in south St. Louis shortly after 4 a.m. today after discovering a large cache of dynamite they said was in a "highly unstable condition."

Radio Show Features BH School Programs

A glimpse of the many programs offered in the Benton Harbor area schools curriculum is featured weekly ona new radio program titled "Homeroom", according to Superintendent Richard F. Helser.

"We are very happy to announce that a regular series of special broadcasts is now underway on Sunday at 12:15 p.m. on station WHFB, 1060 AM," he explained, "with airtime expected to follow soon on WSJM, 1400 AM.

"Homeroom is a five-minute show designed to let the community know about many of the excellent special programs we have developed for Benton Harbor students, as well as a look at the everyday schoolwork of both teachers and youngsters," he added.

The first series of shows have featured the artist-in-the-schools, vocational education and performing arts center programs, with upcoming schedules expected to include such things as a review of the highly-touted SOAR program for gifted and talented youngsters; Project Conquest, a special reading effort, and a look at Bicentennial activities of the 10,000 students enrolled this year in the schools.

Homeroom features an interview format, with discussions with teachers and students on location in the classroom. During the vocational education program tapings, Homeroom featured a female student in the machine shop classes, as well as a look at male students enrolled in the health occupations training at the Upton Tech center.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A photographic process that produces the mysterious "glow of life" that has puzzled scientists and fascinated mystics has a simple, natural explanation, a group of Gonzaga University researchers say.

In 1939, a Russian scientist, Semyon Kirlian, discovered that by running an electric current through an object placed on an unexposed piece of film he could produce a glowing image of the object.

The process was revealed to the West by the Soviet Union in 1970 and since then mystics, parapsychologists and other believers in the supernatural have claimed it reveals the "life force" of the object photographed.

But five Gonzaga undergraduates studying so-called Kirlian photography under a grant from the National Science Foundation say the glow is due only to the amount of water in the object.

The students based their study on Kirlian's own writings. Kirlian claimed his process showed "the physical, chemical and dynamic characteristics of the objects, transformed into electrical characteristics which are represented on film or on a screen in geometric, dynamic, colored figures."

One of the students, John W. Robinson of Greybull, Wyo., said the Gonzaga researchers began by trying to determine if the Kirlian process would show the absence of certain chemicals in plants. He said the photographs showed no difference between a plant with a certain chemical and a plant without it.

What the students did notice, however, was the glow around the photographed plants diminished by the amount of water the plant contained, Robinson said. The group concluded, he said, that "Kirlian photography doesn't predict chemical variance ... but it does show the amount of water in a substance."

The students also found an explanation for the bright red spots that sometimes appear during the process. They are caused by water between the film and the object, Robinson said.

Working with Robinson were David Maeir of The Dalles, Ore., Mark O'Hallaren of Portland, Ore., Bobbie Sue Daniels of Nampa, Idaho, and John Staeheli of Tacoma. They began their study last March.

TV Series To Aid BH Adults On GED Exams

If you're an early riser with an idea that you'd like to finish your high school education, Operation: Second Chance will soon be available in the Benton Harbor area to help you.

Benton Harbor area schools adult education director Edward Woods, Jr. has announced that the school system has agreed to participate in the television training program with WKZO-Channel 3, Kalamazoo, beginning sometime early in 1976.

Operation: Second Chance features a series of 30 half-hour television broadcasts to be aired daily from 6:30 to 7:00 a.m. on WKZO. After viewing the programs for six weeks, adults should be prepared to take the GED high school equivalency exams.

As Woods explains, the GED program "offers adults who have never had the opportunity to finish high school a chance to take a series of exams which will demonstrate that they have learned high school skills and are able to complete high school level work."

The tests are not easy, he adds, but frequently the opportunity for review in a program like Operation: Second Chance will provide a basis for further study by the individual student, and successful completion of the exams.

The Benton Harbor area schools adult education services GED program offers additional tutorial assistance for those who encounter difficulties in their studies. These sessions are held at Benton Harbor high school Monday through Thursday, 7:00-9:00 p.m.

"Many times adults find that the 'school of life' has given them practical experience in math and English, for example, for example," says Woods, "and the high school equivalency testing program gives these people the chance to demonstrate these skills."

Details of the program will be announced early next year. For additional information about the adult education program, call the adult education services at the Benton Harbor high school, 927-4743.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Exiled Soviet poet Josef Brodsky says the replacement of James Schlesinger as U.S. defense secretary is "not just a mistake, but an instance of blindness."

New Marine's Death Brings On Inquiry

PLAINVILLE, Conn. (AP) — The family of a Marine private who collapsed on a double time march in boot camp wasn't notified of the incident until 13 hours after their son died.

Pvt. Lawrence Warner, 19, of Plainville, "never had a sick day in his life," said his father, Joseph Warner, himself an ex-Marine.

Warner died Dec. 3, less than two days after he reported to Parris Island Marine Corps training camp. He was scheduled to have his first medical examination at the South Carolina base two days later.

Officials said he collapsed on the 139th step of a doubletime march and was brought to a Naval hospital in Beaufort, S.C., with a 108 degree temperature.

"If they had only called us. We would have flown right down and been at his side. Maybe it might have changed things," Warner said.

Warner's congressman, Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., said he is investigating the death. Moffett said serious questions remain unanswered about Warner's treatment.

"One thing is clear, the treatment was too severe for him," Moffett said. "How can they throw these kids in there if they are not ready."

Moffett said he had learned that drill instructors "are having people dumped in their laps who are not prepared but whose papers state they are prepared."

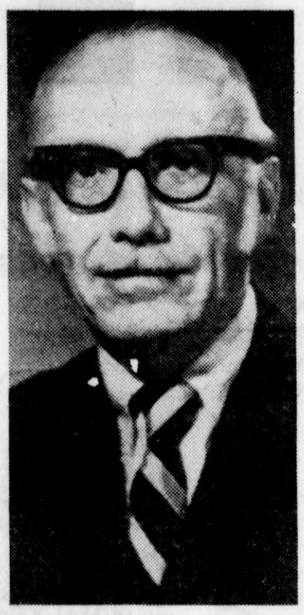

Moffett said there was no indication that Warner was under unusual strain. "The question is, what was he doing there?" Moffett said.

Lincoln Smashup Hurts Three

Three people were injured in a two-car collision investigated by Berrien sheriff's officers on Red Arrow highway south of St. Joseph avenue, Lincoln township, at 10:50 p.m. Saturday.

Treated at St. Joseph Memorial hospital were the drivers, Eleanor Lee Johnson, 42, of 692 Broadway, Benton Harbor, and Jean Duane Lake, 52, of 2711 Wildwood lane, Stevensville; and a passenger in the Johnson auto, Dennell Williams, 57, of 826 East Main street, Benton Harbor.

Deputies said the Lake auto was southbound on Red Arrow and the Johnson auto was exiting a driveway at Win Schuler's restaurant. No tickets were issued, officers reported.

Police Order Evacuation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Police ordered the evacuation of a city block of residences in south St. Louis shortly after 4 a.m. today after discovering a large cache of dynamite they said was in a "highly unstable condition."

Radio Show Features BH School Programs

A glimpse of the many programs offered in the Benton Harbor area schools curriculum is featured weekly ona new radio program titled "Homeroom", according to Superintendent Richard F. Helser.

"We are very happy to announce that a regular series of special broadcasts is now underway on Sunday at 12:15 p.m. on station WHFB, 1060 AM," he explained, "with airtime expected to follow soon on WSJM, 1400 AM.

"Homeroom is a five-minute show designed to let the community know about many of the excellent special programs we have developed for Benton Harbor students, as well as a look at the everyday schoolwork of both teachers and youngsters," he added.

The first series of shows have featured the artist-in-the-schools, vocational education and performing arts center programs, with upcoming schedules expected to include such things as a review of the highly-touted SOAR program for gifted and talented youngsters; Project Conquest, a special reading effort, and a look at Bicentennial activities of the 10,000 students enrolled this year in the schools.

Homeroom features an interview format, with discussions with teachers and students on location in the classroom. During the vocational education program tapings, Homeroom featured a female student in the machine shop classes, as well as a look at male students enrolled in the health occupations training at the Upton Tech center.

I'D LIKE: Visions of Christmas gifts are on the minds of these youngsters who visited Santa at a New York department store over the weekend. Despite dreamy look, many kids know exactly what toys they want and by brand name. But they're still asking for two front teeth, ants, pizza ovens and other conventional goodies. (AP Wirephoto)

Kids Know What They Want -- By Brand Name

By TERRY RYAN
Associated Press Writer

Kids know what they want for Christmas, precisely — by brand name and price, Santa Claus says.

Department store Santas, interviewed in 10 cities across the country, said boys this year are asking for Evel Knievel stunt cycles and action dolls — the Six Million Dollar Man and others of the G.I. Joe-type.

Girls wants dolls that walk, dolls that talk, dolls that do other things, and pizza ovens.

Ten-speed bikes, Star Trek kits and walkie-talkies are popular. Baby That-a-Way, a doll that crawls, leads the doll parade. And there are more requests for electric trains than in recent years, the Santas said, and fewer requests for toy guns.

But the thing the Santas most consistently reported was the increasing tendency of young believers to ask for particular toys by brand name. They cite advertising as a major influence, and note also that children seem to be more aware of the price of toys.

"About every fifth boy asks for the Six Million Dollar Man," said Edward Sullivan, Santa at a shopping center in suburban Boston. "Whatever is heavily advertised on TV is what they ask for. They come up knowing exactly what they want, the brand names."

"I can tell just what toys are being pushed hard by advertising agencies because the kids name them by brand name," a St. Louis Santa Claus added.

Most kids ask for three of four things, the Santas said.

"They will come in with their things all written out and even have the prices beside it," said Booker Lucas, in his fifth year as Santa Claus at a downtown department store in Columbus, Ohio.

"They still believe in Santa Claus. They try to help out how they can — by bringing in the ads and telling Santa how much its going to cost," said Lucas.

There are, of course, the unusual requests — giraffes, encyclopedia, house boats and ants.

"A little boy came up and said he wanted a switch blade and a gun. Finally he agreed he'd settle for a play gun and an Evel Knievel stunt cycle," said John Youngblood, a New Orleans Santa.

But even the Evel Knievel cycle, a toy for imitating the jumps of the motorcycle stunt man, isn't for everyone.

"One little guy didn't want Evel Knievel. He wanted some animated toys," another New Orleans Santa reported. "Of course, he looked like your highly educated kid."

"BLOODY BACK" was a derisive American term for the British regulars during the Revolutionary War, alluding to their severe discipline, which included lashing. Presumably the term lost its vogue after Gen. Washington received authority to increase lashing in the Continental Army to 500 strokes, The World Almanac notes.

Say Andretta Has Role In Alibi

DETROIT (AP) — A New Jersey Teamster, cited for contempt of court last week, is reportedly a "key figure" in Anthony "Tony Pro" Provenzano's alibi for the day James R. Hoffa disappeared.

The Detroit News reported Sunday that 40-year-old Stephen Andretta, who refused to answer Hoffa grand jury questions last week, is the person Provenzano says he was playing cards with in New Jersey on July 30.

The Hoffa family believes Provenzano is one of the persons the former Teamster boss was expecting to meet with that day.

Another is reputed Detroit Mafia figure, Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone. Both men have denied any knowledge of the Hoffa meeting.

The News says an East Coast source close to the investigation claims Andretta's role in the Provenzano alibi is the reason federal attorneys wanted to question him. Other law enforcement sources have said, however, that Provenzano was seen by many people last July 30 at a Teamsters union hall in New Jersey. The reports are conflicting on which union hall Provenzano frequented that day, however. Some sources say it was Local 560 in Union City. Others say it was a Teamsters hall in Hoboken. The two cities are both in Hudson County.

Two other sources, one in law enforcement and another close to the Teamsters, say Andretta also was to have been questioned on the whereabouts July 30 of his brother, Thomas; and two Teamsters associates, Salvatore Briguglio and his brother, Gabriel.

Both the Andretta brothers and the Briguglio brothers are on the payroll at Local 560, where Provenzano is secretary-treasurer.

The Briguglio brothers and Thomas Andretta have been named by a government informant as the alleged abductors and killers of Hoffa.

Stephen Andretta is currently behind bars at the federal prison at Milan following the contempt of court charge.

Andretta is in solitary confinement in a 4-by-6-foot bug-infested jail cell, says the man's ailing attorney.

But an official reportedly told Andretta that he is being kept in solitary confinement because jailers fear for his life.

The reports of Andretta's solitary confinement came Sunday from William E. Bufalino and his son William II, in an exclusive interview held at their request at the elder Bufalino's Detroit hospital bedside. Doctors say he is recovering from a heart attack.

Bufalino's son, lawyer William II, said he visited Andretta in jail Sunday and Andretta told him he had complained to Lt. Paul Ashworth of the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan, Mich., about being placed in solitary confinement.

Bufalino said Ashworth told Andretta, "We are not going to let you out of D Block because we fear for your life."

Successor Due For Richcreek

WATERVLIET — An appointment to the Watervliet fire board will be named in January as a replacement for Ernest Richcreek who died last week.

ERNEST RICHCREEK

Richcreek, 65, Watervliet township clerk from 1970 to 1974, had served on the fire board as one of three township representatives for five years. He died Thursday after suffering a heart attack.

Watervliet township Supervisor Lyle Woodworth said he will ask the township board for confirmation of an appointment at the board's monthly meeting, Jan. 12.

Funeral for Mr. Richcreek was held Saturday at the Hutchins funeral home in Watervliet. Burial was in Watervliet cemetery.

Besides his widow Frances, other survivors include two sons, two brothers and two sisters.

Former Buchanan Woman Is Killed

BUCHANAN — Mrs. Elsa Hathaway Pollak, 79, Sun City, Calif., a former Buchanan resident, was killed and her husband Harry was injured in a traffic accident in Corona, Calif., on Dec. 8, according to Corona police.

The Pollaks had parked their car and were crossing a street when they walked into the path of an oncoming car about 6:15 p.m., police said.

Police said the driver of the car will not be charged in connection with the death.

According to police, no charge will be filed because the couple walked in front of the car. The driver and witnesses told officers that the couple apparently did not see the vehicle coming, police said.

Mr. Pollack remains in serious condition, police said.

Mrs. Pollak was born March 29, 1896, in Chicago. She was a member of Sylvia Chapter, OES, No. 74, Buchanan.

Surviving, in addition to the husband, are a stepson, Jack Hathaway, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Horn, both of Danville, Calif. Her first husband, Cleon J. Hathaway, preceded her in death in 1959.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Swem Chapel, Swem-Smith funeral home, Buchanan, where friends may call after 7 this evening. Burial will be in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Memorials may be made to the Helpful 100 of the First Methodist church, Buchanan.

CRASH KILLS 50

CAIRO (AP) — A bus crashed into a Nile ditch near Luxor, in southern Egypt, killing 50 persons, the Interior Ministry announced today. The cause of the accident was not reported. The announcement said there were six survivors.

Freed After Apology

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — A Saginaw man who, received a 60-day contempt of court sentence is a free man after apologizing to the judge. Nealson C. Calhoun, 22, got a short lesson in judicial procedure from District Court Judge Harold W. Martin, who accepted the apology and dropped the contempt sentence. Calhoun, who appeared Monday before the judge to be arraigned on an armed robbery charge, got other good news when prosecutors said he was the victim of mistaken identity. They said Calhoun, who vigorously claimed his innocence, was in the Kalamazoo County jail on the day the robbery for which he was to have been charged occurred.

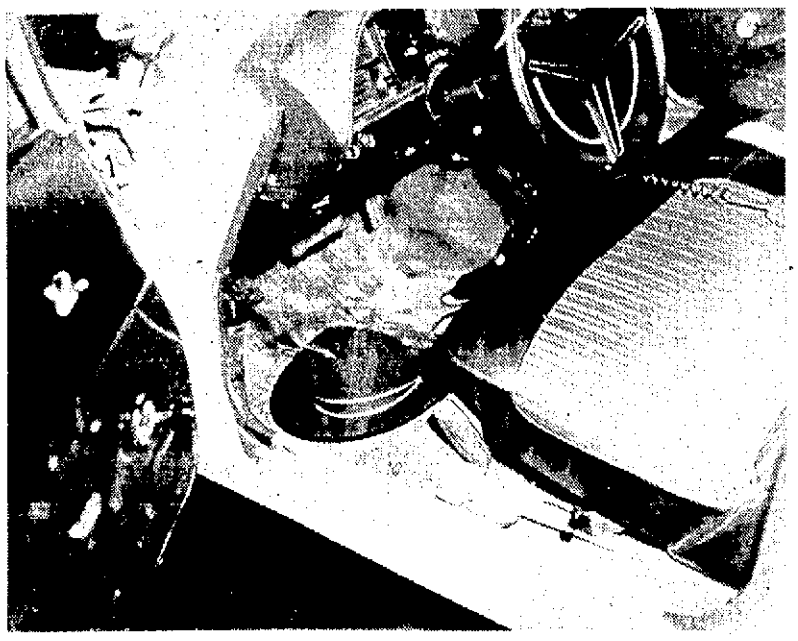

Residents Vs. Mushroomers

UTICA, Mich. (AP) — Progress vs. tradition, in the form of a controversy between Macomb County mushroom growers and local residents, are about to clash head-on here. A land developer and area dwellers have filed suit against the farmers in Macomb Circuit Court contending the mushroom farms, with their piles of horse manure and tiny flies, are a nuisance. A hearing is scheduled for January.

Most of the farms in question cover a single square mile in Shelby Township. The farms are often run by Italian families who, decades ago, bought the land 20 miles north of downtown Detroit. Their work accounts for Michigan's place as third in the nation in mushroom production.

Soviets Aid Black Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has sent, or agreed to send, at least $400 million worth of MIG jet fighters, tanks and other military equipment to some 10 black African countries in the past two years. U.S. intelligence reports, which have traced these Soviet moves, indicate the Russians have assigned 1,900 or more military advisers to African nations where Moscow seeks influence, bases or both. Many Defense and State Department officials and intelligence specialists are concerned, but there are differences in degree of concern and in estimates of what the Russians are trying to accomplish.

OFFICER'S HAT CRUSHED: Hat of Berrien Deputy Sheriff Ross Brumbaugh was left on floorboard of patrol car after shooting Saturday night in which Brumbaugh was hit twice by slugs from a pistol after he stopped a pickup truck on Benton Harbor's east side. Divorces Could Solve His Problem

CHICAGO (AP) — An inmate at a federal prison in Illinois looking for a "free, fresh start in life" has filed suit for divorce — from three wives.

Chicagoan John M. Davis, 28, now in the second half of a two-year sentence at the Marion Federal Penitentiary, filed three separate divorce actions in Circuit Court here, charging all three wives with deserting him.

Davis, convicted of mail fraud in connection with the illegal use of credit cards, said he is taking the action because he wants to "wipe the slate clean and start anew" when he returns to society, probably next year, said his attorney, Thomas J. Kelly.

But Kelly admitted that upon his release Davis could be greeted with charges of bigamy.

Arrested On Gun Charge

PAW PAW — State police here reported they arrested two Chicago area men on charges of carrying a concealed weapon after officers stopped a car for speeding on I-94 near Paw Paw about 3 p.m. Sunday.

Troopers said that one of the men opened the car's glove box to search for a registration, revealing a pistol.

Lodged in Van Buren county jail were Robert H. Brown, 21, Chicago, and Leroy McKelker, 27, Oak Park, Ill.

Successor Due For Richcreek

WATERVLIET — An appointment to the Watervliet fire board will be named in January as a replacement for Ernest Richcreek who died last week.

ERNEST RICHCREEK

Richcreek, 65, Watervliet township clerk from 1970 to 1974, had served on the fire board as one of three township representatives for five years. He died Thursday after suffering a heart attack.

Watervliet township Supervisor Lyle Woodworth said he will ask the township board for confirmation of an appointment at the board's monthly meeting, Jan. 12.

Funeral for Mr. Richcreek was held Saturday at the Hutchins funeral home in Watervliet. Burial was in Watervliet cemetery.

Besides his widow Frances, other survivors include two sons, two brothers and two sisters.

Former Buchanan Woman Is Killed

BUCHANAN — Mrs. Elsa Hathaway Pollak, 79, Sun City, Calif., a former Buchanan resident, was killed and her husband Harry was injured in a traffic accident in Corona, Calif., on Dec. 8, according to Corona police.

The Pollaks had parked their car and were crossing a street when they walked into the path of an oncoming car about 6:15 p.m., police said.

Police said the driver of the car will not be charged in connection with the death.

According to police, no charge will be filed because the couple walked in front of the car. The driver and witnesses told officers that the couple apparently did not see the vehicle coming, police said.

Mr. Pollack remains in serious condition, police said.

Mrs. Pollak was born March 29, 1896, in Chicago. She was a member of Sylvia Chapter, OES, No. 74, Buchanan.

Surviving, in addition to the husband, are a stepson, Jack Hathaway, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Horn, both of Danville, Calif. Her first husband, Cleon J. Hathaway, preceded her in death in 1959.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Swem Chapel, Swem-Smith funeral home, Buchanan, where friends may call after 7 this evening. Burial will be in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Memorials may be made to the Helpful 100 of the First Methodist church, Buchanan.

CAIRO (AP) — A bus crashed into a Nile ditch near Luxor, in southern Egypt, killing 50 persons, the Interior Ministry announced today. The cause of the accident was not reported. The announcement said there were six survivors.

Freed After Apology

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — A Saginaw man who, received a 60-day contempt of court sentence is a free man after apologizing to the judge. Nealson C. Calhoun, 22, got a short lesson in judicial procedure from District Court Judge Harold W. Martin, who accepted the apology and dropped the contempt sentence. Calhoun, who appeared Monday before the judge to be arraigned on an armed robbery charge, got other good news when prosecutors said he was the victim of mistaken identity. They said Calhoun, who vigorously claimed his innocence, was in the Kalamazoo County jail on the day the robbery for which he was to have been charged occurred.

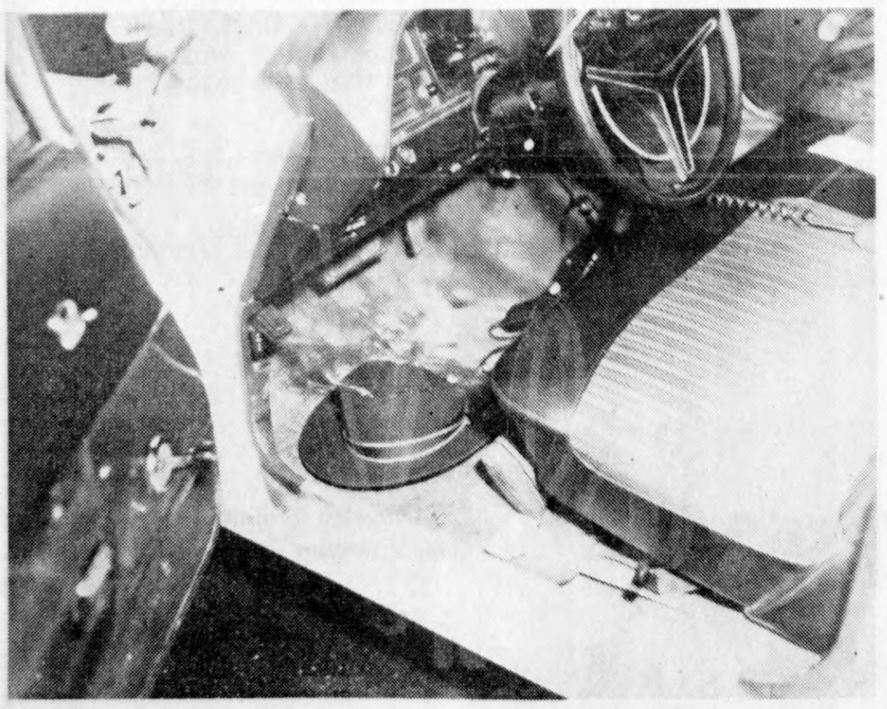

Residents Vs. Mushroomers

UTICA, Mich. (AP) — Progress vs. tradition, in the form of a controversy between Macomb County mushroom growers and local residents, are about to clash head-on here. A land developer and area dwellers have filed suit against the farmers in Macomb Circuit Court contending the mushroom farms, with their piles of horse manure and tiny flies, are a nuisance. A hearing is scheduled for January.

Most of the farms in question cover a single square mile in Shelby Township. The farms are often run by Italian families who, decades ago, bought the land 20 miles north of downtown Detroit. Their work accounts for Michigan's place as third in the nation in mushroom production.

Soviets Aid Black Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has sent, or agreed to send, at least $400 million worth of MIG jet fighters, tanks and other military equipment to some 10 black African countries in the past two years. U.S. intelligence reports, which have traced these Soviet moves, indicate the Russians have assigned 1,900 or more military advisers to African nations where Moscow seeks influence, bases or both. Many Defense and State Department officials and intelligence specialists are concerned, but there are differences in degree of concern and in estimates of what the Russians are trying to accomplish.

OFFICER'S HAT CRUSHED: Hat of Berrien Deputy Sheriff Ross Brumbaugh was left on floorboard of patrol car after shooting Saturday night in which Brumbaugh was hit twice by slugs from a pistol after he stopped a pickup truck on Benton Harbor's east side. PALISADES TO SHUT DOWN FOR REFUELING

COVERT — Consumers Power company will shut down its Palisades nuclear plant later this month for its first fuel reloading and to again test steam generator tubes. The shutdown is in accord with licensing provisions of the Nuclear Regulatory commission. The plant is scheduled to be out of service about three months.

About two-thirds of the initial 84-metric ton loading of uranium fuel has now expended enough energy to need replacement, Dr. Fred W. Buckman, the company's nuclear fuels administrator, said. The replacement fuel is of a different design that has better heat transfer characteristics, he added.

Russell C. Youngdahl, executive vice president for electric operations, said, "In just over eight months, the Palisades plant has generated about 2.4 billion kilowatt hours of energy at a cost more than 50 per cent below the cost of our fossil fueled plants."

Palisades is the company's largest generating unit with a capability of 700,000 kilowatts.

During the coming shutdown, company employes and contractors will again test about 14,000 tubes in the steam generator to determine how the tubes have reacted to the plant's new water chemistry.

Of the total 17,000 tubes in the units, about 3,000 were plugged before the water chemistry was changed.

In order to do the testing more safely and more quickly, Consumers Power built a 400-pound wood - and - fiberglass mockup model of part of a steam generator and has been training workers in the mockup for the last three months.

Built in Jackson and trucked to Palisades, the mockup looks like half of a huge coffee cup. It is 13 feet wide and seven feet deep. Across the top is a plexiglass sheet with small circles drawn on it matching exactly the locations of the 8,500 tube openings in each side of the plant's twin steam generator units.

A device called an "XY positioner' is used to probe the tubes. Once the positioner is located properly according to a predetermined location, the positioner enables an electronic probe to move from tube totube automatically.

The probe has an electrical sensing element that transmits an impulse on magnetic tape as the probe is withdrawn from the tube. The tape is later played back through electronic equipment to determine if deterioration in the tube wall has occurred.

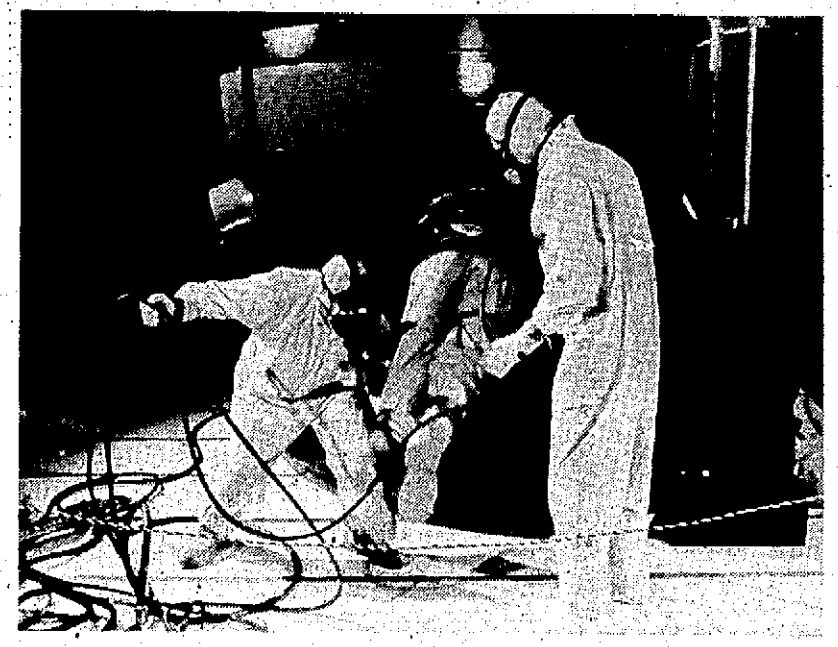

Testing of tubes and plugging of any tubes that are found to be faulty will take four to six weeks, with crews working seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

Meanwhile, Consumers Power personnel will inspect the uranium fuel load and determine exactly how much new fuel must be added. Removal of the original fuel will take about 14 days, inspection about six weeks and reloading about one week, Buckman said.

The shutdown was announced earlier this month by Consumers.

Slaying Suspect Captured

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Salvatore Soli, a suspect in the killing a week ago of of newspaper heir John S. Knight III, was arrested at a motel here Sunday night, police said.

Soli, 38, of Philadelphia, was taken into custody after a young woman staying with him at the motel called police, Homicide Detective Jimmy Beall said.

Beall said Soli, a convicted drug user with at least 50 arrests, was charged with murder.

Knight, 30, grandson of John S. Knight, editorial chairman of the Knight-Ridder newspaper chain, was stabbed to death during an apparent robbery at his Philadelphia apartment Dec. 7.

Soli was one of three suspects in the killing. One turned himself over to authorities last week, and a second was found shot to death.

Police in Philadelphia said they would try to return Soli to Pennsylvania today.

Beall said Soli was arrested at 11:30 p.m. at the Southwind Motel, about a mile from downtown Miami. He was not armed and offered no resistance.

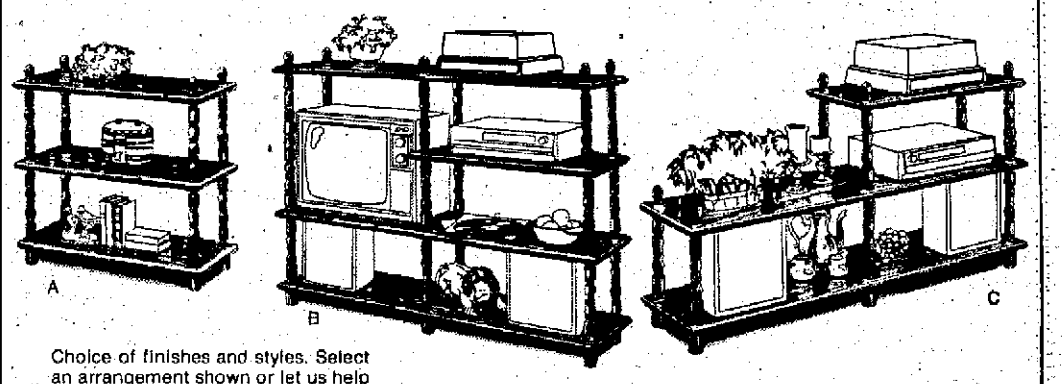

The detective said Soli had bleached his hair strawberry blonde and had shaved off his moustache.

Two women with him, Donna DePaul, 19, of Philadelphia, and Linda Mary Wells, 18, of Syracuse, N.Y., were taken into custody for questioning, said Beall.

PALISADES TO SHUT DOWN FOR REFUELING

COVERT — Consumers Power company will shut down its Palisades nuclear plant later this month for its first fuel reloading and to again test steam generator tubes. Dishwashing Not Too Menial For Him

MR. VIET: Viet Van Nuguyen, called "Mr. Viet" by American acquaintances, washes dishes at Northwood Institute i Midland, Mich. Story of his new life in the U.S. is not as successful as some Vietnam refugees, but Viet says he is happy. He makes $2 an hour. (AP Wirephoto)

By NANCY L. CLAY

SANFORD, Mich. (AP) — He says if he returned to South Vietnam to be with his family, the Viet Cong would "cut his head off."

Viet Van Nuguyen, called "Mr. Viet" by his American acquaintences, fled his native country last May 6 with thousands of other refugees. He left behind a wife and eight children.

The story of his new life in the United States is not as successful as some Vietnam refugees. But Viet says he is happy, though he would be even happier if some changes could be made.

Viet, 35, speaks very little English. His best sentence is that he is sorry he speaks no English, but he is studying the language.

With the translative help of Dr. Thai Quoc Cuong, a Vietnamese refugee who works at the Midland Hospital Center, Viet was able to tell his story.

Viet arrived at the Indian Gap refugee camp in Pennsylvania after intermediate stops in the Phillippines and Guam. He came to Michigan Aug. 6, sponsored by Dorothy Trogan, owner of a hotel and motel in Freeland.

Mrs. Trogan also sponsored eight other Vietnamese refugees. The older persons work in Freeland, and their children attend school there.

"But we had a problem with Mr. Viet," she recalled. "There is another man here who was of higher military rank than Viet in Vietnam. This bothered Viet, and he asked to go back to the refugee camp," said Mrs. Trogan.

She contacted Catholic Family Services in Saginaw, who told her of a Sanford couple, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Murphy, who wanted to sponsor a Vietnamese refugee or family.

So Viet moved to Sanford, a small community about 10 miles north of Midland, living in a small house near Murphy's mobile home.

"It worked out perfectly", said Mrs. Murphy, 30. "We had the house empty, and Tim had no urge to rent it."

But not everyone is convinced the situation is perfect.

Mrs. Leonard Newman, wife of the Rev. Leonard Newman of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Sanford, feels things could be better for Viet.

She said the Murphys have a heart of gold and should be praised for sponsoring a refugee when others would not.

"But I just don't feel this is the best situation," she said. "We know the Murphys, and they are good people. But they just don't have much themselves."

Murphy works for the state Department of Natural Resources in Sanford as a fire officer. The Murphys have one son, Miles, 9, and are expecting another child.

Mrs. Murphy said Viet is expected to pay his own expenses, although they provide the home rent-free.

"He hopes it won't be too long before he is on his own," said Mrs. Murphy. Viet has a 13-year-old nephew, Thanh, in Freeland. He would like the nephew to live with him, although he feels his home is not large enough now. Mrs. Trogan said Thanh has three uncles in America and can choose to live with any of them or stay in Freeland.

Sara Forestall, a case worker for Catholic Family Services, said home checks are not conducted for refugee sponsorship.

"If the man from Vietnam is happy, that is the most important thing," said Miss Forestall. "If he wanted to make a change, he could be referred back to the camp in Pennsylvania."

The congregations of St. Paul's and the St. Agnes Catholic Church in Sanford have helped the Murphys find furniture, clothing and appliances for Viet.

Viet told Dr. Thai what he needs most are proper bathroom facilities.

To shower, Viet uses the bathroom in the Murphy's home. He was using an oil stove to heat the house but found it was too hot. He now is using electric heat, which he said costs him about $20 a month.

The Rev. Newman was able to find a job for Viet washing dishes at Northwood Institute in Midland, Monday through Friday, for $2 an hour.

Viet said he is happy because he is working. With the help of Dr. Thai, he asked Rosalie Bloom, Northwood's food service manager, to "teach him everything" and please excuse him if he makes mistakes.

Viet said he was a man of many professions in Vietnam—policeman, barber, agriculturalist.

"Since I can speak no English, this job I have now is a temporary profession," Viet said. "I want to have another as an auto mechanic."

One of Viet's biggest problems is transportation. To get a driver's license he must pass the state test, which is written in English.

TV Cameras Will View Wreck Site

CLEVELAND (AP)—Suggesting that the final word on the cause of the sinking of the ore carrier Edmund Fitzgerald may have to come from the wreckage of the 729-foot ship, a high Coast Guard officer says remote-controlled television cameras will be sent to the bottom of Lake Superior next spring to examine the Fitzgerald's remains.

The wreck lies in 530 feet of water where the Fitzgerald broke up Nov. 10 in a violent storm.

None of the 29 crewmen aboard survived.

Rear Adm. Winford Barrow, who heads a four-member panel seeking to determine the cause of the tragedy, announced plans for the camera survey as he recessed the Coast Guard hearings indefinitely Saturday. Barrow declined to speculate on the cause of the sinking and said the "ultimate witness—the vessel itself," is yet to be heard from.

He said the TV cameras aboard a Navy CURV III underwater vehicle will be used to pinpoint location of fractures in the hull and check the condition of the steel hull plates and the deck hatches.

The cameras also will determine exactly how many pieces the Fitzgerald broke into.

Sonar scans which were used to locate the wreckage have indicated that the freighter lies in two or three pieces on the lake bottom.

Barrow said the CURV III equipment will be flown to Lake Superior from San Diego, Calif., with a tentative date of April 15 set for starting the underwater survey, weather permitting.

The Coast Guard is waiting until spring, he said, because of the problems of trying to conduct such an operation in rough winter weather.

Barrow said the panel also is asking for additional depth soundings between the Lake Superior islands of Caribou and Michipicoten. Pilots and officers from other ships which were in the vicinity when the Fitzgerald went down have testified that the course followed by the Fitzgerald's captain took her close to Caribou Island shoals that lie only about 36 feet under the surface.

There has been speculation that the Fitzgerald could have touched underwater rocks in the wild waves, which witnesses said were running as high as 25 feet.

Barrow said the panel will be studying the testimony taken in 14 days of hearings and all four board members will ride ore carriers on the lakes some time between now and next spring.

Board member Capt. Adam S. Zabinski said he planned to ride the freighter Armco this week on a trip between Duluth, Minn. and Detroit.

Mother Says Son's Lawsuit 'Outrageous'

DETROIT (AP) — The parents of a young mental health patient say they will go to U.S. District Court today to ask they be allowed to intervene in a suit in which their son is the plaintiff.

The class action suit was filed on behalf of John Campbell Jr., 11, and other children who have been sent to Michigan mental hospitals on their parents' signatures. Court hearings have not been held to approve the admissions.

The state's new mental health code allows parents of children under 18 to sign their child into a mental hospital for treatment unless the child, or someone named by him, objects. If there are objections, a court hearing is ordered.

The suit is directed against the Department of Mental Health an the Ypsilanti State Hospital staff. It maintains the procedure deprives children of their constitutional rights to due process of law.

Mrs. John Campbell of Westland said her son, a patient at the Ypsilanti facility, does not know he's suing the state. "It's outrageous," Mrs. Campbell said.

The suit was filed by Michigan Legal Services attorney Gabe Kaimowitz.

Mrs. Campbell charged that attorneys were using her son as "a pawn.

"They're just exploiting him," she said.

Mrs. Campbell said she has brought John home to prevent Michigan Legal Services attorneys from seeing him.

Death Blamed On Heart Attack

NEW YORK (AP) — Frederick Pirone, the Queens "Good Samaritan" who intervened in a fight between three teenage girls, was not a homicide victim but died instead from a heart attack, Queens Medical Examiner John Furey has ruled.

When Pirone was discovered dead Thursday night with his nose broken and three ribs fractured, police speculated that he might have sustained these injuries while rescuing a 12-year-old girl from a fight with two 15-year-old girls.

Whether It's Housework or Golf, It's Still Bursitis

Everyone, at one time or another, has experienced a sudden sharp pain in the shoulder, elbow, or knee joint. Quite often this is called "bursitis."

The condition is commonly associated with athletes.

"But it's just as common with housewives, office workers, regardless of occupation," says Dr. Vince Ackerman, Ackerman Chiropractic Center.

Dr. Vince Ackerman

The good doctor points out that bursitis is an inflamation of the joint capsule and results in a swelling of tissue from irritation. The irritation may be chemical from disease, from overfatique or from external bruises.

"As you can well imagine," he notes, "household chores or any physical activity on the job or in the home can cause the irritation.

"I have a patient now under care who sustained a sharp stinging pain in his left shoulder as he was lifting a stack of records from one overhead shelf to another. Granted, this 34 year old man had the physique of an athlete, but the activity that caused his problem was anything but athletic."

Dr. Ackerman notes that in many cases, rest periods will clear up a mild condition of bursitis. "However, if the condition continues, calcium deposits will show up on the surface of the bones in the joint," he says.

And it's frequently a most distressing problem, often associated with severe pain and continual discomfort seemingly unaffected by resting the affected joint, or hot or cold packs.

"Of course I think that a person is foolish to resign himself to allowing a bursitis attack to run its course by simply gritting one's teeth and bearing the discomfort," says Dr. Ackerman.

"True, the process of healing bursitis has no exact time limit from one patient to another. Many factors influence the length of time necessary for recovery: how long it has been going on before seeking help, the age of the patient, and possible existence of other body malfunctions that may exist at the same time.

"But by all means the pain can be alleviated and condition attacked with a permanent solution in view," says Dr. Ackerman.

No one contests the fact that bursitis is the problem for the modern doctor. "If you have an unexplained twinge of pain in the knee, elbow, arm, shoulder, seek accurate diagnosis and effective treatment. It may go away after a time but its return is just as predictable as taxes...if the condition is left untreated."

Dr. Ackerman maintains offices at 3918 Red Arrow Hwy. in St. Joseph (Telephone 429-1700).

Winford Barrow, who heads a four-member panel seeking to determine the cause of the tragedy, announced plans for the camera survey as he recessed the Coast Guard hearings indefinitely Saturday. Barrow declined to speculate on the cause of the sinking and said the "ultimate witness—the vessel itself," is yet to be heard from.

He said the TV cameras aboard a Navy CURV III underwater vehicle will be used to pinpoint location of fractures in the hull and check the condition of the steel hull plates and the deck hatches.

The cameras also will determine exactly how many pieces the Fitzgerald broke into.

Sonar scans which were used to locate the wreckage have indicated that the freighter lies in two or three pieces on the lake bottom.

Barrow said the CURV III equipment will be flown to Lake Superior from San Diego, Calif., with a tentative date of April 15 set for starting the underwater survey, weather permitting.

The Coast Guard is waiting until spring, he said, because of the problems of trying to conduct such an operation in rough winter weather.

Barrow said the panel also is asking for additional depth soundings between the Lake Superior islands of Caribou and Michipicoten. Pilots and officers from other ships which were in the vicinity when the Fitzgerald went down have testified that the course followed by the Fitzgerald's captain took her close to Caribou Island shoals that lie only about 36 feet under the surface.

There has been speculation that the Fitzgerald could have touched underwater rocks in the wild waves, which witnesses said were running as high as 25 feet.

Barrow said the panel will be studying the testimony taken in 14 days of hearings and all four board members will ride ore carriers on the lakes some time between now and next spring.

Board member Capt. Adam S. Zabinski said he planned to ride the freighter Armco this week on a trip between Duluth, Minn. and Detroit.

Mother Says Son's Lawsuit 'Outrageous'

DETROIT (AP) — The parents of a young mental health patient say they will go to U.S. District Court today to ask they be allowed to intervene in a suit in which their son is the plaintiff.

The class action suit was filed on behalf of John Campbell Jr., 11, and other children who have been sent to Michigan mental hospitals on their parents' signatures. Court hearings have not been held to approve the admissions.

The state's new mental health code allows parents of children under 18 to sign their child into a mental hospital for treatment unless the child, or someone named by him, objects. If there are objections, a court hearing in ordered.

The suit is directed against the Department of Mental Health an the Ypsilanti State Hospital staff. It maintains the procedure deprives children of their constitutional rights to due process of law.

Mrs. John Campbell of Westland said her son, a patient at the Ypsilanti facility, does not know he's suing the state. "It's outrageous," Mrs. Campbell said.

The suit was filed by Michigan Legal Services attorney Gabe Kaimowitz.

Mrs. Campbell charged that attorneys were using her son as "a pawn.

"They're just exploiting him," she said.

Mrs. Campbell said she has brought John home to prevent Michigan Legal Services attorneys from seeing him.

Death Blamed On Heart Attack

NEW YORK (AP) — Frederick Pirone, the Queens "Good Samaritan" who intervened in a fight between three teenage girls, was not a homicide victim but died instead from a heart attack, Queens Medical Examiner John Furey has ruled.

When Pirone was discovered dead Thursday night with his nose broken and three ribs fractured, police speculated that he might have sustained these injuries while rescuing a 12-year-old girl from a fight with two 15-year-old girls.

Whether It's Housework or Golf, It's Still Bursitis

Everyone, at one time or another, has experienced a sudden sharp pain in the shoulder, elbow, or knee joint. Quite often this is called "bursitis."

The condition is commonly associated with athletes.

"But it's just as common with housewives, office workers, regardless of occupation," says Dr. Vince Ackerman, Ackerman Chiropractic Center.

Dr. Vince Ackerman

The good doctor points out that bursitis is an inflamation of the joint capsule and results in a swelling of tissue from irritation. The irritation may be chemical from disease, from overfatique or from external bruises.

"As you can well imagine," he notes, "household chores or any physical activity on the job or in the home can cause the irritation.

"I have a patient now under care who sustained a sharp stinging pain in his left shoulder as he was lifting a stack of records from one overhead shelf to another. Granted, this 34 year old man had the physique of an athlete, but the activity that caused his problem was anything but athletic."

Dr. Ackerman notes that in many cases, rest periods will clear up a mild condition of bursitis. "However, if the condition continues, calcium deposits will show up on the surface of the bones in the joint," he says.

And it's frequently a most distressing problem, often associated with severe pain and continual discomfort seemingly unaffected by resting the affected joint, or hot or cold packs.

"Of course I think that a person is foolish to resign himself to allowing a bursitis attack to run its course by simply gritting one's teeth and bearing the discomfort," says Dr. Ackerman.

"True, the process of healing bursitis has no exact time limit from one patient to another. Many factors influence the length of time necessary for recovery: how long it has been going on before seeking help, the age of the patient, and possible existence of other body malfunctions that may exist at the same time.

"But by all means the pain can be alleviated and condition attacked with a permanent solution in view," says Dr. Ackerman.

No one contests the fact that bursitis is the problem for the modern doctor. "If you have an unexplained twinge of pain in the knee, elbow, arm, shoulder, seek accurate diagnosis and effective treatment. It may go away after a time but its return is just as predictable as taxes...if the condition is left untreated."

Dr. Ackerman maintains offices at 3918 Red Arrow Hwy. in St. Joseph (Telephone 429-1700).

Vicksburg's Mrs. Pat Oswalt

'Newcomer' Is Pro-Farming

By ARDYCE CZUCHNA

VICKSBURG, Mich. (AP) — Pat Oswalt, the first woman elected to the board of directors of the Kalamazoo County Farm Bureau, never spent time on a farm before she was married in 1961.

Now she's out to raise the image of the farmer.

"Farming is a profession," says Mrs. Oswalt. "It could well use a person with half a dozen college degrees, such as veterinary medicine, business, law, economics and government, as well as agriculture."

Holding a degree in education, Mrs. Oswalt is a partner with her husband, William, who has a degree in dairy science. Together, they own and operate 300 acres of land and a herd of 115 dairy cattle.

Jan Vosburg, board chairman and a member of the committee that nominated Mrs. Oswalt, says:

"We've needed a woman on the board. Both partners in a farm business have a lot to do with decisions as well as with the actual physical work load.

"Also, women often are more enthusiastic than men about getting Farm Bureau jobs done right away, and because of the women's liberation movement, I believe people are listening to women more today than they might have 20 years ago."

Mrs. Oswalt has definite opinions about farming and the farmer's image.

"The farmer today is committed financially and has dedicated his time to the cause," she says. "He's intelligent and educated. He has to be efficient, and he wants a fair shake on the market. He believes the less 'Big Brother' gets into the act, the better."

In 1972, the Oswalts were named the Outstanding Young Dairy Couple of the Year by the Michigan Milk Producers' Cooperative.

Mrs. Oswalt said it was an educational experience that opened new avenues of thought.

"We traveled to New York one week and to San Francisco the next," she recalls. "We learned to think on our feet, and we learned we must spend time furthering the cause of farming."

Since 1961, Mrs. Oswalt has gradually taken over bookkeeping chores at the farm. The Oswalts' two children— Debbie, 12, and Mike, 10—work an hour in the barn each day after school.

"I'm not averse to feeding the stock and hauling feed to town when necessary," Mrs. Oswalt says. "But right now, we feel my role can best be that of bookkeeper and co-manager."

Recently she served as a hired hand temporarily.

"Bill was the only milker," she recalls. "The kids and I washed udders, stripped them and led the cows in and out of the milking parlor."

Oswalt and his wife have developed a monitoring system for dairy cattle. They have incorporated and manufacture the system for wholesale.

"We're busy," says Mrs. Oswalt, "but we expect no sympathy for long hours. We knew how it would be when Bill chose dairying as a career. However, he and other dairymen want to be treated as professional businessmen."

Mrs. Oswalt also is doing her bit to educate consumers.

"This year, we've had 800 kids tour our farm," she says. "We're often asked to give the tours because we live so near the Vicksburg High School."

Speaking for many other farm families, she says:

"Farmers are tired of hearing about the high cost of food. After all, they buy groceries, too. The days of cheap food are gone.

"Consumers don't want raw milk or unsorted apples. These services and the packaging all add to the cost.

"I believe many farmers will go down the drain. But the ones remaining will be super efficient and produce more than ever before."

Candy Would Host Show On Her Own Terms

CANDY: Bright and beautiful.

MARK: He did it on his own.

OLIVIA: Dino was dropped.

Q: I saw Candy Bergen host a TV talk show the other night and wondered why she doesn't do it more often and in a more serious way. She seems to be as bright as she is beautiful. — T.K., Phoenix, Ariz.

A. Candy Bergen, while not considered terribly intellectual, is one of Hollywood's most well-informed actresses. She is very interested in the idea of doing a talk show but only if it is on her terms and she can have control over who the guests will be.

Q: Don't you think that Kurt Vonnegut used his influence to help his son Mark get "The Eden Express" published? — D.W., N.Y., N.Y.

A: We're sure that Kurt didn't lean on a single publisher. The proof is that son Mark's book, about his battle with schizophrenia, was turned down by more than a dozen publishers before one agreed to take it on.

Q: Are they actually going to make a TV show on the life of Jesus Christ? — S.A., La Jolla, Calif.

A: Apparently so. It will be a British-Italian co-venture and has already cast a spell on a couple of the actors. Englishman Robert Powell, who will portray Christ, immediately set about getting legally hitched to the girl he had been living with. On the day of his marriage Olivia Hussey, who has the Virgin Mary part, divorced her husband, Dino Martin (that's the son of Dean Martin Sr.), and announced that she will avoid all male entanglements while preparing for the role.

PEOPLE
By Robin Adams Sloan

MOOD INDIGO: Polly Bergen sent a gift of a mood ring to Barbra Streisand — one of those stones that goes from blue (when the wearer is happy) to green to yellow to black (for nerves and apprehension). Barbra's thank-you note said, "I have put it on and Jon is now cutting my hair and the ring is going from blue to black. Thanks a lot!" She was kidding, of course!

Q: Isn't it true that the marriage rate is going down and the divorce rate is going up and there is about one divorce now for every four marriages? — L.G., Sacramento, Calif.

A: The number of marriages is declining and divorces are on the rise but the gloomy figure is one divorce for every two marriages.

Q: Is Lee Radziwill, Jackie Onassis' sister, expected to get married again? — O.Q., Columbia, Mo.

A: There are some rumors of a mysterious older man who may figure in Lee's future marriage plans but the best bet is that she will marry American lawyer Peter Tufo, who has been her regular companion of late. This would be Lee's third marriage and the second for Mr. Tufo, who is 35 and six years younger than she is.

BEFORE THE official Franco-American alliance, a plan of secret aid was developed by the French dramatist Beaumarchais. The author of "The Marriage of Figaro" and "The Barber of Seville" personally organized a fleet to carry weapons and equipment to the colonies, and advanced enormous sums of money. The first convoy reached Portsmouth in early 1777 with $800,000 worth of goods to supply 25,000 men. Due to a bankrupt Congress ignorant of the entire arrangement, and the ensuing scandal, it was not until 1835, The World Almanac notes, that the American government partially repaid the Frenchman's estate.

Candy Would Host Show On Her Own Terms

CANDY: Bright and beautiful.

MARK: He did it on his own.

OLIVIA: Dino was dropped.

Q: I saw Candy Bergen host a TV talk show the other night and wondered why she doesn't do it more often and in a more serious way. She seems to be as bright as she is beautiful. — T.K., Phoenix, Ariz.

A. Candy Bergen, while not considered terribly intellectual, is one of Hollywood's most well-informed actresses. She is very interested in the idea of doing a talk show but only if it is on her terms and she can have control over who the guests will be.

Q: Don't you think that Kurt Vonnegut used his influence to help his son Mark get "The Eden Express" published? — D.W., N.Y., N.Y.

A: We're sure that Kurt didn't lean on a single publisher. The proof is that son Mark's book, about his battle with schizophrenia, was turned down by more than a dozen publishers before one agreed to take it on.

Q: Are they actually going to make a TV show on the life of Jesus Christ? — S.A., La Jolla, Calif.

A: Apparently so. It will be a British-Italian co-venture and has already cast a spell on a couple of the actors. Englishman Robert Powell, who will portray Christ, immediately set about getting legally hitched to the girl he had been living with. On the day of his marriage Olivia Hussey, who has the Virgin Mary part, divorced her husband, Dino Martin (that's the son of Dean Martin Sr.), and announced that she will avoid all male entanglements while preparing for the role.

PEOPLE

By Robin Adams Sloan

MOOD INDIGO: Polly Bergen sent a gift of a mood ring to Barbra Streisand — one of those stones that goes from blue (when the wearer is happy) to green to yellow to black (for nerves and apprehension). Barbra's thank-you note said, "I have put it on and Jon is now cutting my hair and the ring is going from blue to black. Thanks a lot!" She was kidding, of course!

Q: Isn't it true that the marriage rate is going down and the divorce rate is going up and there is about one divorce now for every four marriages? — L.G., Sacramento, Calif.

A: The number of marriages is declinng and divorces are on the rise but the gloomy figure is one divorce for every two marriages.

Q: Is Lee Radziwill, Jackie Onassis' sister, expected to get married again? — O.Q., Columbia, Mo.

A: There are some rumors of a mysterious older man who may figure in Lee's future marriage plans but the best bet is that she will marry American lawyer Peter Tufo, who has been her regular companion of late. This would be Lee's third marriage and the second for Mr. Tufo, who is 35 and six years younger than she is.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

BEFORE THE official Franco-American alliance, a plan of secret aid was developed by the French dramatist Beaumarchais. The author of "The Marriage of Figaro" and "The Barber of Seville" personally organized a fleet to carry weapons and equipment to the colonies, and advanced enormous sums of money. The first convoy reached Portsmouth in early 1777 with $600,000 worth of goods to supply 25,000 men. Due to a bankrupt Congress ignorant of the entire arrangement, and the ensuing scandal, it was not until 1835, The World Almanac notes, that the American government partially repaid the Frenchman's estate.

Congress Faces Decisions On Energy, Taxes

By JANET STAIHAR
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is preparing to wind up its 1975 session this week with votes on a long-debated energy bill and on a measure extending individual income tax cuts into the new year.

President Ford has expressed opposition to both proposals but may be forced to accept them.

Ford insists he will accept the 1976 tax cut only if Congress agrees to reduce federal spending in 1977 the same amount as the tax reduction. He has theatened to veto any tax cuts that are not linked to reductions in spending.

The Senate bill expected to reach Ford's desk would extend this year's temporary tax cuts through June 30, rather than through all of 1976 as originally voted by the House.

According to some economists, if the tax cuts are allowed to expire this month, $13 billion would be drained from the economy and unemployment next year might climb by 500,000 workers.

Failure to extend the tax cuts would cost a married man earning $15,000 a year and supporting a wife and two children an additional $4.73 a week in withholding, or about $250 more in income taxes for the year, according to the Internal Revenue Service. For single persons earning $15,000, withholding would be increased by about $3 per week or $156 for the year.

The tax cut, enacted this year as an economy boosting measure, expires automatically on Dec. 31 unless extended by Congress.

Also up for final action in the Senate today is a politically sensitive bill heavily backed by labor. The bill, which Ford once supported but now is under conservative pressure to veto, would allow a union involved in a dispute with one subcontractor to picket and shutdown an entire construction site.

The House is expected to vote today on the final version of the compromise Democratic energy bill that includes temporary price cuts of 2½ cents to 3½ cents a gallon on gasoline and home-heating oil.

There is wide belief that Ford will sign the energy package because his advisers have told him it is the best he can get out of Congress this year. Senate passage may come Tuesday or Wednesday.

Ford's original energy plan, which Congress rejected, was based on the theory that higher fuel prices would force conservation while providing incentives for oil companies to drill for more oil.

Under terms of the bill, fuel prices would be reduced, then allowed to rise slowly before all price controls end in March of 1979.

The administration argues the initial price rollback will discourage U.S. energy production and increase U.S. reliance on foreign oil. Supporters contend the plan is needed to keep fuel prices down while the economy is trying to recover from recession.

PRESIDENT FORD
Opposed to both

By John Roche

A group of Democrats in Massachusetts have, only half-humorously, been considering fielding a slate in the Democratic primary with the slogan: "Back to Bossism!" I have not been keeping count, but it seems to me that in the past month 14 declared, semi-declared or non-declared candidates for the Democratic nomination have been prowling around the state in search of support. Ironically, the overwhelming power of the Democracts statewide has led to the disappearance of any vestige of party organization (the liberal's action group last weekend refused to endorse any candidate), so it's catch as catch can.

Then there is, of course, the joker in the pack: George Wallace, who could profit from the anti-busing sentiment that almost lost Kevin White his job as Mayor of Boston. White's opponent had nothing much going for him except that Kevin was there when Federal Judge W. Arthur Garrity took over as Superintendent of Schools.

Meanwhile in New York the liberal's bloodbath has started. On Dec. 6, the New Democratic Coalition, the big tent in New York's reform circus, tried to agree on a liberal candidate. With a rule requiring 60 percent for endorsement, the field rapidly narrowed to Senator Birch Bayh and "populist" Fred Harris. After six ballots Bayh had 59.947 percent, and in any sane political universe Harris would have moved to make the selection unanimous. Instead the Harris group blocked a seventh ballot!

There must have been at least one realist present: One-time Kansas Republican Governor Alf Landon, who lost to F.D.R. in the 1936 landslide, got a vote! The dreamy background can be gathered from remarks by two of the Coalition's leaders. Lt. Gov. Mary Ann Krupsak announced that the members "owe it to America to come out with a candidate," but then added that she herself thought it was "too early" to pick a horse.

This pattern of chaos is going to be repeated. Paradoxically the "opening up" of the party sponsored by Senator George McGovern could well have the consequence of leaving the choice of Democratic candidates for President and Vice President next July to a dozen poles in a smoke-filled room. McGovern set up his famous rules with the full intention of manipulating them to achieve nomination. He pulled it off in large part because his troops are the only ones who understood the new game.

What this means is that every political commentator is going to need a computer to follow the outcome of the 30 primaries and the decisions in the non-primary states. If we assume that the first ballot at the New Democratic Coalition were the Democratic primary, the effect of proportional representation would have been to award Bayh 39.9 percent, Harris 27.5 percent, Representative Morris Udall 44.2 percent, and Pennsylvania Governor Milton Shapp 7.8 percent of the delegates at large.

Multiply this drunken fire drill by 30 and you get some sense of the upcoming shambles. Of course, the liberals could all get together behind one candidate, but if Harris would frustrate Bayh in the way he did, can you conceive of them rallying behind "Scoop" Jackson?

Which brings me back to the point I made here about six months ago: After the Democratic Convention runs through five or six inconclusive ballots, suddenly realism combined with exhaustion will lead to a quiet backroom caucus from which will emerge the man who divides the Democrats the least. I just hope he limits his acceptance speech to an hour and a half.

Heart's Echoes Help Save Lives At Mercy Hospital

All too often, death is the first symptom of the nation's number one killer — heart disease, say specialists at Benton Harbor's Mercy hospital.

Studies by the American Heart association indicate that of all the coronary fatalities under the age of 65, more than half are cases of sudden death. And of these fatalities, over 65 per cent occur suddenly, without advance warning.

The name of the game is diagnosis. Researchers are continuing to add to their knowledge of "risk factors" (such as smoking, blood pressure, overweight and cholesterol). Today, a second study by the National Heart and Lung association is attempting to discover whether altering risk factors (by drugs, diet, and other means) will reduce the incidence of heart attack.

Meanwhile, Mercy Hospital and its cardiology department is using a barrage of testing methods to facilitate early diagnosis of heart disease. At Mercy, for example, information about a patient's heart may be gathered through phonocardiography, cardiac catheterization and angiography, dynamic electrocardiography, exercise electrocardiography, and, in recent months, echocardiography.

According to Dr. Frank Bunker, Mercy cardiologist, echocardiography or ultrasonic cartiography is a medical spinoff of sonar, the ultrasound devise the Navy used to detect the location of enemy submarines during World War II.

For the patient, echocardiography means a simple economic and relatively quick method of diagnosis that can sometimes eliminate the need for cardiac catheterization, angiography, and similar procedures. Because the ultrasonic beam causes no physical damage, it can be used as often as necessary, Dr. Bunker explains.

The procedure centers around a portable machine with a small microphone-like transducer which is placed on the patient's chest to emit a high frequency sound beam that travels through the chest wall and heart.

As the beam passes through different structures, part of the energy is reflected back along the beam's path by acoustical impedance created by differing densities of the structures involved. These reflected "echoes" are then received by the same transducer, converted back to electrical energy and finally, visualized for the cardiologist on an oscilloscope from which a photograph and other permanent records are made.

For the cardiologist, echocardiography represents a significant advance in the study of heart functions and detection of the causes of heart disease. As Dr. Benjamin Son, another Mercy Cardiologist, points out, the physician's usual tools (the stethescope and electrocardiogram, for example) unfortunately are sometimes too insensitive to detect early and often moderately advanced heart disease.

"The ultrasound procedure has several well-established applications in clinical cardiology," Dr. Son continues, advising that echocardiography can reveal calcification, thickening or narrowing of various heart valves, cardiac tumors, fluid around the heart, size of heart chambers, and other indicators of disease."

The advantages of the patient are enormous, the cardiologist said. "Through such noninvasive procedures as echocardiography, invasive diagnostic tests can sometimes be bypassed."

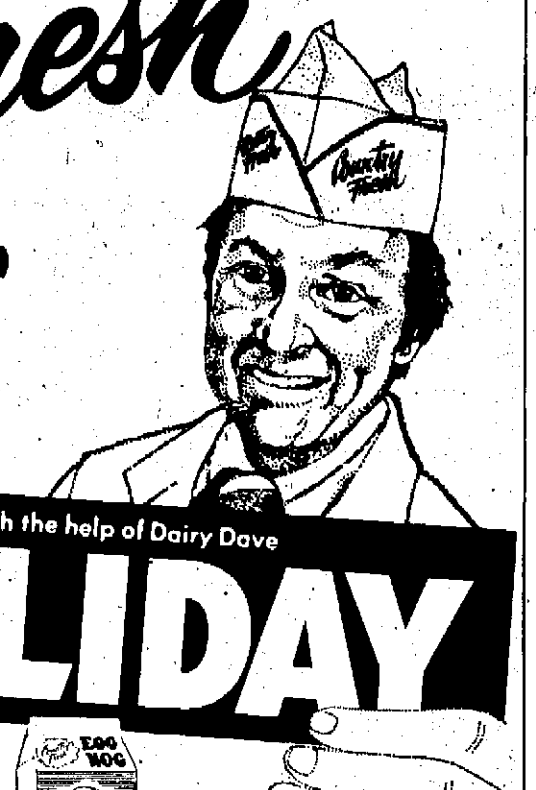

Although the picture of the heart produced by ultrasound is proving to be a valuable tool in the diagnosis of diseases that claim a million lives annually, Drs. Son and Bunker believe that cardiology's future needs are more tools for early diagnosis, more external, noninvasive recording methods that function as easily and economically as the echo technique.

Leftists Ignore Cease-Fire

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The 15th cease-fire in Lebanon's eight-month-old civil war was announced today, but Moslem leftists battling for control of the seaside hotel district said they had no orders to stop shooting. Sporadic gunfire crackled through the streets. Police reported six persons killed and seven wounded in early-morning battles, leftists and their right-wing Christian enemies. "We are still under fighting orders," said a member of a Nasserite militia. "We have heard our leaders are discussing a cease-fire, but nothing has come down to us."

Sixteen Get U-M Degrees

ANN ARBOR — Sixteen students from southwestern Michigan were scheduled to receive degrees from the University of Michigan at commencement exercises held yesterday.

An estimated 2,100 students were expected to graduate yesterday. Alice M. Rivlin, director of the Congressional budget office, was the main commencement speaker.

Degree candidates from southwestern Michigan were:

Berrien county: Dorothy D. Brant, Darwyn P. Fair, Benton Harbor; Frederick R. Weldy, Buchanan; Shawn W. Drew, James P. Jackel, Kimberly J. Kunst, Charles R. Stafford, Niles; Robert K. Foulkes, Mike J. Pfauth, Vance R. Senecal, St. Joseph; Gary C. Peterson, Sawyer; David H. Deckert, Bruce P. Miller, Mark J. Valacak, Stevensville.

Cass county: John H. Van Riper, Cassopolis.

Van Buren: Mary Jo Adams, Lawton.

Going Back Today In History

By Associated Press

Today is Monday, Dec. 15, the 349th day of 1975. There are 16 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1791, the first ten amendments to the U.S. Constitution — the Bill of Rights — went into effect with ratification by Virginia.

On this date:

In 1836, the U.S. Patent Office in Washington was destroyed by fire.

In 1890, the Sioux Indian chief, Sitting Bull, was shot and killed in South Dakota after warfare with federal troops.

In 1916, the French defeated the Germans in the World War I battle of Verdun.

In 1919, the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the National Prohibition Act.

In 1961, former Nazi Adolf Eichmann was sentenced to death in Jerusalem.

In 1967, 46 persons were killed in the collapse of a suspension bridge at Point Pleasant, W.Va.

Ten years ago: Thousands were killed by a cyclone and tidal wave in East Pakistan.

Five years ago: A Soviet spacecraft, Venus 7, reached the planet and sent back messages on the Venus atmosphere.

One year ago: General Alexander Haig took over as supreme allied commander in Europe.

Today's birthday: Billionaire J. Paul Getty is 83 years old.

Thought for today: If we were to wake up some morning and find that everyone was the same race, creed and color, we would find some other causes for prejudice by noon — former Sen. George Aiken of Vermont.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Massachusetts House of Representatives ordered 10 vessels to be fitted out as transports to sell produce in the West Indies, with the proceeds to be used to buy arms and ammunition.

'Cub' Dies

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A four-day-old polar bear cub died Sunday after a mauling from its mother, but a sister cub continues to thrive today on a formula similar to that given human infants. "She just gave up the ghost," said Richard Kleber, director of the Worcester Science Center where the injured cub died.

Earn Playoff Edge In Victory Over Dolphins

Miracle Colts OT Winner

From Associated Press

It was a drive that typified Baltimore's entire season. It was a long, long one, filled with a few clutch plays and a few bizarre plays — and it was a successful one.

"I knew we had a long way to go," Coach Ted Marchibroda said Sunday after his miracle Colts, buried on their own four-yard line in overtime, clawed their way across the field and into position for Toni Linhart's sudden-death 31-yard field goal that beat Miami 10-7.

"That's the kind of team we have," Marchibroda said of his scrappy band of Cinderellas, who have risen from a disastrous 2-12 National Football League season in 1974 to 9-4, within one victory of a divisional championship and playoff berth in 1975. "They've been doing what they've had to do all season long."

And he called the triumph "without a doubt the greatest I've ever had — all the way back to high school."

The victory threw first place in the American Conference's East Division into a flat-footed tie — but one in which the Colts have their best foot forward. Since they've beaten Miami in both meetings this year, all they need is another victory next Sunday against New England to take the title, regardless of what the Dolphins do Saturday against Denver.

"The Colts deserved to win," Miami Coach Don Shula said matter-of-factly. "They had what it took in the overtime and came up with big plays during the final drive. We had the opportunity to win throughout the game, but we couldn't come up with big plays."

In Sunday's other games, St. Louis locked up the National Conference East title and relegated division runner-up Dallas to the NFC wild-card spot with a 34-20 victory over Chicago, Los Angeles beat Green Bay 22-5, Houston edged Oakland 27-26, Detroit surprised Minnesota 17-10, Atlanta whipped San Francisco 31-9, Cleveland clobbered Kansas City 40-14, Denver downed Philadelphia 25-10, Buffalo belted New England 34-14 and the New York Giants beat New Orleans 28-14.

On Saturday, Dallas dropped Washington out of the playoffs by routing the Redskins 31-10 and Pittsburgh won the AFC Central title by clouting Cincinnati 35-14. The New York Jets are at San Diego tonight.

The Colts, completely rebuilt since winning the 1971 Super Bowl, tied the score 7-7 on a six-yard touchdown run by Lydell Mitchell with 5:30 remaining in regulation time, then launched their winning drive following Larry Seiple's coffin-corner punt.

They converted three third-down plays on the drive and quarterback Bert Jones, playing with injured ribs, completed four consecutive passes for 45 yards. Miami scored its touchdown in the third quarter on a three-yard run by Mercury Morris.

Tom Dempsey booted field goals of 40, 39 and 38 yards and Run Jaworski completed 15 of 24 passes for 174 yards in place of injured James Harris to lead Los Angeles past the Packers.

Dan Pastorini's two-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mack Alston on the final play of the game and Skip Butler's extra point gave Houston its victory over the Raiders.

George Blanda had one of the roughest days in his 26-year career. He missed an extra point attempt, had another blocked and missed a 27-yard field-goal attempt in the fourth quarter.

"It was almost like he handed me the ball it was so perfect," Alfred Jenkins said of his 20-yard and 63-yard touchdown passes from rookie Steve Bartkowski in the Falcons' rout of San Francisco. Bartkowski completed seven passes to Jenkins for 147 yards.

Greg Pruitt rushed for 214 yards and three touchdowns and joined Jim Brown and Leroy Kelly as the only Browns to surpass 1,000 yards in a season.

"Now we are in the playoffs and we'll play anybody ... tomorrow if necessary," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry after Saturday's rout of Washington. It was supposed to be a rebuilding year for the Cowboys.

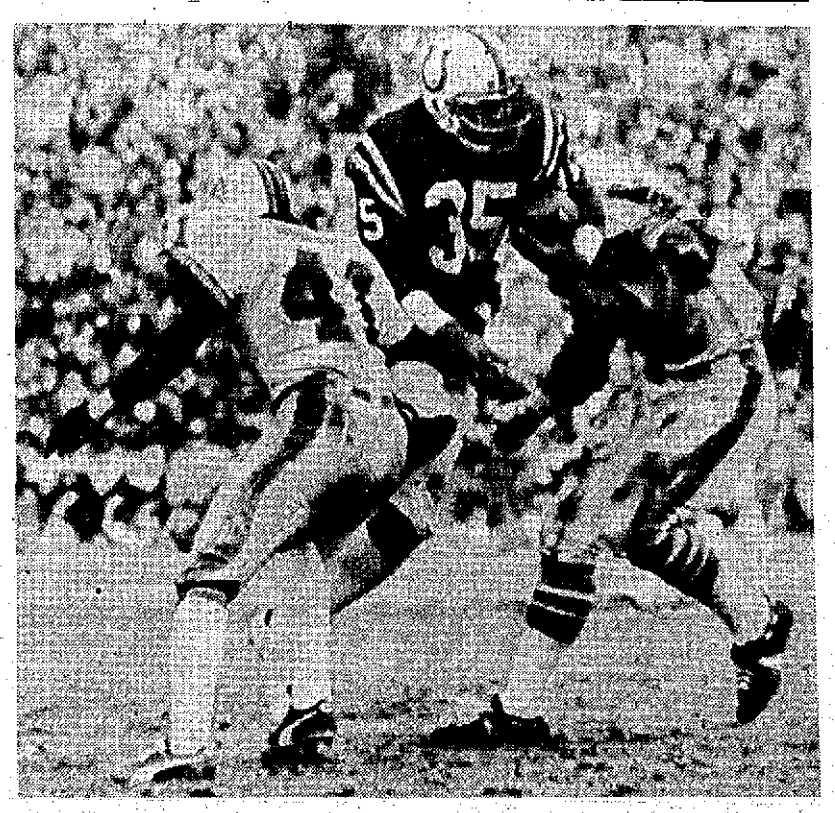

Roger Staubach passed for two touchdowns and ran for one. The Redskins' hopes were dashed when quarterback Bill Kilmer, who went into the showdown game with a bad shoulder and a broken bone in his left foot, suffered another shoulder separation and an injury to his passing hand.

Franco Harris rushed for 118 yards and a pair of touchdowns and Terry Bradshaw passed for one and ran for another in Pittsburgh's Saturday rout of Cincinnati.

Denver's Floyd Little, playing at home for the final time in his brilliant nine-year pro career, raced 61 yards with a third-quarter screen pass and ran for another touchdown in the closing minutes to carry the Broncos past Philadelphia.

O.J. Simpson ran for 185 yards and scored his 21st touchdown of the season while Jim Braxton plunged for a pair of scores to lead Buffalo over the Patriots. Simpson surpassed the 8,000-yard mark in career rushing and has 1,760 for the year.

Randy Colbert's 65-yard punt return for a touchdown, Doug Kotar's 46-yard run for another score and Craig Morton's 45-yard TD pass to Ray Rhodes boosted the Giants past New Orleans.

COLT GAINER: Baltimore Colts' wide receiver Glenn Doughty of Michigan (35) takes the ball for a 10-yard gain and a Colt first down in their home game with Miami Sunday. Doughty broke free of Dolphins' Jerris White (41) and Jake Scott (13), picking up another three yards. The Colts won the overtime thriller 10-7. (AP Wirephoto)

Lions Thwart Tarkenton's Record Bid, Down Vikings

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Writer

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Fran Tarkenton probably said it best: "They're out of it and could have rolled over and died, but they didn't."

Indeed, the Detroit Lions, of whom Minnesota quarterback Tarkenton was speaking, played Sunday as if they were going to be in the National Football League playoffs.

And apparently, they weren't concerned the Vikings had won 11 and lost only one game this season and had beaten Detroit 14 times in their last 15 meetings.

The Lions were fired up and, with the help of three key defensive plays, beat their National Conference Central Division rival 17-10 before a Pontiac Stadium crowd of 73,130 and a national television audience.

"They won their 'Super Bowl', now let's get ours," shouted a Viking as Minnesota filed through the tunnel to the locker room afterwards. And, Tarkenton stressed Saturday's game against Buffalo is a must-win situation, as it determines who will have the home-field advantage in the post-season playoffs.

Tarkenton was thwarted in his bid to tie Johnny Unitas' career touchdown passing record of 290. Unitas was the color commentator for CBS at the game and watched as Detroit sacked Tarkenton four times and intercepted two of his passes. Detroit also recovered a Minnesota fumble at the Lions' three.

The first Viking turnover was an interception by cornerback Levi Johnson at the goal line early in the first quarter. It occurred after Minnesota had marched toward a potential score after an interception by safety Paul Krause.

Johnson returned his pickoff 45 yards and then quarterback Joe Reed drove the Lions 55 yards in 10 plays, climaxed by an eight-yard touchdown pass to Marlin Briscoe.

The Lions again stunned the Vikes when Errol Mann booted an on-side kickoff after the TD and Detroit's Ed O'Neil recovered. Three plays later, Detroit led by two touchdowns as Bobby Thompson burst through a gaping hole off right tackle for a 46-yard run. His gallop was the longest by a Lion for a score since 1973.

"You can't lollygag with the Vikings and we decided to go at 'em right away," Lions Coach Rick Forzano said of the bold on-side kick — a tactic generally saved for the closing seconds of lost causes. "We decided about this in practice and worked on it.

"When you beat the champions you get more and more confidence, which we're striving for for next year."

Not to be outdone, the Vikings were successful with an on-side kick of their own in the second quarter after Fred Cox's 39-yard field goal. Pete Athas recovered and a personal foul against Jim Mitchell of Detroit gave Minnesota the ball at the Lion 32. But substitute safety Mike Weger stymied that drive by intercepting Tarkenton at Cox's field goal came nine plays after Krause picked off his second Reed pass. The interception gave Krause a club record, 10 for the year and 74 for his career, just five behind the NFL record.

Krause gave the Vikings their lone touchdown after Wally Hilgenberg recovered a fumble and shoveled the ball to Krause, who raced for an 86-yard score in the third quarter. Linebacker Hilgenberg, like Krause a former University of Iowa star, scooped up the Reed fumble and ran 16 yards before pitching to the swifter Krause, who was untouched for 70 yards.

Moments earlier, Detroit cornerback Lem Barney recovered Robert Miller's fumble at the

Otis Bulls St. Louis Past Bears To Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Workhorse Jim Otis crashed the 1,000-yard barrier and the St. Louis Cardinals finally may have shucked their cinderella image in clinching their second consecutive eastern division title in the National Football Conference.

Otis bulled his way 33 times for 147 yards, including two touchdowns, in anchoring a St. Louis offense that rolled to a decisive 34-20 drubbing of the hapless Chicago Bears on Sunday.

"Now I know what it feels like," said Otis after his game total put him at 1,007 yards for the season. "It takes a great offensive line, great blocking and great wide receivers."

With the Cardinals' multi-offensive threat Terry Metcalf sidelined with a painful hip bruise, Otis assumed the bulk of the attack, bucking and bulling his way through a Bear defensive line that was geared to cutting off quarteback Jim Hart's explosive passing threat.

He scored touchdowns on rushes of 1 and 2 yards and occasionaly broke a long gainer, including a 30-yard romp that was the longest of Otis' six-year career.

Hart hit on a 16-yard scoring pass to Steve Jones—Metcalfe's replacement in the backfield. Jones scored on a two-yard run and Jim Bakken kicked field goals of 40 and 29 yards to pile up a 34-0 lead before the Bears gave their rain-soaked partisans three touchdowns to cheer about in the fourth quarter.

"We're a team-play oriented club," said Otis. "The wide receivers open up the running game and we like to think we backs open up the passing game. Our offensive line never quits and that's how I got my thousand yards."

The win puts the Cardinals, 10-3, in the NFC playoffs against the western division champion Rams at Los Angeles.

"All of us just got tired of hearing last year was a fluke," said Dan Dierdorf, an offensive tackle who is one of the lineman that helped Otis to his rushing mark. "We got tired of hearing we were a cinderella team. We came out this year to prove it was no fluke and we deserve the title."

Coach Dan Coryell, architect of the back-to-back division titles, was so elated that he down-played loss of the home advantage to Los Angeles.

"We're so happy to be in the playoffs again, we'll play anywhere," Coryell said. "Up to now, I haven't had time to think about it. We were worried about Chicago, afraid there might be a letdown but there wasn't."

That is, until the final 15 minutes. With the game out of reach, rookie Bear quarterback Bob Avellini hit Bob Grimm on a 24-yard touchdown pass, Walter Payton scampered from the 10 for another score and a few minutes later Avellini hit Bo Rather on a short outside pattern and Rather sidestepped tackles enroute to a 48-yard touchdown.

"I was pleased we didn't give up," said Bears coach Jack Pardee.

He said that without some key Bear penalties and two dropped passes the Bears could have been in the game at halftime instead of trailing 17-0.

The Bears, now 3-10, have been plagued by such mistakess all season and share last place in the NFC Central Division with the Green Bay Packers.

"You can't make any mistakes with a team like the Cardinals," said Pardee. "Without them, it could have been 17-14 at halftime."

Bears defensive captain Doug Buffone said his game plan was to try to cut off the passing of Hart, who completed 9 of 19 tosses—below his 53 per cent completion rate on the season.

"Against the Cardinals, you've got to play pass defense and that really opens up the running," said Buffone.

Earn Playoff Edge In Victory Over Dolphins

Miracle Colts OT Winner

From Associated Press

It was a drive that typified Baltimore's entire season. It was a long, long one, filled with a few clutch plays and a few bizarre plays — and it was a successful one.

"I knew we had a long way to go," Coach Ted Marchibroda said Sunday after his miracle Colts, buried on their own four-yard line in overtime, clawed their way across the field and into position for Toni Linhart's sudden-death 31-yard field goal that beat Miami 10-7.

"That's the kind of team we have," Marchibroda said of his scrappy band of Cinderellas, who have risen from a disastrous 2-12 National Football League season in 1974 to 9-4, within one victory of a divisional championship and playoff berth in 1975. "They've been doing what they've had to do all season long."

And he called the triumph "without a doubt the greatest I've ever had — all the way back to high school."

The victory threw first place in the American Conference's East Division into a flat-footed tie — but one in which the Colts have their best foot forward. Since they've beaten Miami in both meetings this year, all they need is another victory next Sunday against New England to take the title, regardless of what the Dolphins do Saturday against Denver.

"The Colts deserved to win," Miami Coach Don Shula said matter-of-factly. "They had what it took in the overtime and came up with big plays during the final drive. We had the opportunity to win throughout the game, but we couldn't come up with big plays."

In Sunday's other games, St. Louis locked up the National Conference East title and relegated division runner-up Dallas to the NFC wild-card spot with a 34-20 victory over Chicago, Los Angeles beat Green Bay 22-5, Houston edged Oakland 27-26, Detroit surprised Minnesota 17-10, Atlanta whipped San Francisco 31-9, Cleveland clobbered Kansas City 40-14, Denver downed Philadelphia 25-10, Buffalo belted New England 34-14 and the New York Giants beat New Orleans 28-14.

On Saturday, Dallas dropped Washington out of the playoffs by routing the Redskins 31-10 and Pittsburgh won the AFC Central title by clouting Cincinnati 35-14. The New York Jets are at San Diego tonight.

The Colts, completely rebuilt since winning the 1971 Super Bowl, tied the score 7-7 on a six-yard touchdown run by Lydell Mitchell with 5:30 remaining in regulation time, then launched their winning drive following Larry Seiple's coffin-corner punt.

They converted three third-down plays on the drive and quarterback Bert Jones, playing with injured ribs, completed four consecutive passes for 45 yards. Miami scored its touchdown in the third quarter on a three-yard run by Mercury Morris.

Tom Dempsey booted field goals of 40, 39 and 38 yards and Ron Jaworski completed 15 of 24 passes for 174 yards in place of injured James Harris to lead Los Angeles past the Packers.

Dan Pastorini's two-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mack Alston on the final play of the game and Skip Butler's extra point gave Houston its victory over the Raiders.

George Blanda had one of the roughest days in his 26-year career. He missed an extra point attempt, had another blocked and missed a 27-yard field-goal attempt in the fourth quarter.

"It was almost like he handed me the ball it was so perfect," Alfred Jenkins said of his 20-yard and 63-yard touchdown passes from rookie Steve Bartkowski in the Falcons' rout of San Francisco. Bartkowski completed seven passes to Jenkins for 147 yards.

Greg Pruitt rushed for 214 yards and three touchdowns and joined Jim Brown and Leroy Kelly as the only Browns to surpass 1,000 yards in a season.

"Now we are in the playoffs and we'll play anybody ... tomorrow if necessary," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry after Saturday's rout of Washington. It was supposed to be a rebuilding year for the Cowboys.

Roger Staubach passed for two touchdowns and ran for one. The Redskins' hopes were dashed when quarterback Bill Kilmer, who went into the showdown game with a bad shoulder and a broken bone in his left foot, suffered another shoulder separation and an injury to his passing hand.

Franco Harris rushed for 118 yards and a pair of touchdowns and Terry Bradshaw passed for one and ran for another in Pittsburgh's Saturday rout of Cincinnati.

Denver's Floyd Little, playing at home for the final time in his brilliant nine-year pro career, raced 66 yards with a third-quarter screen pass and ran for another touchdown in the closing minutes to carry the Broncos past Philadelphia.

O.J. Simpson ran for 185 yards and scored his 21st touchdown of the season while Jim Braxton plunged for a pair of scores to lead Buffalo over the Patriots. Simpson surpassed the 8,000-yard mark in career rushing and has 1,760 for the year.

Rondy Colbert's 65-yard punt return for a touchdown, Doug Kotar's 46-yard run for another score and Craig Morton's 45-yard TD pass to Ray Rhodes boosted the Giants past New Orleans.

COLT GAINER: Baltimore Colts' wide receiver Glenn Doughty of Michigan (35) takes the ball for a 10-yard gain and a Colt first down in their home game with Miami Sunday. Doughty broke free of Dolphins' Jerris White (41) and Jake Scott (13), picking up another three yards. The Colts won the overtime thriller 10-7. (AP Wirephoto)

Lions Thwart Tarkenton's Record Bid, Down Vikings

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Writer

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Fran Tarkenton probably said it best: "They're out of it and could have rolled over and died, but they didn't."

Indeed, the Detroit Lions, of whom Minnesota quarterback Tarkenton was speaking, played Sunday as if they were going to be in the National Football League playoffs.

And apparently, they weren't concerned the Vikings had won 11 and lost only one game this season and had beaten Detroit 14 times in their last 15 meetings.

The Lions were fired up and, with the help of three key defensive plays, beat their National Conference Central Division rival 17-10 before a Pontiac Stadium crowd of 73,130 and a national television audience.

"They won their 'Super Bowl', now let's get ours," shouted a Viking as Minnesota filed through the tunnel to the locker room afterwards. And, Tarkenton stressed Saturday's game against Buffalo is a must-win situation, as it determines who will have the home-field advantage in the post-season playoffs.

Tarkenton was thwarted in his bid to tie Johnny Unitas' career touchdown passing record of 290. Unitas was the color commentator for CBS at the game and watched as Detroit sacked Tarkenton four times and intercepted two of his passes. Detroit also recovered a Minnesota fumble at the Lions' three.

The first Viking turnover was an interception by cornerback Levi Johnson at the goal line early in the first quarter. It occurred after Minnesota had marched toward a potential score after an interception by safety Paul Krause.

Johnson returned his pickoff 45 yards and then quarterback Joe Reed drove the Lions 55 yards in 10 plays, climaxed by an eight-yard touchdown pass to Marlin Briscoe.

The Lions again stunned the Vikes when Errol Mann booted an on-side kickoff after the TD and Detroit's Ed O'Neil recovered. Three plays later, Detroit led by two touchdowns as Bobby Thompson burst through a gaping hole off right tackle for a 46-yard run. His gallop was the longest by a Lion for a score since 1973.

"You can't lollygag with the Vikings and we decided to go at 'em right away," Lions Coach Rick Forzano said of the bold on-side kick — a tactic generally saved for the closing seconds of lost causes. "We decided about this in practice and worked on it.

"When you beat the champions you get more and more confidence, which we're striving for for next year."

Not to be outdone, the Vikings were successful with an on-side kick of their own in the second quarter after Fred Cox's 39-yard field goal. Pete Athas recovered and a personal foul against Jim Mitchell of Detroit gave Minnesota the ball at the Lion 32. But substitute safety Mike Weger stymied that drive by intercepting Tarkenton at Cox's field goal came nine plays after Krause picked off his second Reed pass. The interception gave Krause a club record, 10 for the year and 74 for his career, just five behind the NFL record.

Krause gave the Vikings their lone touchdown after Wally Hilgenberg recovered a fumble and shoveled the ball to Krause, who raced for an 86-yard score in the third quarter. Linebacker Hilgenberg, like Krause a former University of Iowa star, scooped up the Reed fumble and ran 16 yards before pitching to the swifter Krause, who was untouched for 70 yards.

Moments earlier, Detroit cornerback Lem Barney recovered Robert Miller's fumble at the

Otis Bulls St. Louis Past Bears To Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Workhorse Jim Otis crashed the 1,000-yard barrier and the St. Louis Cardinals finally may have shucked their cinderella image in clinching their second consecutive eastern division title in the National Football Conference.

Otis bulled his way 33 times for 147 yards, including two touchdowns, in anchoring a St. Louis offense that rolled to a decisive 34-20 drubbing of the hapless Chicago Bears on Sunday.

"Now I know what it feels like," said Otis after his game total put him at 1,007 yards for the season. "It takes a great offensive line, geat blocking and great wide receivers."

Jones scored on a two-yard run and Jim Bakken kicked field goals of 40 and 29 yards to pile up a 34-0 lead before the Bears gave their rain-soaked partisans three touchdowns to cheer about in the fourth quarter.

"We're a team-play oriented club," said Otis. "The wide receivers open up the running game and we like to think we backs open up the passing game. Our offensive line never quits and that's how I got my thousand yards."

The win puts the Cardinals, 10-3, in the NFC playoffs against the western division champion Rams at Los Angeles.

"All of us just got tired of hearing last year was a fluke," said Dan Dierdorf, an offensive tackle who is one of the lineman that helped Otis to his rushing mark. "We got tired of hearing we were a cinderella team. We came out this year to prove it was no fluke and we deserve the title."

Coach Dan Coryell, architect of the back-to-back division titles, was so elated that he down-played loss of the home advantage to Los Angeles.

"We're so happy to be in the playoffs again, we'll play anywhere," Coryell said. "Up to now, I haven't had time to think about it. We were worried about Chicago, afraid there might be a letdown but there wasn't."

Bears defensive captain Doug Buffone said his game plan was to try to cut off the passing of Hart, who completed 9 of 19 tosses—below his 53 per cent completion rate on the season.

"Against the Cardinals, you've got to play pass defense and that really opens up the running," said Buffone.

Marquette Celebrates Northern Michigan Championship

Mayor Names Day For Victorious Gridders

By HARRY ATKINS
Associated Press Writer

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Today is "Northern Michigan Wildcat Day" in this jubilant Upper Peninsula city. And judging from the ear-to-ear grins on the wind-swept streets, the warm feeling may last all winter.

Northern won the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II football title Saturday with a 16-14 victory over Western Kentucky in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif.

"It's very exciting," Mayor Holly Greer said as she named the "day" for the victorious gridders. "I taught some of those players when they were freshmen and were doing nothing but losing. I think this championship is good for them and good for the town. I'm just delighted for them."

Mrs. Greer is a typical example of the closeness between this thriving city on Lake Superior's southern shore and the university it holds so dear. She works fulltime as director of the university's Women's Center but still finds time to be mayor.

She was among the thousands of townspeople who jammed the airport Sunday night to welcome home the conquering heros.

The rough landing was delayed several times because high winds were whipping up a blizzard of snow on the airfield. But not even a wind-chill factor of 25 below could put a chill into the spirits of the screaming throng.

"The plane has landed, but I think that team is still circling," one happy student said. "Those guys are so happy they won't come down for two weeks."

The plane carrying the school band wasn't scheduled to return until today, but an alert airport official had the Wildcat fight song blaring from the airport's public address system.

"The championship game was just like the whole season," Coach Gil Krueger said as he stepped off the plane. "Right down to the last minute."

The Wildcats' national championship caps one of the greatest Cinderella stories of all time. Northern lost all 10 of its games last year, Krueger's first as head coach. But the club finished this season with 13 victories and only a single defeat.

The Cinderella angle didn't escape the Golden Wildcats, a local boosters club. They presented Krueger with a plaque upon which was mounted a glass slipper.

"When I interviewed Gil Krueger for the job two years ago, he promised me that if he was hired he would bring Northern a winner in four years," said Dr. John Jamrich, president of NMU. "He did it in two."

The excitment that has gripped the community the past two weeks was aptly summed up by Rocky Sisson, a recent NMU graduate: "I don't think there's a fingernail left in Marquette."

The giant celebration really started Saturday afternoon, the moment the game ended.

Dan Voorhees, a senior from Hillsdale, said he watched the game on television with about a dozen of his Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity brothers.

"There was so much screaming you could hardly hear the game," Voorhees said. "And then when it was over everybody headed out to celebrate. It was a good night. A happy night, too."

Final exams began at Northern today. And, somehow, there was a feeling that nobody would fail.

'Never Thought We Would Lose'--Mitchell

Wildcats Cinderella Winners

By BOB EGELKO
AP Sports Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — When a football team goes winless one year and 13-1 the next, an 11-point deficit in the championship game seems hardly worth worrying about.

"I never thought we would lose because last year we were 0-10 and this year we were down just about every game going into the last quarter." Those were the words of Northern Michigan flanker Maurice Mitchell, from Bangor, after the Wildcats wound up an improbable comeback season by rallying to defeat Western Kentucky 16-14 in the Camellia Bowl.

By all rights, the Wildcats shouldn't even have been close in Saturday's final of the NCAA's eight-team Division II playoffs.

The favored Hilltoppers turned loose a punishing I-formation attack that ground out 302 yards rushing, more than twice Northern Michigan's total.

Behind blocking that seemed to push the Northerners back two yards at each snap, tailback Lawrence Jefferson scampered for 161 yards and fullback Arnold Snardon plunged for 110.

Meanwhile, the Hilltoppers' touted defense was holding Wildcats rushing star Stu Betts to 22 yards and harassing Steve Mariucci into a 5-for-14 passing day.

Someone handed Hilltopper Coach Jimmy Feix a statistics sheet in the locker room, and Feix drawled, "It looks like we won."

But Western Kentucky slipped twice, fatally.

First, with the Hilltoppers leading 14-3 in the second quarter, Mariucci lofted a long pass into a stiff wind. Rick Caswell turned to intercept the underthrown ball — and fell down.

Mitchell grabbed the pass and raced in for a 49-yard touchdown that cut the Wildcats' deficit to 14-10 at the half.

"He tried to stop with me on a dime and his feet got tangled up," explained Mitchell. Then Northern Michigan opened the second half with a line plunge by Don Awrey. It was the same kind of play the Hilltoppers had smeared in the first half, when they held the Wildcats to 34 yards rushing.

Only this time, Awrey slid off a couple of tackles and suddenly was running free on a 67-yard touchdown gallop.

"We were trying to tackle the ball and he just kept bounding and bouncing and finally broke to the clear," said linebacker Rick Green, who otherwise lived up to his Little All-American status by making tackles all over the field.

Awrey, who wound up with 111 yards on 11 carries against a defense that had yielded 58 yards per game on the ground, said he thought he was stopped at the line on the touchdown run.

"I don't think their linebackers reacted quickly enough," the sophomore added.

Western Kentucky, stymied in the third quarter, reasserted itself in the fourth quarter and drove from its 17 to the Northern Michigan eight before stalling.

Then Barry Henry's 25-yard field goal try sailed a few inches to the left of the goal post. Feix said he thought the kick was good, but noted:

"The referee was right in position. He sprinted over to where he had a good view of the post."

Ford Salutes NMU Grid Champions

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — President Ford, a Michigan football star in college, had words of congratulation for another school from his home state Saturday after Northern Michigan won the national small-college football title.

"He said he watched last week's game and this week's and told me it was a typical Michigan team that never gave up," said Coach Gil Krueger after the five-minute telephone conversation with Ford in the NMU locker room.

Northern Michigan won the NCAA Division II championship by defeating Western Kentucky 16-14 in the Camellia Bowl.

Broncos For Real In Victory Over MSU

Hubbard Sparks Michigan; Wisconsin Stays Unbeaten

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State basketball coach Gus Ganakas had heard Western Michigan was putting together a good team this season.

Saturday he found out just how good as Western handed the Spartans a solid 78-68 setback before a packed house of 8,600 Western fans.

"I knew Western was a very solid team," Ganakas said after the game. "They used all their talent well."

The win by Western was its first win over MSU in nine years and gives the Broncos their best start (5-0) since 1946-47. MSU's Terry Furlow scored 30 points but it wasn't enough to curb the Broncos.

In other Big Ten games, Ohio State won its first game of the season Saturday with a 90-72 victory over Vermont. Wisconsin downed Northern Michigan 90-72 and Michigan beat Dayton 106-80. Providence rallied after a dismal first half to beat Purdue 66-59 and Southern California nipped Illinois 62-58.

Jeff Tyson led Western Michigan's balanced scoring attack with 20 points as five of eight players scored in double figures.

A jubilant Western Michigan coach Eldon Miller said, "This is one of our biggest victories ever."

The Spartans led much of the first half, but at the intermission the score was a competitive 36-34. Then Westen broke out with a 49-40 spurt. The Spartans tied it at 50-50, but WMU went on another rampage, scoring 11 points and breaking open the margin to 61-50. MSU got no closer than six after that.

The Buckeye's scored their first victory in three starts as Craig Taylor earned 23 points and Terry Burris scored a career-high 17 points in a reserve role. Ohio State romped to a 36-12 lead in the first 12 minutes of the game and never trailed although Vermont rallied to cut the gap to five points on four occasions during the second half.

Michigan's Phil Hubbard celebrated his 19th birthday by garnering 19 points to lead Michigan (3-1) to 106-80 victory over Dayton.

"Phil gave us a little dribbling exhibition today. We thought we had C.J. Kopec back," said Michigan Coach Johnny Orr.

Hubbard also grabbed 17 rebounds as the 18th-ranked Wolverines recorded their 27th home victory in the last 28 games.

Six Michigan players hit for double figure scores against Dayton although Dayton's guard Johnny Davis topped all scorers with 25 points.

Undefeated Wisconsin (5-0) jumped to a 20-0 lead against Northern Michigan and was never challenged as it racked up a 92-59 victory.

Northern Michigan's high scorer, Dino Conley, who has been averaging 20.5 points a game, was held to only five points during the first half, but during the second half he found his range and ended up with 23 points. Ten Providence trailed the entire first half but took the lead early in the second period from (2-3) and widened the gap to as much as ten points. Providence sophomore Bruce Campbell scored 23 points, 19 in the second half, to spur Providence to its 66-59 triumph at Indianapolis.

Purdue's top scorer was freshan Kyle Macy, a 6-3 guard, who tipped in 15 points.

Illinois (5-2) lost to Southern California 62-58 with some sharp free throw shooting by Bob Trowbridge, who held off an Illinois rally in the closing minutes.

Southern California was ahead 59-58 when Trowbridge hit for two free throws with 1:01 left to play. Junior guard Marv Safford was high scorer for the Trojans with 22 points. Ortho Tucker was Illinois's leader with 16 points.

Top-ranked Indiana faces Kentucky tonight in the only game involving a Big Ten team. The undefeated Hoosiers will be seeking revenge for the embarrassment they suffered last year in the NCAA playoffs when Kentucky beat them 92-90 for Indiana's only loss of the year.

Wisconsin plays Marquette Tuesday and MSU faces Northern Michigan. Wednesday pits Ohio State against Toledo.

Marquette Celebrates Northern Michigan Championship

Mayor Names Day For Victorious Gridders

By HARRY ATKINS
Associated Press Writer

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Today is "Northern Michigan Wildcat Day" in this jubilant Upper Peninsula city. And judging from the ear-to-ear grins on the wind-swept streets, the warm feeling may last all winter.

Northern won the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II football title Saturday with a 16-14 victory over Western Kentucky in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif.

"It's very exciting," Mayor Holly Greer said as she named the "day" for the victorious gridders. "I taught some of those players when they were freshmen and were doing nothing but losing. I think this championship is good for them and good for the town. I'm just delighted for them."

Mrs. Greer is a typical example of the closeness between this thriving city on Lake Superior's southern shore and the university it holds so dear. She works fulltime as director of the university's Women's Center but still finds time to be mayor.

She was among the thousands of townspeople who jammed the airport Sunday night to welcome home the conquering heros.

The rough landing was delayed several times because high winds were whipping up a blizzard of snow on the airfield. But not even a wind-chill factor of 25 below could put a chill into the spirits of the screaming throng.

"The plane has landed, but I think that team is still circling," one happy student said. "Those guys are so happy they won't come down for two weeks."

The plane carrying the school band wasn't scheduled to return until today, but an alert airport official had the Wildcat fight song blaring from the airport's public address system.

"The championship game was just like the whole season," Coach Gil Krueger said as he stepped off the plane. "Right down to the last minute."

The Wildcats' national championship caps one of the greatest Cinderella stories of all time. Northern lost all 10 of its games last year, Krueger's first as head coach. But the club finished this season with 13 victories and only a single defeat.

The Cinderella angle didn't escape the Golden Wildcats, a local boosters club. They presented Krueger with a plaque upon which was mounted a glass slipper.

"When I interviewed Gil Krueger for the job two years ago, he promised me that if he was hired he would bring Northern a winner in four years," said Dr. John Jamrich, president of NMU. "He did it in two."

The excitment that has gripped the community the past two weeks was aptly summed up by Rocky Sisson, a recent NMU graduate: "I don't think there's a fingernail left in Marquette."

The giant celebration really started Saturday afternoon, the moment the game ended.

Dan Voorhees, a senior from Hillsdale, said he watched the game on television with about a dozen of his Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity brothers.

"There was so much screaming you could hardly hear the game," Voorhees said. "And then when it was over everybody headed out to celebrate. It was a good night. A happy night, too."

Final exams began at Northern today. And, somehow, there was a feeling that nobody would fail.

'Never Thought We Would Lose'--Mitchell

Wildcats Cinderella Winners

By BOB EGELKO

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — When a football team goes winless one year and 13-1 the next, an 11-point deficit in the championship game seems hardly worth worrying about.

"I never thought we would lose because last year we were 0-10 and this year we were down just about every game going into the last quarter." Those were the words of Northern Michigan flanker Maurice Mitchell, from Bangor, after the Wildcats wound up an improbable comeback season by rallying to defeat Western Kentucky 16-14 in the Camellia Bowl.

By all rights, the Wildcats shouldn't even have been close in Saturday's final of the NCAA's eight-team Division II playoffs.

The favored Hilltoppers turned loose a punishing I-formation attack that ground out 302 yards rushing, more than twice Northern Michigan's total.

Behind blocking that seemed to push the Northerners back two yards at each snap, tailback Lawrence Jefferson scampered for 161 yards and fullback Arnold Snardon plunged for 110.

Meanwhile, the Hilltoppers' touted defense was holding Wildcats rushing star Stu Betts to 22 yards and harassing Steve Mariucci into a 5-for-14 passing day.

Someone handed Hilltopper Coach Jimmy Feix a statistics sheet in the locker room, and Feix drawled, "It looks like we won."

But Western Kentucky slipped twice, fatally.

First, with the Hilltoppers leading 14-3 in the second quarter, Mariucci lofted a long pass into a stiff wind. Rick Caswell turned to intercept the underthrown ball — and fell down.

Mitchell grabbed the pass and raced in for a 49-yard touchdown that cut the Wildcats' deficit to 14-10 at the half.

"He tried to stop with me on a dime and his feet got tangled up," explained Mitchell. Then Northern Michigan opened the second half with a line plunge by Don Awrey. It was the same kind of play the Hilltoppers had smeared in the first half, when they held the Wildcats to 34 yards rushing.

Only this time, Awrey slid off a couple of tackles and suddenly was running free on a 67-yard touchdown gallop.

"We were trying to tackle the ball and he just kept bounding and bouncing and finally broke to the clear," said linebacker Rick Green, who otherwise lived up to his Little All-American status by making tackles all over the field.

Awrey, who wound up with 111 yards on 11 carries against a defense that had yielded 58 yards per game on the ground, said he thought he was stopped at the line on the touchdown run.

"I don't think their linebackers reacted quickly enough," the sophomore added.

Western Kentucky, stymied in the third quarter, reasserted itself in the fourth quarter and drove from its 17 to the Northern Michigan eight before stalling.

Then Barry Henry's 25-yard field goal try sailed a few inches to the left of the goal post. Feix said he thought the kick was good, but noted:

"The referee was right in position. He sprinted over to where he had a good view of the post."

Broncos For Real In Victory Over MSU

Hubbard Sparks Michigan; Wisconsin Stays Unbeaten

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State basketball coach Gus Ganakas had heard Western Michigan was putting together a good team this season.

Saturday he found out just how good as Western handed the Spartans a solid 78-68 setback before a packed house of 9,600 Western fans.

"I knew Western was a very solid team," Ganakas said after the game. "They used all their talent well."

The win by Western was its first win over MSU in nine years and gives the Broncos their best start (5-0) since 1946-47. MSU's Terry Furlow scored 30 points but it wasn't enough to curb the Broncos.

In other Big Ten games, Ohio State won its first game of the season Saturday with a 90-72 victory over Vermont. Wisconsin downed Northern Michigan 90-72 and Michigan beat Dayton 106-80. Providence rallied after a dismal first half to beat Purdue 66-59 and Southern California nipped Illinois 62-58.

Jeff Tyson led Western Michigan's balanced scoring attack with 20 points as five of eight players scored in double figures.

A jubilant Western Michigan coach Eldon Miller said, "This is one of our biggest victories ever."

The Spartans led much of the first half, but at the intermission the score was a competitive 36-34. Then Westen broke out with a 49-40 spurt. The Spartans tied it at 50-50, but WMU went on another rampage, scoring 11 points and breaking open the margin to 61-50. MSU got no closer than six after that.

Ohio State romped to a 36-12 lead in the first 12 minutes of the game and never trailed although Vermont rallied to cut the gap to five points on four occasions during the second half.

Michigan's Phil Hubbard celebrated his 19th birthday by garnering 19 points to lead Michigan (3-1) to 106-80 victory over Dayton.

"Phil gave us a little dribbling exhibition today. We thought we had C.J. Kopec back," said Michigan Coach Johnny Orr.

Hubbard also grabbed 17 rebounds as the 18th-ranked Wolverines recorded their 27th home victory in the last 28 games.

Six Michigan players hit for double figure scores against Dayton although Dayton's guard Johnny Davis topped all scorers with 25 points.

Undefeated Wisconsin (5-0) jumped to a 20-0 lead against Northern Michigan and was never challenged as it racked up a 92-59 victory.

Northern Michigan's high scorer, Dino Conley, who has been averaging 20.5 points a game, was held to only five points during the first half, but during the second half he found his range and ended up with 23 points. Ten Providence trailed the entire first half but took the lead early in the second period from (2-3) and widened the gap to as much as ten points. Providence sophomore Bruce Campbell scored 23 points, 19 in the second half, to spur Providence to its 66-59 triumph at Indianapolis.

Purdue's top scorer was freshan Kyle Macy, a 6-3 guard who tipped in 15 points.

Illinois (5-2) lost to Southern California 62-58 with some sharp free throw shooting by Bob Trowbridge, who held off an Illinois rally in the closing minutes.

Southern California was ahead 59-58 when Trowbridge hit for two free throws with 1:01 left to play. Junior guard Marv Safford was high scorer for the Trojans with 22 points. Ortho Tucker was Illinois's leader with 16 points.

Ford Salutes NMU Grid Champions

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — President Ford, a Michigan football star in college, had words of congratulation for another school from his home state Saturday after Northern Michigan won the national small-college football title.

"He said he watched last week's game and this week's and told me it was a typical Michigan team that never gave up," said Coach Gil Krueger after the five-minute telephone conversation with Ford in the NMU locker room.

Northern Michigan won the NCAA Division II championship by defeating Western Kentucky 16-14 in the Camellia Bowl.

Lakers Give Nixon Birthday Win

Coach Al Nixon got the birthday present he most wanted from his Lake Michigan Catholic basketball team.

The Red Arrow conference's leading team had four men score in double figures as the Lakers crushed winless Coloma 85-59 in a non-conference game played in the Lakers' gym Saturday night.

The Lakers are now 4-1 overall while the Comets slip to 0-5.

Don Altic did his usually superb job of coming off the bench to spark the win. The senior led all scorers with 19 points, 11 of them coming in the first half. Other Lakers in double figures included Steve Gentry, Tom Flood and Bill Frantz who each scored 12 points.

Coloma was led by Joe Jones with 17 points. Gregg Woodward had 12 and Dennis Nitz 12 as the Comets' other double figures scorers.

The contest didn't start out like the rout it ended up being. The Lakers moved out to an 18-8 lead midway through the initial stanza but the Comets got their fast break going and only trailed 20-19 after the first quarter.

Coloma kept the pressure up until the last minutes of the half when Catholic notched seven straight points to lead at the intermission 40-30. "They were just beating us downcourt everytime," Nixon said. "We did a little soul-searching at halftime."

Catholic obviously found what it was searching for as the Lakers outscored the hapless Comets, 24-15 in the third quarter to put the game away.

"What killed us was our ballhandling," said Comets' head coach Sam Wright. "That and we just quit hustling.

"This has been our worst performance of the year," he added. "This was one of those nights where we shouldn't have been in the gym."

Although his team didn't play that well, Wright had to be encouraged by the performance of Jones and Woodward. Jones was the leader of the running game; scoring five of his eight field goals on fast break layups.

Woodward helped keep the Comets keep close in the first half as he scored nine points. He also led his team in rebounding by pulling down 14.

As a team, Coloma shot 37 per cent, making 26 of 69 tries from the floor. The turnovers really hampered the Comets as they made 25 miscues.

One of the reasons Catholic was able to dominate the second half was the play of Bill Frantz. After a lackluster first half which saw him spend a lot of time on the pine, Frantz came back to snare eight of his 10 rebounds and score seven points in the last half.

"Frantz really started picking up in the second half," said Nixon. "We have to have him playing for us to win."

Catholic had a good night shooting, hitting 31 of 69 tries for 45 per cent. The Lakers also cut their turnovers down to 13.

The Lakers junior varsity came up with a 66-61 win. Don Arndt of Coloma led all scorers with 20 points while Clancy Rose had 17 to lead Catholic.

Holy Rosary Girls Champ

Win Streak Extended To 48 Straight

KENTWOOD, Mich. (AP) — It may not be a record, but Flint Holy Rosary's girl's basketball squad showed true championship qualities by winning its 48th consecutive game — and the Class D Michigan High School girl's roundball championship.

Holy Rosary was joined in the champion category in weekend competition by Detroit Northeastern in Class A, Warren Woods in B and Gladwin in C.

Holy Rosary's winning effort was sparked by Sandra Histed and Patricia Bentoski, who each scored 12 points to top previously unbeaten Allendale, 45-32.

Flint hit 41 per cent from the field goal while the ice-cold Allendale cagers could manage but 21 per cent. Ruth Crowe led Allendale with 14 points and Jan Ossewaarde and Sharon Rotman each pulled down 15 rebounds.

Holy Rosary Coach Jo Lake, who started the team in 1972, referred to her club's experience in the winning effort.

"We had four starting seniors in today's lineup, that's why it was such an emotional contest," she said.

In Class A, it was Helen Williams' 31 points that led Detroit Northeastern to a its 67-62 victory over Farmington Our Lady of Mercy. Sheila Williams added 20 points for the winners while the losers were paced by Judeen Bartos with 21 points.

Our Lady led 30-28 at the half, but Detroit Northeastern built a 24-17 advantage in the third quarter and held on to win.

In Class B, Deb Waschewski scored 15 points and Katherine Bieniek added 11 as Warren Woods edged Tecumseh 46-43.

Tecumseh, last year's champ, was led by Susie Brown with 16 points and Melinda Ternak with 14.

Woods held a 27-24 halftime advantage but fell behind repeatedly in the second half as the lead see-sawed. Tecumseh had a chance to win with 17 seconds left when it trailed 45-43 but missed two free throws and a tip-in. Warren Woods added a foul shot to ice the triumph.

The Class C victory by Gladwin got its impetus from an 18-point performance by Lisa Woods, who led her team to a 48-33 victory over Hopkins.

Kathy Flynn and Julie Randal each added 10 in the easy win, wich saw Gladwin lead 22-11 at the half and hold on.

Hopkins' best efforts were from Karen Caywood and Sue Maher who each had 10 points.

Gladwin finished 24-1 for the season, while Hopkins is 18-5.

"We tried to get all the 'A' and 'B' competition we could and it toughened us up," said Gladwin Coach Ruth Ann Joslin. Her record after eight years of coaching is a fine 110-10.

Kooy Sparks Galien Rout

GALIEN — Don Kooy obviously didn't mind the extra day of rest he got this week.

The 6-2 senior and his Galien teammates had their Friday night game with Hartford cancelled because of the inclement weather. So Saturday night Kooy notched 30 points, going 15 for 19 from thee floor, and pulled down 21 rebounds as the Gaels blasted Westville, Ind. 81-52 here Saturday night.

"We just strictly outran and outhustled them on offense and defense," grinned Galien's head cage coach Mike Heckathorn. "We really came out and played ball."

Westville knew it was in for a long night right from the start as the Gaels ran up a 22-4 score after the first quarter. "We used a 2-2-1 zone press and they just couldn't handle it," remarked Heckathorn.

Kooy started the Gaels on the way to their third win in four games by scoring the first to their eight points of the game, all by grabbing rebounds and putting them in.

Beside Kooy's 30 points, Dale Luther added 19 points and Craig Schau had 11 for Galien.

Westville was led by Rick Wozniak who had 15 points and Mark Sosh added 10 points.

The Gaels had a good night from the floor, meshing 35 of 74 attempts for 47 per cent. Westville hit 38 per cent, making 23 of 61 tries from the floor.

In the turnovers department, Galien had 22 while Westville had 20. "Most of them came when we led people to far with fast break passes," Heckathorn said.

Rick Busher added nine rebounds to Kooy's 21 as the Gaels pulled down 51 boards to Westville's 22.

Westville won the junior varsity constest 55-36. Steve Walker of Westville led all scorers with 19 points while Otto Parson had 10 for the Gaels.

College Basketball 'Animals' Get Rough Treatment

From Associated Press

The "animals" were treated unkindly in college basketball over the weekend. Such creatures as Bulldogs and Jackrabbits were shot down.

But the biggest loss was a bird — more precisely a Louisville Cardinal.

The Cardinals, ranked sixth in the country and a big favorite over DePaul at home, fell behind by 16 points and never caught up while losing a 78-76 stunner.

"We have one of the best offenses in basketball," said DePaul Coach Ray Meyer, "but we lost our poise when we let that 16-point lead slip away. You can't lose your poise and expect to win in the big time.

"I knew if we retained our poise, we'd win. And we did."

The Redbirds looked like dead birds when trailing 30-14 in the first half. But Louisville chopped off most of the heavy DePaul lead behind Rick Wilson and finally soared within 72-68 with five minutes left.

The Cards cut the lead to 78-74 with 1:51 remaining, but that was the closest they got. Their last chance evaporated with three seconds remaining when a court-length pass sailed out of bounds. Dave Corzine scored 17 points, including a crucial basket in the last five minutes, handed out 13 assists and blocked four shots for the winners.

Elsewhere, third-ranked Marquette routed Drake 80-58; No.7 Tennessee crushed St. Mary's of Halifax, Nova Scotia, 119-70; No. 8 Notre Dame crushed St. Francis, Pa., 103-73; ninth-rated Cincinnati walloped Bowling Green 98-81; 10th-ranked Arizona bested SMU 83-81; No. 12 San Francisco outlasted Hawaii 105-103 in double overtime; 13th-ranked North Carolina State defeated Western Carolina 109-94; No. 14 Kentucky tripped Kansas 54-48; No. 17 Auburn turned back South Florida 79-78; 18th-ranked Michigan routed Dayton 106-80; No. 19 Arizona State nipped Idaho State 82-81, and No. 20 Missouri beat South Dakota State 80-57.

Marquette beat Drake with a high-pressure defense that induced 45 turnovers. The Warriors got 20 points from Lloyd Walton and 19 from Earl Tatum to make pussycats out of the Bulldogs. Walton sank a long jump shot and tapped in a rebound as the Warriors broke open a tight game with 10 successive points for a 45-31 lead early in the second half.

Tennessee's big two — Bernard King and Ernie Grunfeld — combined for 55 points and divided 32 rebounds in the Vols' easy victory over St. Mary's. The victory was the fourth in five games for the Southeastern Conference power.

Adrian Dantley scored 37 points, leading a Notre Dame avalanche over St. Francis. The game was a landmark for Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps — his 100th career victory.

Robert Miller's 17-point first half led Cincinnati past Bowling Green. Miller, a 9.0 point-pergame scorer last season, finished with 23 in leading the Bearcats in scoring for the sixth straight game.

A three-point play by Bob Elliott with 11 seconds left lifted Arizona over SMU. The contest was the second game of the Fiesta Classic doubleheader at Tucson, Ariz. Rick Taylor hit two free throws with six seconds left, giving Arizona State its triumph in the opener.

Kenny Carr's 21 second-half points powered North Carolina State past Western Carolina. Rick Robey scored 21 points, including two quick field goals in the last four minutes, helping Kentucky beat Kansas. The Jayhawks used a freeze to no avail against the brawnier Wildcats.

A desperation last-second shot by Gary Redding gave Auburn a nerve-wrenching triumph over South Florida. Redding's basket came after South Florida's Eddie Davis, the game's high scorer with 30 points, hit a 20-foot jump shot with eight seconds remaining, giving his team a 78-77 lead.

Phil Hubbard led Michigan with 19 points as the Wolverines beat outmanned Dayton. Willie Smith scored 30 points and Missouri held South Dakota State scoreless for eight minutes early in the game en route to beating the Jackrabbits.

In other games, Kent State won the Marshall Invitational Tournament, beating Xavier 79-71; American U. took the Bayou Classic with an 80-71 decision over Southwestern Louisiana; North Texas State trimmed Southern Illinois 86-80 and won the Creighton Classic; St. John's, N.Y., won the Cougar Classic with a 78-65 triumph over Brigham Young, and Utah took the Utah Classic, beating San Diego State 98-89.

O.J.'S AWAY: Buffalo Bills' O.J. Simpson steps high as he slips from the grasp of New England's Roy Hamilton during Sunday's game at Foxboro, Mass. Simpson rushed for 185 yards as the Bills beat the Patriots 34-14. (AP Wirephoto)

Simpson's Future Still Uncertain

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — With one game to go in his seventh season in the National Football League, O.J. Simpson is uncertain of his future.

And everyone is wondering, including his bosses: will one of football's all-time great runners quit to try for a movie career?

"If I have to, I'll buy a movie company," owner Ralph Wilson of the Buffalo Bills said Sunday when asked about the possibility of losing O.J.

After running for 185 yards and his 21st touchdown of the season in the Bills' 34-7 victory over the New England Patriots, the 28-year-old Simpson talked about his future.

"I truly and honestly don't know what I'll do," he said. "I do know I want to be an actor. I feel about acting what I used to feel about football. There's an element of the unknown."

Although he has two years left on his contract with the Bills and his dream of playing in the Super Bowl is unfulfilled, O.J. indicated he would quit football if offered a role in the upcoming movie "Ragtime" and the film is shot during the football season.

"I can retire any time I want," he said. "I've always felt I wanted to play in the Super Bowl and I still do. But if the right thing comes along — well, I think I've proved to everybody I can play football."

"The Super Bowl would be the last piece in O.J.'s puzzle," pal Reggie McKenzie of the Bills said. "But it could be a matter of economics."

"O.J. is the best back I've ever seen," New England Coach Chuck Fairbanks said. "He certainly would be missed in football."

Simpson went over the 8,000-yard mark in career rushing with a 63-yard touchdown run in the third period against the Patriots Sunday. He sat out most of the fourth period with the Bills assured of their eighth victory in 13 games.

Before leaving, O.J. pushed his rushing yardage to 1,760 for the year. That leaves him 243 yards short of his NFL record of 2,003 set in 1973.

One record is well within reach for the former Southern California star. He needs only one touchdown to equal the league mark of 22 scored by Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears in 1965.

SJ Swimmers 6th

BATTLE CREEK — St. Joseph swimmers set a freestyle relay record while finishing sixth in the 16-team Cereal Bowl Relays here Saturday.

Tom Momany, Tom Starks, Fred Danaher and John Worthington set a new St. Joe record in the 400 freestyle relay of 3:25.50 — a time which also qualifies the team for the state Class A meet next March.

The Bear effort broke the old varsity record of 3:26.5 established in 1973 by Tom Smits, John Steeb, Craig Garey and Dave Barlow. The Saturday win is also believed to be the first victory ever by St. Joe in the relays, which is the oldest high school meet of its kind in the nation.

Ann Arbor Pioneer was Saturday's team champion with 79 points. Defending state champion Birmingham Groves followed with 73 while Battle Creek Lakeview had 34, Battle Creek Central and Grosse Point North 32 and St. Joseph 30.

"This is by far and away the best performance I've had a team produce there," commented St. Joe coach Bill Womer.

Other St. Joe points came on a second in the 800 freestyle relay (7:34.67) by Momany, Starks, Danaher and Worthington and efforts by the team of Jeff Porritt, Randy Chinery, Bill Crow and Mike Borre which produced a fourth in the 200 breaststroke (2:07.5) and seventh in the 400 individual medley relay (4:19.39).

St. Joe's next meet is at home at 7 p.m. Thursday against strong East Grand Rapids.

Host Lakeshore Champion In Wrestling Tournament

Lakeshore had to come from behind in the championship round to win the Lakeshore Invitational wrestling tourney held Saturday in the Lancers' gym.

Lakeshore ended with 104½ points while Portage Central was second with 101 points. Third was Muskegon Reeths-Puffer (85½), fourth place went to St. Joseph (66), fifth was Dowagiac (63½), sixth spot went to Loy Norrix (62½) seventh was Coloma (51) and eighth place went to Coldwater (42).

Going into the final round, the Lancers needed to win four of five weight classes to assure them the title. Lakeshore got the four with Doug Smith decisioning Charlie Black of Central 10-5 at 98-pounds, Terry Runge downed Tim Allen of Loy Norrix at 112-pounds 8-1, Tom Rennback at 167-pounds pinned Wally Ismael of Coloma in 1:27 and Mark Krager decisioned Rick Dyer of St. Joseph 12-1 in the 167-pound weight class.

Runge and Rennhack defended titles they won last year. Two other defending champs weren't as lucky. At 119-pounds, Scott Hosnedl of Lakeshore was pinned by Brian Simms of Reeths-Puffer in the semifinals and Chris of Coldwater also lost his semifinal match at 138-pounds to Joe Offet of Lakeshore 9-3.

Two St. Joe grapplers won their weights. Dave Bock decisioned Dale Killarney of Dowagiac 3-2 in the 145-pound class and Dick Goodman beat Tom Barr in the 155-pound class 11-5.

The only other area winner was Jeff VanHusan of Dowagiac who beat Brian Buersema of Reeths-Puffer 8-4 in the 132-pound class.

Tansey Gets 300th Victory

DOWAGIAC — Southwestern Michigan College won its fourth-straight game Saturday night but for coach Jim Tansey the victory was something special.

Tansey gained his 300th triumph in 27 years of coaching when the Roadrunners downed Jackson Community College 81-73 in Western Collegiate conference action played here.

The win, Tansey's 112th at SMC, gives it a 4-0 record in the league and 6-2 overall. Jackson has lost all four conference games and is 2-6 this season.

Jim Powers led a balanced Roadrunner attack with 21 points. Bill Benko added 16, Robin Pflugshaupt scored 15 and Wayne Batteast added 14 points.

Brian Jurasek and Scott DeBoe led Jackson by scoring 14 points apiece. Dennis Heselschwerdt had 12 and Mel Owens and Joe Boertman each notched 10 points.

SMC had good success holding Jurasek, Jackson's leading scorer, down in the first half but DeBoe scored 10 points to lead his squad to a 45-44 halftime margin. "We primarily played a man-to-man defense in the first half to hold Jursask down but then DeBoe hurt us," Tansey said.

SMC switched to a 1-2-2 zone defense in the last half and that did the trick. "With that zone we didn't give them any inside penetration," indicated Tansey.

Pflugshaupt led the Roadrunners' second half charge by scoring 10 points. "Robin has had a bad foot but this was obviously his best game of the season," said Tansey.

The head coach also had had high praise for Benko, who had five steals.

The Roadrunners also used a new offensive set-up for the first time. "We went to a four-corner offense and that made us more patient in the second half," Tansey commented. "We had never run it before."

Davenport College, who beat SMC in the season opener, invades Dowagiac tonight for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Bangor Cooler Triumph Easy

PAW PAW — Bangor Coolers' offensive express continues to roll in the Paw Paw Men's Basketball League.

Lenny Strefling tossed in 25 points Sunday night, helping the Coolers to an easy 117-47 win over Tappers' Oldsmobile.

Bangor, now 15-1 on the season, is averaging 100 points per game. Jack Griffen scored 13 for the losers.

Saginaw Gal Wins

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Kelly Fitzgerald of Saginaw has won the women's slalom and placed second in the giant slalom at the first Mid-America series ski race of the season.

LIONS

Lion three and dashed 74 yards.

"It was an interesting game," said Viking Coach Bud Grant. "It wasn't good critically, but it was a good game for entertainment."

Lions fans roared their approval often and so loudly that the noise reverberating off the fiber-glass domed stadium roof was deafening.

"Detroit fans are like all hungry fans," Grant said. "They're great. They've waited a long time. They wanted their team to win badly."

Forzano said Detroit's performance was a "gut effort" and that "no other team in the NFL has the character of this team."

Injuries have plagued the Lions and a number of them played Sunday despite ailments.

"They played exceptionally well," Tarkenton said. "I think we helped some. We gave them the ball in the end zone and on the two (actually, the three). You do that and you're going to struggle. We just did ourselves in. We had our chances."

Chuck Foreman, Minnesota's star runner who leads the conference in touchdowns, rushing yardage and pass receptions, managed only 24 yards in 14 carries. But that gave him a club record of 985 yards for the season, eclipsing the old mark of 972 set by Dave Osborn in 1967.

Dexter Bussey topped Detroit with 76 yards in 15 carries.

Elsewhere, third-ranked Marquette routed Drake 80-58; No.7 Tennessee crushed St. Mary's of Halifax, Nova Scotia, 119-70; No. 8 Notre Dame crushed St. Francis, Pa., 103-73; ninth-rated Cincinnati walloped Bowling Green 98-81; 10th-ranked Arizona bested SMU 83-81; No. 12 San Francisco outlasted Hawaii 105-103 in double overtime; 13th-ranked North Carolina State defeated Western Carolina 109-94; No. 14 Kentucky tripped Kansas 54-48; No. 17 Auburn turned back South Florida 79-78; 18th-ranked Michigan routed Dayton 106-80; No. 19 Arizona State nipped Idaho State 82-81, and No. 20 Missouri beat South Dakota State 80-57.

Marquette beat Drake with a high-pressure defense that induced 45 turnovers. The Warriors got 20 points from Lloyd Walton and 19 from Earl Tatum to make pussycats out of the Bulldogs. Walton sank a long jump shot and tapped in a rebound as the Warriors broke open a tight game with 10 successive points for a 45-31 lead early in the second half.

Tennessee's big two — Bernard King and Ernie Grunfeld — combined for 55 points and divided 32 rebounds in the Vols' easy victory over St. Mary's. The victory was the fourth in five games for the Southeastern Conference power.

Adrian Dantley scored 37 points, leading a Notre Dame avalanche over St. Francis. The game was a landmark for Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps — his 100th career victory.

Robert Miller's 17-point first half led Cincinnati past Bowling Green. Miller, a 9.0 point-pergame scorer last season, finished with 23 in leading the Bearcats in scoring for the sixth straight game.

A three-point play by Bob Elliott with 11 seconds left lifted Arizona over SMU. The contest was the second game of the Fiesta Classic doubleheader at Tucson, Ariz. Rick Taylor hit two free throws with six seconds left, giving Arizona State its triumph in the opener.

Kenny Carr's 21 second-half points powered North Carolina State past Western Carolina. Rick Robey scored 21 points, including two quick field goals in the last four minutes, helping Kentucky beat Kansas. The Jayhawks used a freeze to no avail against the brawnier Wildcats.

A desperation last-second shot by Gary Redding gave Auburn a nerve-wrenching triumph over South Florida. Redding's basket came after South Florida's Eddie Davis, the game's high scorer with 30 points, hit a 20-foot jump shot with eight seconds remaining, giving his team a 78-77 lead.

Phil Hubbard led Michigan with 19 points as the Wolverines beat outmanned Dayton. Willie Smith scored 30 points and Missouri held South Dakota State scoreless for eight minutes early in the game en route to beating the Jackrabbits.

In other games, Kent State won the Marshall Invitational Tournament, beating Xavier 79-71; American U. took the Bayou Classic with an 80-71 decision over Southwestern Louisiana; North Texas State trimmed Southern Illinois 86-80 and won the Creighton Classic; St. John's, N.Y., won the Cougar Classic with a 78-65 triumph over Brigham Young, and Utah took the Utah Classic, beating San Diego State 98-89.

O.J.'S AWAY: Buffalo Bills' O.J. Simpson steps high as he slips from the grasp of New England's Roy Hamilton during Sunday's game at Foxboro, Mass. Simpson rushed for 185 yards as the Bills beat the Patriots 34-14. (AP Wirephoto)

Simpson's Future Still Uncertain

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — With one game to go in his seventh season in the National Football League, O.J. Simpson is uncertain of his future.

And everyone is wondering, including his bosses: will one of football's all-time great runners quit to try for a movie career?

"If I have to, I'll buy a movie company," owner Ralph Wilson of the Buffalo Bills said Sunday when asked about the possibility of losing O.J.

After running for 185 yards and his 21st touchdown of the season in the Bills' 34-7 victory over the New England Patriots, the 28-year-old Simpson talked about his future.

"I truly and honestly don't know what I'll do," he said. "I do know I want to be an actor. I feel about acting what I used to feel about football. There's an element of the unknown."

Although he has two years left on his contract with the Bills and his dream of playing in the Super Bowl is unfulfilled, O.J. indicated he would quit football if offered a role in the upcoming movie "Ragtime" and the film is shot during the football season.

"I can retire any time I want," he said. "I've always felt I wanted to play in the Super Bowl and I still do. But if the right thing comes along — well, I think I've proved to everybody I can play football."

"The Super Bowl would be the last piece in O.J.'s puzzle," pal Reggie McKenzie of the Bills said. "But it could be a matter of economics."

"O.J. is the best back I've ever seen," New England Coach Chuck Fairbanks said. "He certainly would be missed in football."

Simpson went over the 8,000-yard mark in career rushing with a 63-yard touchdown run in the third period against the Patriots Sunday. He sat out most of the fourth period with the Bills assured of their eighth victory in 13 games.

Before leaving, O.J. pushed his rushing yardage to 1,760 for the year. That leaves him 243 yards short of his NFL record of 2,003 set in 1973.

One record is well within reach for the former Southern California star. He needs only one touchdown to equal the league mark of 22 scored by Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears in 1965.

SJ Swimmers 6th

BATTLE CREEK — St. Joseph swimmers set a freestyle relay record while finishing sixth in the 16-team Cereal Bowl Relays here Saturday.

Tom Momany, Tom Starks, Fred Danaher and John Worthington set a new St. Joe record in the 400 freestyle relay of 3:25.50 — a time which also qualifies the team for the state Class A meet next March.

The Bear effort broke the old varsity record of 3:26.5 established in 1973 by Tom Smits, John Steeb, Craig Garey and mented St. Joe coach Bill Womer.

Other St. Joe points came on a second in the 800 freestyle relay (7:34.67) by Momany, Starks, Danaher and Worthington and efforts by the team of Jeff Porritt, Randy Chinery, Bill Crow and Mike Borre which produced a fourth in the 200 breaststroke (2:07.5) and seventh in the 400 individual medley relay (4:19.39).

St. Joe's next meet is at home at 7 p.m. Thursday against strong East Grand Rapids.

Dave Barlow. The Saturday win is also believed to be the first victory ever by St. Joe in the relays, which is the oldest high school meet of its kind in the nation.

Ann Arbor Pioneer was Saturday's team champion with 79 points. Defending state champion Birmingham Groves followed with 73 while Battle Creek Lakeview had 34, Battle Creek Central and Grosse Point North 32 and St. Joseph 30.

Host Lakeshore Champion In Wrestling Tournament

Lakeshore had to come from behind in the championship round to win the Lakeshore Invitational wrestling tourney held Saturday in the Lancers' gym.

Lakeshore ended with 104½ points while Portage Central was second with 101 points. Third was Muskegon Reeths-Puffer (85½), fourth place went to St. Joseph (66), fifth was Dowagiac (63½), sixth spot went to Loy Norrix (62½) seventh was Coloma (51) and eighth place went to Coldwater (42).

Going into the final round, the Lancers needed to win four of five weight classes to assure them the title. Lakeshore got the four with Doug Smith decisioning Charlie Black of Central 10-5 at 98-pounds, Terry Runge downed Tim Allen of Loy Norrix at 112-pounds 9-1, Tom Rennhack at 167-pounds pinned Wally Ismael of Coloma in 1:27 and Mark Krager decisioned Rick Dyer of St. Joseph 12-1 in the 167-pound weight class.

Runge and Rennhack defended titles they won last year. Two other defending champs weren't as lucky. At 119-pounds, Scott Hosnedl of Lakeshore was pinned by Brian Simms of Reeths-Puffer in the semifinals and Chris of Coldwater also lost his semifinal match at 138-pounds to Joe Offet of Lakeshore 9-3.

Two St. Joe grapplers won their weights. Dave Bock decisioned Dale Killarney of Dowagiac 3-2 in the 145-pound class and Dick Goodman beat Tom Barr in the 155-pound class 11-5.

The only other area winner was Jeff VanHusan of Dowagiac who beat Brian Boersema of Reeths-Puffer 8-4 in the 132-pound class.

Lion three and dashed 74 yards.

"It was an interesting game," said Viking Coach Bud Grant. "It wasn't good critically, but it was a good game for entertainment."

Lions fans roared their approval often and so loudly that the noise reverberating off the fiber-glass domed stadium roof was deafening.

"Detroit fans are like all hungry fans," Grant said. "They're great. They've waited a long time. They wanted their team to win badly."

Forzano said Detroit's performance was a "gut effort" and that "no other team in the NFL has the character of this team."

Injuries have plagued the Lions and a number of them played Sunday despite ailments.

"They played exceptionally well," Tarkenton said. "I think we helped some. We gave them the ball in the end zone and on the two (actually, the three). You do that and you're going to struggle. We just did ourselves in. We had our chances."

Chuck Foreman, Minnesota's star runner who leads the conference in touchdowns, rushing yardage and pass receptions, managed only 24 yards in 14 carries. But that gave him a club record of 985 yards for the season, eclipsing the old mark of 972 set by Dave Osborn in 1967.

Dexter Bussey topped Detroit with 76 yards in 15 carries.

Tansey Gets 300th Victory

DOWAGIAC — Southwestern Michigan College won its fourth-straight game Saturday night but for coach Jim Tansey the victory was something special.

Tansey gained his 300th triumph in 27 years of coaching when the Roadrunners downed Jackson Community College 81-73 in Western Collegiate conference action played here.

The win, Tansey's 112th at SMC, gives it a 4-0 record in the league and 6-2 overall. Jackson has lost all four conference games and is 2-6 this season.

Jim Powers led a balanced Roadrunner attack with 21 points. Bill Benko added 16, Robin Pflugshaupt scored 15 and Wayne Batteast added 14 points.

Brian Jurasek and Scott DeBoe led Jackson by scoring 14 points apiece. Dennis Heselschwerdt had 12 and Mel Owens and Joe Boertman each notched 10 points.

SMC had good success holding Jurasek, Jackson's leading scorer, down in the first half but DeBoe scored 10 points to lead his squad to a 45-44 halftime margin. "We primarily played a man-to-man defense in the first half to hold Jursask down but then DeBoe hurt us," Tansey said.

SMC switched to a 1-2-2 zone defense in the last half and that did the trick. "With that zone we didn't give them any inside penetration," indicated Tansey.

Pflugshaupt led the Roadrunners' second half charge by scoring 10 points. "Robin has had a bad foot but this was obviously his best game of the season," said Tansey.

The head coach also had had high praise for Benko, who had five steals.

The Roadrunners also used a new offensive set-up for the first time. "We went to a four-corner offense and that made us more patient in the second half," Tansey commented. "We had never run it before."

Davenport College, who beat SMC in the season opener, invades Dowagiac tonight for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Bangor Cooler Triumph Easy

PAW PAW — Bangor Coolers' offensive express continues to roll in the Paw Paw Men's Basketball League.

Lenny Strefling tossed in 25 points Sunday night, helping the Coolers to an easy 117-47 win over Tappers' Oldsmobile.

Bangor, now 15-1 on the season, is averaging 100 points per game. Jack Griffen scored 13 for the losers.

In other action Sunday, Mitchell's ripped M & M 73-56, LaPine's got by Van Buren Motor Supply 51-42 and Lovely Lady Homes rolled past Lawton Bombers 76-54.

Louie Abnet poured in 32 points for Mitchell's. The winners won the game at the free throw line, canning 25 of 30 shots. Bob Dentzman scored 22 for M & M.

LaPine's won despite playing most of the game with only four players. Craig Hess scored 19 points for LaPine's, while Ken Mann collected 16 for Van Buren.

Kelly Smith's 17 points sparked Lovely Lady to its win. Alex Buentello had 13 for the losers.

Trewhella Superior In Win Over Tech

Garner's 20 Paces Kalamazoo

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was only a non-conference game, but that didn't stop Lake Superior State's Mike Trewhella from turning in an outstanding performance.

Trewhella scored 27 points to pace the Lakers to an 81-77 nonconference basketball victory over Michigan Tech's Huskies in Saturday roundball action.

Lake Superior also was hot from the charity line, hitting on 25 of 36 free throws. Michigan Tech hit just under 50 per cent but had only 11 chances, hitting on five of them.

In other Michigan college basketball action, Kalamazoo dumped Aquinas 90-80; Eastern Illinois blasted Wayne State 101-64; and Bradley of Illinois slipped by the University of Detroit 71-67.

Calvin edged Grand Valley State 70-66; Alma drubbed Siena Heights 121-80; Ohio Northern cut Ferris State 60-56; Albion bumped Saginaw Valley 74-64 and Spring Arbor downed Michigan-Dearborn 105-52.

Oakland zipped by Windsor 88-77; Wisconsin trounced Northern Michigan 92-59 and Michigan overwhelmed Dayton 106-80.

Duane Garner scored 20 points and five of his teammates were in double figures in Kalamazoo's nonconference victory over Aquinas. Paul Everett and Ken Weber scored 23 points each for Aquinas. Kalamazoo's record is 3-1, Aquinas fell to 2-3.

Alma's Dave Fruelich had 18 points to set a school scoring record and lead his team to the 121-80 victory over Siena Heights. Alma's Jim Davidson added 17 and Willie Dawkins had 16. Charles McCullogh led Siena Heights with 17 as Alma evened its record at 3-3 and Siena Heights dropped to 1-5.

Calvin's 6-foot-8 center Mark Veenstra scored 24 points to lead the Knights over Grand Valley State in nonconference action. The victory lifted Calvin's record to 3-1 while Grand Valley dipped to 0-4.

Eastern Illinois had six players in double figures during their 101-64 romp over Wayne State. Tyrone Richardson, Joe Yelver and Rudy Roberts all had 14 points for the losers.

Bradley sophomore Dennis Smith helped wipe out a 12-point deficit and hustle the Braves past the University of Detroit 71-67. Top scorer was U-D's Terry Tyler with 21, while Jim Long added 16 for the losers. U-D is now 2-2.

Mark Henschen scored 16 points to lead Ohio Northern to their 60-56 nonconference victory over Ferris State. Bobby Johnson hit 29 for Ferris, now 2-3.

Paul Cryderman scored 20 points to lead Albion to its 74-64 nonconference victory of Saginaw Valley. Albion is now 4-1, while Saginaw Valley is 7-3. Saginaw was led by Dale Brown with 19 points.

Forward Bruce Coffelt sank 24 baskets and five of his teammmates scored 10 or more points each as Spring Arbor downed Michigan-Dearborn 105-52 in a nonconference game.

Spring Arbor is now 5-2, UM-Dearborn is 1-3.

Eulis Stephens scored 33 points as Oakland whipped the University of Windsor in their nonconference game. Oakland is 3-2, while Windsor is 2-5.

Undefeated Wisconsin hit a torrid 69 per cent in the first half of its 92-59 nonconference victory over Northern Michigan. The Badgers held the Wildcats' top scorer, Dino Conley, to five points before intermission.

In the second half, Conley boosted his total to a game high of 23 points. The loss dropped NMU to 2-3.

Grounds Sparks Surprising 'Cats

NILES — Mishawaka Marion can attest that Brandywine's cagers are actually for real.

Pat Grounds scored 21 points as the surprising Bobcats stretched their unbeaten string to five games this season with a 65-57 win over previously unbeaten Marion here Saturday night.

The Bobcats had to battle from behind for most of the ballgame. Marion used its height and a good fast break to zoom out to a 35-29 lead at halftime. Brandywine didn't help itself any as it failed to score on its first seven possessions of the game.

"At halftime, I just told the team to be patient on offense and the points would come," said Bobcats' head coach Frank Standley.

With Grounds hitting eight points in the third quarter, Brandywine cut Marion's lead to two points at the end of the third quarter, 46-44. The sharpshooting forward hit six more points in the last stanza as the Bobcats handed Marion its first loss in four starts.

"When the game got close, we forced them into some turnovers and eventually scored on their mistakes," Standley remarked.

Steve McCarthy added 16 points and pulled down a like number of rebounds for Brandywine. "Steve is a very consistent scorer and rebounder," acknowledged Standley.

Illirie Campbell was the Bobcats' other double figures scorer, notching 10 points.

Kevin Motts led Marion with 17 points while 6-6 Bill Williams was held to 10 points by 6-2 McCarthy.

Brandywine pulled down 55 boards with McCarthy's 16 leading the team. Tony Harris helped out by snaring 13.

"We only had 17 turnovers and that was good for us," said Standley. "The last couple of years, turnovers have really hurt us."

K-Wings, Toledo Battle To Scoreless Tie In IHL

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were two deadlocks in Sunday's International Hockey League action, but the contests were poles apart as far as scoring was concerned. In the Flint-Ft. Wayne match, 10 goals were scored as the Generals and the Komets deadlocked at 5-5. At the opposite end of the scale, Kalamazoo and Toledo battled to a scoreless tie. Other action saw Muskegon slide past Columbus 5-1 and Dayton edge Saginaw 5-4.

Kirk Bowman of Flint earned the credit for giving the Generals the lock with Ft. Wayne as he scored the tying goal, his 21st of the season.

Ft. Wayne overcame 3-0 and 4-2 deficits to lead 5-4 before Bowman's loss-evading tally.

The Generals are now 12-12-4. Ft. Wayne fell to 10-14-5.

In the Toledo-Kalamazoo tie, Kalamazoo goalie Merlin Jenner had 25 saves and Toledo's Pierre Chagnon had 36.

Kalamazoo is now 8-13-5 for fifth place in the IHL North Division. Toledo is 12-8-8 for second place in the South.

The Mohawk's rampage was topped by Ron Kennedy and Dave Bonter, who each had two goals as Muskegon recovered from a 1-0 deficit.

The Owls' Jimmy Doyle scored in a fruitless effort to give the South Division cellar dwellers a victory. But after his tally, it was all Muskegon, which climbed to 13-9-5 to hang onto second place in the North Division as Columbus slipped to 4-21-3.

In the remaining game, Bill Riley scored twice for Dayton as the Gems defeated Saginaw.

Texas A&I Champ In NAIA Bowl

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — "See you next year," one sports writer said to another Saturday as they left Javelinas Stadium after watching Texas A&I University defeat Salem College 37-0 in the 20th annual NAIA Champion Bowl.

It's very possible the two may meet again next year at the NAIA championship game in this South Texas City. Most of the Javelinas who demolished a highly touted Salem college defense and stopped the West Virginia school's high powered offense, will be back in uniform next fall for Coach Gil Steinke.

By defeating the Tigers, the Javelinas captured their second straight NAIA championship, their fifth since 1959 and won their 28th consecutive game. Many of the Javelinas have never played in a losing game in a Texas A&I uniform.

When he was reminded that Steinke has called his junior quarterback Richard Ritchie the best quarterback in college football, Salem Coach Joe Ault, in his first year as head coach, said: "I don't want to play against him again. He does a heck of a job."

"We didn't play any team all year to compare with A&I," Ault said.

League-Leading MSU Ends Slide In WCHA

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

League-leading Michigan State snapped a two-game losing streak while arch-rival Michigan rode a sweep over Wisconsin to move into a share of second place in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association.

Michigan State gained a split in its series at Minnesota-Duluth with an 8-5 victory Saturday night as Daryl Rice scored two goals and Tom Ross added another after being held scoreless for the first time in 79 games the night before. The Spartans are now 10-4 in the league and hold a four-point advantage on Michigan Tech and Michigan.

Duluth, now 6-8 in league play, got a pair of goals from Ernie Powell.

Dave DeBol, Kip Maurer and Kris Manery scored two goals apiece to lead Michigan's 8-3 victory over Wisconsin. The Wolverines, now tied with Michigan Tech at 8-4 in the WCHA, built a 7-0 lead in the second period enroute to their third straight victory.

In nonconference play, Michigan Tech whipped Lake Superior State 6-4 to complete a weekend sweep and improve its record to 10-4 overall. Stu Ostlund scored two goals for Tech while Mike Gaba scored two for Lake Superior, now 8-7-1.

St. Louis University extended its string of victories to 11 Sunday with a 7-3 nonconference victory over Colorado College. Doug Lawton scored to goals to lead St. Louis, as he did Friday when his team downed the Colorado school 6-3.

Division II Moves Home

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The NCAA Division II national football championship will be moved from Hughes Stadium here to Wichita Falls, Tex., a site selection committee has announced.

Milt Weisbecker, chairman of the NCAA site selection committee which picks the championship's location, said Hughes Stadium's inadequate facilities prompted the decision to move the Camellia Bowl contest elsewhere.

He said his committee would tell the NCAA executive committee at the Jan. 14-15 national convention in St. Louis that the change should be made in favor of the more modern facility in Wichita Falls. A spokesman said the committee recommendation is in effect a final decision.

Glen Oaks Rallies To Topple Indians

CENTREVILLE — Rick Entizian tossed in 30 points Saturday night to lead Glen Oaks to a come - from - behind 90-88 win over Lake Michigan Catholic here.

LMC led by as many as 11 points in the second half, but eventually fell for the third time in four league games. The Indians are 2-6 overall. Glen Oaks upped its record to 2-2 and 5-3, respectively.

As usual Kerry Lee came off the bench to lead LMC, scoring 18 points. David Thomas added 15, Jimmy Bridgman 14, John Taylor 13 and Darryl Kelley 11.

John Platt added 16, all in the first half, Brian Heller 13 and Tom Hollanbaugh 11 for Glen Oaks.

Sparked by the shooting of Entizian, who scored 18 points in the first half, and Platt, Glen Oaks raced away to early leads of eight to 10 points in the first half.

Lee came off the bench to toss in 12 in the first 20 minutes and the Indians chipped the lead to just three at 51-48 at halftime.

In the first 11 minutes of the second half, LMC moved to a 73-62 edge, but the roof fell in.

"We came apart and lost our composure," losing coach Art Crump said. "We committed six straight turnovers and let them get back into the game."

Using the turnovers to its advantage, Glen Oaks closed the deficit to only 75-74 with six minutes to play and the game was nip-and-tuck the rest of the way.

Eddie Albert could have tied the game for LMC when he went to the free throw line with six seconds left. But Albert missed the first end of a one-and-one and Glen Oaks ran out the clock.

A 10 for 26 shooting effort at the foul line and 27 turnovers proved to be the difference for the Indians.

Trewhella Superior In Win Over Tech

Garner's 20 Paces Kalamazoo

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was only a non-conference game, but that didn't stop Lake Superior State's Mike Trewhella from turning in an outstandimg performance.

Trewhella scored 27 points to pace the Lakers to an 81-77 nonconference basketball victory over Michigan Tech's Huskies in Saturday roundball action.

Lake Superior also was hot from the charity line, hitting on 25 of 36 free throws. Michigan Tech hit just under 50 per cent but had only 11 chances, hitting on five of them.

In other Michigan college basketball action, Kalamazoo dumped Aquinas 90-80; Eastern Illinois blasted Wayne State 101-64; and Bradley of Illinois slipped by the University of Detroit 71-67.

Calvin edged Grand Valley State 70-66; Alma drubbed Siena Heights 121-80; Ohio Northern cut Ferris State 60-56; Albion bumped Saginaw Valley 74-64 and Spring Arbor downed Michigan-Dearborn 105-52.

Oakland zipped by Windsor 89-77; Wisconsin trounced Northern Michigan 92-59 and Michigan overwhelmed Dayton 106-80.

Duane Garner scored 20 points and five of his teammates were in double figures in Kalamazoo's nonconference victory over Aquinas. Paul Everett and Ken Weber scored 23 points each for Aquinas. Kalamazoo's record is 3-1, Aquinas fell to 2-3.

Alma's Dave Froelich had 18 points to set a school scoring record and lead his team to the 121-80 victory over Siena Heights. Alma's Jim Davidson added 17 and Willie Dawkins had 16. Charles McCullogh led Siena Heights with 17 as Alma evened its record at 3-3 and Siena Heights dropped to 1-5.

Calvin's 6-foot-8 center Mark Veenstra scored 24 points to lead the Knights over Grand Valley State in nonconference action. The victory lifted Calvin's record to 3-1 while Grand Valley dipped to 0-4.

Eastern Illinois had six players in double figures during their 101-64 romp over Wayne State. Tyrone Richardson, Joe Yelver and Rudy Roberts all had 14 points for the losers.

Bradley sophomore Dennis Smith helped wipe out a 12-point deficit and hustle the Braves past the University of Detroit 71-67. Top scorer was U-D's Terry Tyler with 21, while Jim Long added 16 for the losers. U-D is now 2-2.

Mark Henschen scored 16 points to lead Ohio Northern to their 60-56 nonconference victory over Ferris State. Bobby Johnson hit 29 for Ferris, now 2-3.

Paul Cryderman scored 20 points to lead Albion to its 74-64 nonconference victory of Saginaw Valley. Albion is now 4-1, while Saginaw Valley is 7-3. Saginaw was led by Dale Brown with 19 points.

Forward Bruce Coffelt sank 24 baskets and five of his teammmates scored 10 or more points each as Spring Arbor downed Michigan-Dearborn 105-52 in a nonconference game.

Spring Arbor is now 5-2. UM-Dearborn is 1-3.

Eulis Stephens scored 33 points as Oakland whipped the University of Windsor in their nonconference game. Oakland is 3-2, while Windsor is 2-5.

Undefeated Wisconsin hit a torrid 69 per cent in the first half of its 92-59 nonconference victory over Northern Michigan. The Badgers held the Wildcats' top scorer, Dino Conley, to five points before intermission.

In the second half, Conley boosted his total to a game high of 23 points. The loss dropped NMU to 2-3.

Grounds Sparks Surprising 'Cats

NILES — Mishawaka Marion can attest that Brandywine's cagers are actually for real.

Pat Grounds scored 21 points as the surprising Bobcats stretched their unbeaten string to five games this season with a 65-57 win over previously unbeaten Marion here Saturday night.

The Bobcats had to battle from behind for most of the ballgame. Marion used its height and a good fast break to zoom out to a 35-29 lead at halftime. Brandywine didn't help itself any as it failed to score on its first seven possessions of the game.

"At halftime, I just told the team to be patient on offense and the points would come," said Bobcats' head coach Frank Standley.

With Grounds hitting eight points in the third quarter, Brandywine cut Marion's lead to two points at the end of the third quarter, 46-44. The sharpshooting forward hit six more points in the last stanza as the Bobcats handed Marion its first loss in four starts.

"When the game got close, we forced them into some turnovers and eventually scored on their mistakes," Standley remarked.

Steve McCarthy added 16 points and pulled down a like number of rebounds for Brandywine. "Steve is a very consistent scorer and rebounder," acknowledged Standley.

Hilrie Campbell was the Bobcats' other double figures scorer, notching 10 points.

Kevin Motts led Marion with 17 points while 6-6 Bill Williams was held to 10 points by 6-2 McCarthy.

Brandywine pulled down 55 boards with McCarthy's 16 leading the team. Tony Harris helped out by snaring 13.

"We only had 17 turnovers and that was good for us," said Standley. "The last couple of years, turnovers have really hurt us."

K-Wings, Toledo Battle To Scoreless Tie In IHL

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were two deadlocks in Sunday's International Hockey League action, but the contests were poles apart as far as scoring was concerned. In the Flint-Ft. Wayne match, 10 goals were scored as the Generals and the Komets deadlocked at 5-5. At the opposite end of the scale, Kalamazoo and Toledo battled to a scoreless tie. Other action saw Muskegon slide past Columbus 5-1 and Dayton edge Saginaw 5-4.

Kirk Bowman of Flint earned the credit for giving the Generals the lock with Ft. Wayne as he scored the tying goal, his 21st of the season.

Ft. Wayne overcame 3-0 and 4-2 deficits to lead 5-4 before Bowman's loss-evading tally.

The Generals are now 12-12-4. Ft. Wayne fell to 10-14-5.

In the Toledo-Kalamazoo tie, Kalamazoo goalie Merlin Jenner had 25 saves and Toledo's Pierre Chagnon had 36.

Kalamazoo is now 8-13-5 for fifth place in the IHL North Division. Toledo is 12-8-8 for second place in the South.

The Mohawk's rampage was topped by Ron Kennedy and Dave Bonter, who each had two goals as Muskegon recovered from a 1-0 deficit.

The Owls' Jimmy Doyle scored in a fruitless effort to give the South Division cellar dwellers a victory. But after his tally, it was all Muskegon, which climbed to 13-9-5 to hang onto second place in the North Division as Columbus slipped to 4-21-3.

Flames Burn Sabres' Net

Blues Beat Hawks As Patrick Returns

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Atlanta Flames could have finally put the puck into Lake Erie, but they chose the Buffalo net instead.

"We played well earlier in the season but couldn't put the puck into Lake Erie," said Atlanta Coach Fred Creighton. "Now the goals are coming quicker and easier."

With their old nemesis, Lake Erie, just around the corner, the Flames chose to attack the Buffalo net Sunday night and came away with a 7-4 National Hockey League victory over the Sabres.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Toronto slapped the New York Rangers 6-1; Boston edged Vancouver 3-2; Montreal tripped Pittsburgh 7-4; Washington and Minnesota skated to a 4-4 tie, and St. Louis nipped Chicago 4-3.

Larry Romanchych scored three successive goals in the third period to help extend the Flames' unbeaten streak to five games. Bill Flett, whose first goal of the game broke a 2-2 tie with 33 seconds left in the second period, scored 39 seconds into the third period.

Romanchych connected 23 seconds later and got his sixth and seventh goals of the season 27 seconds apart midway through the period.

Garry Unger scored two goals and assisted on two others to give interim Coach Lynn Patrick a St. Louis victory in his return to the coaching ranks. Patrick, the Blues' first coach in 1967, replaced Garry Young 45 minutes before Sunday night's game.

Early in the third period, Unger fed Jerry Butler, who shot the puck past Hawks goalie Tony Esposito to break a 3-3 tie.

Andre Savard's pass bounced in off teammate Bobby Schmautz with 32 seconds remaining to lift Boston past Vancouver and bring the Bruins within four points of first-place Buffalo in the NHL's Adams Division.

Rookie Rick Blight had tied the game for Vancouver with his second power play goal of the night earlier in the period. Darryl Edestrand and Wayne Cashman had scored goals 1:23 apart in the second period for the Bruins.

Yvan Cournoyer's 16th goal of the season, with 4:26 left in the game, snapped a 4-4 tie and started a three-goal outburst that carried Montreal past Pittsburgh.

Jacques Lemaire added his 11th goal of the season 67 seconds later and Guy Lapointe finished the blitz, scoring with 36 seconds remaining.

Errol Thompson scored second-period goals just 22 seconds apart and set up a third-period goal as Toronto ended a 10-game winless streak.

The loss ended the Rangers' unbeaten streak at seven and their unbeaten home streak against Toronto at 13.

Stan Gilbertson's second goal of the night gave Washington a 4-3 lead at 3:29 of the third period but Minnesota's Blake Dunlop scored at 15:11 to forge the tie.

Jabbar Rebounds Lakers To Victory Over Pistons

From Associated Press

"To win in the NBA, you have to play tough defense and hit the boards hard," says Golden State Warriors star Rick Barry.

New Orleans Coach Bill van Breda Kolff agrees.

The difference, though, is that Golden State did what Barry said and defeated the Kansas City Kings 115-105 while it was the Boston Celtics that pulled off the execution to defeat the New Orleans Jazz 102-93 in National Basketball Association action Sunday night.

"Boston started playing a pressure defense in the third quarter, and this became their offense," van Breda Kolff moaned. "They took control of the game at that point."

In other NBA games Sunday, Los Angeles defeated Detroit 110-100, Phoenix stopped Portland 105-96, and Seattle downed Philadelphia 114-105.

In the only American Basketball Association contest, the New York Nets defeated Indiana 99-93.

"With the speed we have in our backcourt, our big men are able to get the ball out quickly," Barry said. Guard Phil Smith's 28 points paced the Warriors' victory. But it was center George Johnson's 10 rebounds in the final period that enabled the Warriors to pull away from the Kings, breaking away from a one-point lead with six minutes to play and scoring eight straight points to ensure the victory. Kansas City's Nate Archibald led all scorers with 32 points.

Charlie Scott, with 25 points — 19 in the second half — and Paul Silas sparked Boston's victory over New Orleans. The Jazz led 43-38 at halftime, but with Silas sparking the Celtics, Boston romped to its sixth straight victory and handed New Orleans its sixth straight loss. Louie Nelson paced the Jazz with 18 points.

A 31-point production by guard Fred Brown led Seattle over Philadelphia as the SuperSonics posted their third straight victory. The 76ers lost guard Doug Collins, who scored 21 points, midway through the fourth quarter with a sprained ankle and George McGinnis, who had 23 points and 19 rebounds, when he fouled out with 1:16 to play.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 27 points and grabbed a career high 34 rebounds to pace Los Angeles past Detroit. Gail Goodrich and Lucius Allen added 25 and 22 points, respectively, for the Lakers while Lindsay Hairston led Detroit with 19.

Rookie Alvan Adams led Phoenix to victory over Portland. Adams tallied 20 points while Portland's Lloyd Neal took game scoring honors with 24.

Julius Erving scored 31 points, grabbed 19 rebounds, handed out two assists, made four steals and blocked five shots to boost New York over Indiana. But it took Nets player-assistant coach Bill Melchionni to come off the bench in the third period to help boost New York from a seven-point deficit to a 73-71 lead they never relinquished. Len Elmore scored 21 points for Indiana.

Couchman Eliminated From PPK

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Two Wisconsin youngsters, as well as fledgling gridders from California, Illinois, Texas and Minnesota won National Football Conference finals Sunday in the annual Punt, Pass and Kick contest at Pontiac Stadium.

The winners advance to the National Football League PP&K championships against the American conference winners at the Super Bowl Jan. 18.

The two Wisconsin youngsters, who won their competition prior to the end of the Detroit Lions' 17-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings, were Bradley Roberts, 10, of Green Bay, and Jim Melka, 13, of West Allis.

Also winning their age brackets were Shawn Pumphrey, 9, of Lamont; Calif.; Rick Washam, 8, Lincoln, Ill.; Dwayne Friesen, 11, Kilgore, Tex.; and Robert Best, 12, Sandstone, Minn.

Eliminated in the competition was 13-year-old Bob Couchman of Buchanan.

This is the eighth year of PP&K competition, which is sponsored by the Ford Motor Co.

More than one million youngsters have participated, including more than 5,000 girls this year.

The Instant It Happened

SPRING, 1970

With unintended irony, it was called Operation Total Victory. This was the combined South Vietnamese-American attack into Cambodia. A somber President Nixon announced it on television April 30, 1970.

The reaction on American campuses was predictable and immediate: an unprecedented uproar of protests and demonstrations.

But some students at Kent State university in Ohio had their minds on other matters. They were at play, drinking beer downtown. The drinkers eventually moved into the street and began a snake dance. An impatient motorist raced his motor and the kids began pounding the car. A crowd gathered and things got rough. Cops appeared and broke up the mob with tear gas.

Next day there was a rally of about 800 students. They began tossing rocks at windows of the ROTC building. Then railroad flares. The building caught fire. Firemen came and the kids threw rocks at them and cut their hoses.

Gov. James Rhodes ordered in about 900 National Guardsmen, already weary from three days' duty policing a Teamsters' strike. They came with loaded guns.

Now, it is Monday, May 4, a lovely spring day on the greening campus. Students pass to and from classes under the wary eyes of the soldiers clustered near the ruins of the ROTC building. The night before there had been another fight, this time involving 500 students who threw rocks at the Guardsmen. One hundred and fifty were arrested.

So, about noon when someone begins ringing the Victory Bell, used infrequently during football season, about 1,000 students rally round.

Two jeeploads of officers approach the crowd. "Evacuate the campus area. You have no right to assemble."

"Pigs off campus. We don't want your war," is the answer.

The Guardsmen form two skirmish lines and point guns toward the crowd. Some students begin tossing rocks. They fall short. The soldiers respond with tear gas. The students advance, some throwing the gas cannisters back. The Guardsmen move slowly backward up a hill, still facing the students, guns pointed.

Then this (according to a student): an officer, pointing a .45 caliber pistol, raises a "swagger stick." Then he drops it and the soldiers fire. . . .

The question of whether the soldiers were actually ordered to fire, or fired because they thought they would be overrun, remained confused in subsequent investigations.

But what was certain was that four students lay dead beneath the leafing trees of Kent State, one of them a girl who only a few hours before had put a flower in the barrel of a Guardman's rifle saying, "Flowers are better than bullets."

John Filo, a photography student in the journalism school, was working in the photo lab when he heard the bell ringing. He borrowed a camera from the yearbook office, ran outside and on the way met a friend with a zoom lens. He borrowed that. Like others, he thought the Guardsmen were shooting blanks until, through his range finder, he saw a bullet splinter a sculpture. After the shooting he saw Jeffrey Miller lying 30 feet away in blood. "Then this girl came up and knelt over the body and let out a Godawful scream. That made me click the camera. I didn't react visually." There among the last frames was the picture that won him a Pulitzer Prize at age 21.

Judge To Rule On Moore Plea

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sara Jane Moore's attempt to plead guilty to charges she tried to kill President Ford will depend on the outcome of a new examination of her mental competency.

Miss Moore's trial was scheduled to begin today, but plans were changed when she went into court last Friday and asked to plead guilty to the attempted assassination charge.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Samuel Conti ordered a special hearing for today to determine whether he will accept the plea or order Miss Moore to stand trial.

The judge ordered a new psychiatric examination of the 45-year-old bookkeeper and one-time FBI informant over the weekend to determine whether Miss Moore is mentally competent to change her plea.

If he finds that she is now competent, he must consider further whether she was mentally competent at the time she fired a shot at President Ford last Sept. 22 in order to accept a guilty plea. If the judge is unable to make that decision, he would have to order further hearings or leave it to a jury to decide that question.

"I am not now insane in either the legal or medical sense," Miss Moore told the judge after asking to be allowed to plead guilty. "... I do not believe I was insane in either the legal or medical sense on Monday, Sept. 22, 1975."

Miss Moore fired a gun at Ford as he emerged from a downtown hotel. A bystander deflected the gun and the bullet missed the President.

Dr. Robert Jack Eardley, a Springfield, Mo., psychiatrist who originally found Miss Moore competent to stand trial after her arrest, was called in to make a new examination over the weekend. He was expected to report his findings at the hearing.

Only hours after her court appearance, Miss Moore told the San Francisco Examiner she "would do anything in the world to go free."

"I don't want to spend the rest of my life in jail," she said.

Dutch To 'Wait Out' Consulate Siege

By JOHN GALE
Associated Press Writer

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP) — Premier Joop den Uyl says the Dutch government will wait out the Moluccan nationalists holding 25 hostages in the Indonesian consulate just as it did the gunmen who held 24 persons captive on a train for 12 days.

Den Uyl said he "hoped for an early end" to the consulate siege, which ended its 11th day today. But he said the government did not yield to the political demands made by the six Moluccans on the train and would not yield to those at the consulate.

The six young men who hijacked the train near Beilen, 90 miles north of Amsterdam, on Dec. 2 surrendered at noon Sunday after the temperature aboard the unheated train dropped to 22 degrees the night before.

It was thought likely that the young men would be charged with murder because they killed the train engineer and two of the passengers. A seventh hijacker who was hospitalized after an explosion Dec. 5 has already been charged with murder.

Three of the hostages were carried from he train on stretchers, but all were reported in "fair to good" condition. They included 17 men and seven women and ranged in age from a 16-year-old boy to a woman of 72.

Both groups of South Moluccans demanded that the Dutch government give active support to their campaign for independence for their native islands from Indonesia, the prewar Dutch East Indies.

Leaders of the South Moluccan community in The Netherlands who negotiated with the train hijackers claimed that they persuaded them they could continue their struggle for independence peacefully. But Justice Minister Dries van Agt said: "The terrorists saw it was useless to go on. They realized we were not prepared to make one single concession."

Johan A. Manusama, the head of the South Moluccan community of 40,000 exiles, said there might be more terrorist actions "unless the Dutch government lends a willing ear to the South Moluccan case.

"From now on our words will carry more weight," he declared.

Christmas Postal Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are fewer jobs for those seeking temporary work this Christmas season with the Postal Service.

The Postal Service last month adopted a policy of reassigning its employes whenever they are not needed at the office where they have been working.

This means that wherever possible the existing work force will handle the annual flood of Christmas mail, a Postal Service spokesman said.

SMC Offers 60 Courses During January Session

DOWAGIAC — Sixty courses are being offered in Southwestern Michigan college's interim session, a special month-long session in January between the regular fall and spring semester.

Interim courses will begin Monday, Jan. 5, and conclude on Jan. 26. Interim session offerings include both college credit courses and other unusual courses not ordinarily offered during SMC's regular four-month-long semesters.

Dr. William E. Spencer, vice president for instruction, said offerings include courses on farm income tax, scientific ice fishing, American folklore, tape recorder musical composition and a study of marriage and divorce.

Traditional offerings, such as aircraft welding, biology, key punch operation, clinical nursing, physical education and political science, will also be offered, according to Spencer.

He said the interim session offers an opportunity to find out what college courses at SMC are like.

Preregistration for the interim session continues through December. Interested people can register by phone, mail or in person at the admissions office in the O'Leary building. Tuition must be paid in full at preregistration, according to school officials.

Weather Brings Halt To Hunt

BRANSON, Mo. (AP) — Snow and freezing rain has stalled the search for a mountain man who fled police with his family of four after robbing a grocery store with an 8-year-old boy wielding a shotgun, authorities say.

James Hatfield, 43, and his fugitive family have been the object of an intense manhunt in the rugged Ozark hills since Friday. Police say they robbed a store in Peel, Ark., then escaped on foot.

The Instant It Happened

SPRING, 1970

With unintended irony, it was called Operation Total Victory. This was the combined South Vietnamese-American attack into Cambodia. A somber President Nixon announced it on television April 30, 1970.

The reaction on American campuses was predictable and immediate: an unprecedented uproar of protests and demonstrations.

But some students at Kent State university in Ohio had their minds on other matters. They were at play, drinking beer downtown. The drinkers eventually moved into the street and began a snake dance. An impatient motorist raced his motor and the kids began pounding the car. A crowd gathered and things got rough. Cops appeared and broke up the mob with tear gas.

Next day there was a rally of about 800 students. They began tossing rocks at windows of the ROTC building. Then railroad flares. The building caught fire. Firemen came and the kids threw rocks at them and cut their hoses.

Gov. James Rhodes ordered in about 900 National Guardsmen, already weary from three days' duty policing a Teamsters' strike. They came with loaded guns.

Now, it is Monday, May 4, a lovely spring day on the greening campus. Students pass to and from classes under the wary eyes of the soldiers clustered near the ruins of the ROTC building. The night before there had been another fight, this time involving 500 students who threw rocks at the Guardsmen. One hundred and fifty were arrested.

So, about noon when someone begins ringing the Victory Bell, used infrequently during football season, about 1,000 students rally round.

Two jeeploads of officers approach the crowd. "Evacuate the campus area. You have no right to assemble."

"Pigs off campus. We don't want your war," is the answer.

The Guardsmen form two skirmish lines and point guns toward the crowd. Some students begin tossing rocks. They fall short. The soldiers respond with tear gas. The students advance, some throwing the gas cannisters back. The Guardsmen move slowly backward up a hill, still facing the students, guns pointed.

Then this (according to a student): an officer, pointing a .45 caliber pistol, raises a "swagger stick." Then he drops it and the soldiers fire. . . .

The question of whether the soldiers were actually ordered to fire, or fired because they thought they would be overrun, remained confused in subsequent investigations.

But what was certain was that four students lay dead beneath the leafing trees of Kent State, one of them a girl who only a few hours before had put a flower in the barrel of a Guardman's rifle saying, "Flowers are better than bullets."

John Filo, a photography student in the journalism school, was working in the photo lab when he heard the bell ringing. He borrowed a camera from the yearbook office, ran outside and on the way met a friend with a zoom lens. He borrowed that. Like others, he thought the Guardsmen were shooting blanks until, through his range finder, he saw a bullet splinter a sculpture. After the shooting he saw Jeffrey Miller lying 30 feet away in blood. "Then this girl came up and knelt over the body and let out a Godawful scream. That made me click the camera. I didn't react visually." There among the last frames was the picture that won him a Pulitzer Prize at age 21.

Judge To Rule On Moore Plea

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sara Jane Moore's attempt to plead guilty to charges she tried to kill President Ford will depend on the outcome of a new examination of her mental competency.

Miss Moore's trial was scheduled to begin today, but plans were changed when she went into court last Friday and asked to plead guilty to the attempted assassination charge.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Samuel Conti ordered a special hearing for today to determine whether he will accept the plea or order Miss Moore to stand trial.

The judge ordered a new psychiatric examination of the 45-year-old bookkeeper and one-time FBI informant over the weekend to determine whether Miss Moore is mentally competent to change her plea.

If he finds that she is now competent, he must consider further whether she was mentally competent at the time she fired a shot at President Ford last Sept. 22 in order to accept a guilty plea. If the judge is unable to make that decision, he would have to order further hearings or leave it to a jury to decide that question.

"I am not now insane in either the legal or medical sense," Miss Moore told the judge after asking to be allowed to plead guilty. "... I do not believe I was insane in either the legal or medical sense on Monday, Sept. 22, 1975."

Miss Moore fired a gun at Ford as he emerged from a downtown hotel. A bystander deflected the gun and the bullet missed the President.

Dr. Robert Jack Eardley, a Springfield, Mo., psychiatrist who originally found Miss Moore competent to stand trial after her arrest, was called in to make a new examination over the weekend. He was expected to report his findings at the hearing.

Only hours after her court appearance, Miss Moore told the San Francisco Examiner she "would do anything in the world to go free."

"I don't want to spend the rest of my life in jail," she said.

Dutch To 'Wait Out' Consulate Siege

By JOHN GALE
Associated Press Writer

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP) — Premier Joop den Uyl says the Dutch government will wait out the Moluccan nationalists holding 25 hostages in the Indonesian consulate just as it did the gunmen who held 24 persons captive on a train for 12 days.

Den Uyl said he "hoped for an early end" to the consulate siege, which ended its 11th day today. But he said the government did not yield to the political demands made by the six Moluccans on the train and would not yield to those at the consulate.

The six young men who hijacked the train near Beilen, 90 miles north of Amsterdam, on Dec. 2 surrendered at noon Sunday after the temperature aboard the unheated train dropped to 22 degrees the night before.

It was thought likely that the young men would be charged with murder because they killed the train engineer and two of the passengers. A seventh hijacker who was hospitalized after an explosion Dec. 5 has already been charged with murder.

Three of the hostages were carried from the train on stretchers, but all were reported in "fair to good" condition. They included 17 men and seven women and ranged in age from a 16-year-old boy to a woman of 72.

Both groups of South Moluccans demanded that the Dutch government give active support to their campaign for independence for their native islands from Indonesia, the prewar Dutch East Indies.

Leaders of the South Moluccan community in The Netherlands who negotiated with the train hijackers claimed that they persuaded them they could continue their struggle for independence peacefully. But Justice Minister Dries van Agt said: "The terrorists saw it was useless to go on. They realized we were not prepared to make one single concession."

Johan A. Manusama, the head of the South Moluccan community of 40,000 exiles, said there might be more terrorist actions "unless the Dutch government lends a willing ear to the South Moluccan case.

"From now on our words will carry more weight," he declared.

Christmas Postal Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are fewer jobs for those seeking temporary work this Christmas season with the Postal Service.

The Postal Service last month adopted a policy of reassigning its employes whenever they are not needed at the office where they have been working.

This means that wherever possible the existing work force will handle the annual flood of Christmas mail, a Postal Service spokesman said.

SMC Offers 60 Courses During January Session

DOWAGIAC — Sixty courses are being offered in Southwestern Michigan college's interim session, a special month-long session in January between the regular fall and spring semester.

Interim courses will begin Monday, Jan. 5, and conclude on Jan. 26. Interim session offerings include both college credit courses and other unusual courses not ordinarily offered during SMC's regular four-month-long semesters.

Dr. William E. Spencer, vice president for instruction, said offerings include courses on farm income tax, scientific ice fishing, American folklore, tape recorder musical composition and a study of marriage and divorce.

Traditional offerings, such as aircraft welding, biology, key punch operation, clinical nursing, physical education and political science, will also be offered, according to Spencer.

He said the interim session offers an opportunity to find out what college courses at SMC are like.

Preregistration for the interim session continues through December. Interested people can register by phone, mail or in person at the admissions office in the O'Leary building. Tuition must be paid in full at preregistration, according to school officials.

Weather Brings Halt To Hunt

BRANSON, Mo. (AP) — Snow and freezing rain has stalled the search for a mountain man who fled police with his family of four after robbing a grocery store with an 8-year-old boy wielding a shotgun, authorities say.

James Hatfield, 43, and his fugitive family have been the object of an intense manhunt in the rugged Ozark hills since Friday. Police say they robbed a store in Peel, Ark., then escaped on foot.

Father Tells Policemen He Fired At 'Intruder'

DETROIT (AP) — A man shot and killed his 21-year-old son Sunday because he thought the young man was an intruder breaking into the family home, Detroit police said.

Norman Quarles, a student at the University of Detroit, was shot in the chest as he broke a front window in the home, apparently because he needed a place to sleep, officials said.

The dead youth's brother, John Jr., said the father, John Quarles, had told Norman on Saturday he didn't want Norman in the house. The brother told officials the father and son had argued.

Police held the father after the shooting but later released him. They did not indicate whether Quarles would be charged.

Quarles told police he heard his front window break and then fired his rifle at a figure in the living room. Norman was dead at the scene.

The dead youth's brother said Norman, an education major, had been depressed recently about his future.

"He didn't know if he was going to make it. He was worried about his chances of getting a job when he finished school," the brother said.

"It's a tragedy," John Jr. said. "But my father figures he had no choice but to shoot."

Norman had moved into a flat near his parents' home but was having trouble paying the rent, said a friend, Byron Collins.

It was the second time in 2½ years that the elder Quarles had been arrested in a fatal shooting at his home.

In July 1973, he was held in the shooting death of a woman who lived next door.

Police reports said Quarles argued with the woman over a baseball and then shot her. A murder warrant was issued but there is no record that Quarles was taken to court.

Arthur Treacher Dead At 81

MANHASSET, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Treacher, the British-born actor who portrayed the archtypical butler on stage, screen and television, is dead at the age of 81.

Woman's Crime Called For 'Cry For Help'

SEATTLE (AP) — Three years ago a 19-year-old woman with a face so deformed that "little kids ran away crying" threw a brick through a bank window and waited for police to arrest her.

Today she is starting a new life, thanks to the wisdom of a judge and the skill of surgeons at the University of Virginia.

King County Superior Court Judge Warren Chan, after reviewing the woman's record of damaging property but never harming people, determined the acts were a frantic cry for help from a woman ignored and ridiculed because of her birth defects.

After she pleaded guilty to second-degree burglary, he sentenced her to two years at the women's treatment center at Purdy and directed the Department of Social and Health Services, which administers the prisons, to provide medical, surgical and psychiatric help.

The medical task was a difficult one. She had a misshapen head, no nose, and uneven eyes. But last March the young woman was taken to the University of Virginia for the extensive plastic surgery.

The risky surgery involved moving her brain to reshape her head and working with delicate optic nerves. Teams of surgeons worked on her for 16 hours. A rib section became the bridge of her nose, skin was transplanted and her right eyeball was reset.

"I was willing to die to try to get a better face," she said recently while working at Moningside Industries which runs a training program near Seattle for the mentally and physically handicapped.

On parole, she is learning to be a microfilm technician.

"I will have a couple of more surgeries but they don't worry me," she said. "They'll make me look better and that's all I want, to be the same as anyone else."

The state so far has spent $13,000 and officials say at least that much more will be spent before the work is completed.

But based on the cost of imprisonment at Purdy at almost $40 a day, the state has struck a bargain. To keep her in prison for a year would cost more than $14,000.

The young woman, whose intelligence is about average, was tutored at home for the first five grades because she was sensitive to the cruel remarks. When she finally went to school her life became a nightmare. She became angry.

"I eventually struck out against the world. Those crimes I committed were because I was so desperately angry, hurt and resentful. I think I was trying to get someone's attention in a dramatic way. I was so upset I didn't know what I was doing."

The surgery has changed that. "It's made my life happier. It makes me feel so good that kids don't go run and hide."

Ex-St. Joe Woman Overcomes Bitter Times

Lynn Owen Finds Music Can Conquer Polio

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

You'd never know by looking into Lynn Owen's calm and gentle face today that much of her life has been filled with physical and mental anguish.

At 23, the former St. Joseph woman, now living in Muskegon, is part of that "last wave" of polio victims. She contracted poliomyelitis when 2 years old in the fall of 1954.

The next spring, Dr. Jonas Salk's miraculous vaccine that could have prevented her from walking with a limp for the rest of her life was released.

Miss Owen is a 1970 graduate of St. Joseph high school and is one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dean Owen. Steve is a senior at Notre Dame law school and Jim is a radio announcer in Warsaw, Wis. The Owen family moved to Muskegon in 1971.

Dean Owen was associated with the Netedu Advertising Agency in Benton Harbor for many years, then formed his own marketing firm after leaving Netedu.

At the present time, Owen is Executive Vice-President of Gray Trailer Sales in Muskegon.

Miss Owen, a music major at Muskegon Community College, has learned to tolerate the handicap which has been with her for as long as she can remember.

"I really don't remember much before I was 5," she said. "I can't say that I'm always glad I had it. But things have developed that might not have if I didn't have polio.

"I couldn't run like the other children, so I turned to music. It didn't come easily. I wasn't good immediately."

Miss Owen has an operatic soprano voice and had attended Indiana University for two years. She went as a theater major and music minor, but soon discovered the music school didn't accept music minors. So, she switched her two choices around.

Now, Miss Owen has decided to attend Hope college n Holland, Mich., and earn a degree in music education.

Just before her freshman year in college, Miss Owen had the final of several operations and a bone fusion on her legs. She had an earlier one on her hand.

The polio hit her in what she calls an "X" formation, affecting her right hand and arm and left leg most seriously as well as weakening her abdominal muscles. She wore a brace for three years.

The casts on her legs were removed just before she moved to Indiana, and she never quite relearned how to walk, she said.

"After my operation, I gained 50 pounds. And my grades," she said, shaking her head. "I was far more geared toward the social life than academic."

She halted her college education for two years and worked with Campus Crusade for Christ before returning to the university.

"My thinking had changed so much, yet not enough," she said. "So I went back to California. I put in for a job, and I didn't get it. They told me I needed to grow up. I was crushed, of course. But inside, I was very calm."

That was about 18 months ago, and things have since taken on a different direction. It's been a time to recoup and get in touch with her own feelings, she said.

"Self-acceptance is such a daily kind of thing," she said. "Each new situation tests you."

There have been bitter times in her life when she couldn't understand why she was one of the few persons in her age group confronted with polio.

"I don't think of myself as handicapped," she said, "but then I think I got off lightly. I find people are afraid they'll offend somebody else if they stare, or ask about it. Really, they're more embarrassed than I am.

"My philosophy is, it's part of me and I move on from there."

One of her changes in the past 18 months was to return to school, but this time she set a professional goal — Christian music.

"People will let you sing things to them they won't let you say," she said, quietly.

"I know at first I enjoyed being told that I sang well. I needed it. But to be told you sing 'so beautifully' is temporary. What I like to hear is people who

Garden Project Here For State Wards Wins National Recognition

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The American Public Welfare Association (APWA) today has given national recognition to a summer youth services project of the Berrien County Department of Social Services which represents "a creative contribution to the development of public welfare programs and services."

The project, called "Grow Together", will be among 18 new state and local public welfare service or administrative improvements featured in an Idea Fair at APWA's 1975 National Round Table conference. The conference is being held this week at the Marriott Hotel in New Orleans.

The 18 were selected for presentation from 38 entries received from all parts of the United States. Selection was based on evaluation by public welfare program and management specialists of uniqueness, documented improvement in service to clients or administration, or dollar savings to the agency.

A presentation on the project is scheduled for 4:20 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 16, and will be made by Marc Del Mariani, intake specialist; Arthur Kolberg, Jr., employment specialist; and Maureen McRae, supervisor of child welfare. All are on the staff of the Berrien county agency.

In announcing selection of the Berrien County program for recognition, Edward T. Weaver, Executive Director, APWA, commented:

"This program represents the sound, professional approach to public welfare administration advocated by the association. We've initiated the Idea Fair at this biennial National Round Table conference to draw attention to progress in the public welfare field and to give administrators and personnel of state and local agencies an opportunity to exchange views and ideas for improving services."

Wesley P. Bowerman, director of the Berrien County Department of Social Services, said the "Grow Together" program was started this past summer to give part-time employment to 32 juvenile state wards with a record of habitual police offenses.

"In the face of Michigan's widespread unemployment, there was no chance of finding jobs for these youngsters, Bowerman said. "Additionally, they were far from ready for employment. They needed to learn some basic — like the roles of employers and employees, how to work with others toward a common profit or goal, and the financial rewards of sotcking with a job."

To meet these needs, Del Mariani and Kolberg developed a summer farming project. Starting with $650 in "seed money" borrowed from the Berrien County Board of Social Services and 10 acres of unused industrial park land donated by the Twin Cities Chamber of Commerce, the two men set out on what was to become a growing, and sometimes painful, experience for 32 youth and the staff who worked with them.

Agriculturally, the plan was to cultivate a small cash-crop farm with three major crops: sweet corn, string beans, and tomatoes. None of the staff involved had farming experience, so a close working relationship was set up with the vocational agricultural department of the Benton Harbor school system. The specialists assisted in the use of equipment, initial land preparation, interim cultivation, and weed and pest control.

The social service side of the project proved more difficult. Since staff could not be spared from regular caseload responsibilities, and no additional workers could be hired, the five delinquency workers and four foster care workers assigned to the project worked long hours through the summer. Lack of funds caused other problems, too. Initially, the youngsters were paid in script which was to be cashed in when profits from sale of produce materialized.

"The kids considered the script a 'rip-off' and protested loudly," McRae recounted. "Since one of our aims was to give them an income so they would not be forced to use illegal means to obtain spending money, we had to find funds immediately rather than waiting for the profits of harvest to come in."

Fortunately, 12-week funding under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) was obtained early in the summer, and the young men could be paid in cash for their hours of work.

Bowerman said the 32 youngsters worked a total of 2,159 hours, an average of 67 hours per ward, with 10 putting in over 100 hours apiece at $2.10 an hour.

Del Mariani said a "career ladder" was set up for the project to give supervisory experience to as many of the young farmers as possible.

"Virtually all of these state wards had problems with employers in the past," Del Mariani explained. "We hoped that through assuming positions of responsibility for success of the project and the profits to be share by all, they would realize the difficulties associated with being a supervisor or employer."

A foreman was tentatively chosen by staff based on applications completed by interested members of the group. The candidate was presented to the youth as staff choice because he had several needed skills, and the group supported the choice. It was then decided that this foreman would supervise the field foreman who would be responsible for the field labor and, would also supervise the sales manager.

In turn, the sales manager would be responsible for the salesmen. The farm foreman would be accountable to staff project directors Del Mariani and Kolberg and also to the director of the Vo-Ag Department of the Benton Harbor school system.

The profit, according to staff, was in reduced recidivism for the state wards. Not one of the 32 had police contacts during the entire summer. A sample of 32 other wards not included in the project indicated a recidivism rate of 30 percent.

"Since participants were chosen for the project at random, the results were beyond our expectation," said McRae.

National Group Elects Upton

Stephen E. Upton of Shoreham, vice president of consumer and public affairs for Whirlpool corporation, has been elected to a one-year term as chairman of the board of the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers for 1976.

The association serves the appliance industry and the homemaking public by providing services such as representing the industry before government and the public, developing and presenting consumer affairs programs, preparing and releasing industry statistics, developing appliance standards, providing product certification, and by preparing and releasing educational materials, teaching aids and consumer press information.

STEPHEN E. UPTON

In addition to being elected chairman, Upton was also reelected to the board of directors for a three-year term by members of the association. AHAM's membership includes 35 major appliance manufacturing firms; 32 producers of portable appliances and 41 associate member companies which supply goods and services to the appliance industry.

In addition to serving as chairman of the board of AHAM, Upton also serves as a member of the executive committee and chairman of the service committee. He is a member of the National Panel of Consumer Arbitrators, Council of Better Business Bureaus, Inc., and serves on the board of directors of the Society of Consumer Affairs Professionals in Business.

As chairman of the board of AHAM, Upton will serve on the association's executive committee which has immediate responsibility for the operation of the 108-member trade organization, subject to the policies set by its board of directors.

Elected vice chairman of AHAM is Charles R. Evans, vice president, marketing, for Kitchen-Aid division of Hobart corporation, Troy, Ohio.

Scope President Named To Council

Lydia Demski, owner and president of Scope corporation in St. Joseph, has been appointed a member of the Michigan district advisory council of the Small Business Administration.

The appointment was announced by Louis F. Laun, acting administrator of the Small Business Administration.

Laun said that Mrs. Demski has been selected for council membership in recognition of her knowledge and interest in problems of small business.

As a member of the district council, she will take part in the semi-annual meetings where needs of the local small business community are discussed and means by which SBA can most effectively help are considered.

The advisory council also serves as a channel of information to local business and commercial interests regarding SBA programs and keeps the district director informed of current economic conditions. Members serve without pay for a two-year term.

In addition to her work at Scope, Mrs. Demski has been active with the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, United Way campaigns and local and national trade associations.

Pet Lioness Is A Scaredy-Cat

DEARBORN HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP) — Cricket, a 200-pound lioness, is afraid of one thing in the home where she is kept as a pet — the family's St. Bernard dog.

Although neighbors have shown some concern over having a lion nearby, police in Dearborn Heights say they can't find anything illegal about it the animal's presence.

"You're not allowed to have chickens, ducks, rabbits or cattle," said Officer Brian Fitzgerald after several hours of research. "But you're allowed to have lions, so far. We're still working on it."

The lioness is friendly and harmless, according to its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Warner, who let the pet romp in the basement with their children.

They said they brought the lion to their home from Texas.

Cricket's only problem is the Warner's St. Bernard, which generally stays upstairs.

"Besides being afraid of the dog," Mrs. Warner said, "Cricket likes to look out windows when she's upstairs. So we keep her in the basement so somebody walking down the street won't be startled."

Kentwood Driver Killed In Allegan

WAYLAND — Ronald Joe Stankey, 23, of Kentwood, was killed in a head-on auto crash northwest of here in Allegan county's Dorr township last night, according to state police at the Wayland post.

Police said Stankey was the driver of an auto that collided head-on with an auto driven by Julius G. Meyer, 36, of Zeeland, on 142nd avenue, at 7:45 p.m. Stankey was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Dale Kuiper of Wayland, Allegan county deputy medical examiner. Police said Meyer was treated and released from Grand Rapids Osteopathic hospital. There were no passengers in either vehicle, police said.

Police said it appeared that Stankey's car, headed east on 142nd avenue, crossed over the center line striking the Meyer auto.

19 Auto Deaths In Allegan County In 1975

Stankey's death was the 19th traffic fatality on Allegan county roads this year.

'I'M REALLY MY OWN BOSS'

Van Buren Woman Likes Garbage Collecting

LAWTON, Mich. (AP) — Going door-to-door picking up other peoples' garbage may not be every woman's cup of liberation tea, but Joan Burlew thinks it's just fine.

"I really like the work," she says, not the least bit defensive as she hefts another can onto the garbage truck.

Mrs. Burlew has been a house-to-house garbage collector in this area since last July, and it shows in the practiced ease with which short, muscular fingers swing a heavy can into position, the load spread between wrist, shoulder and back.

"I couldn't stand just sitting around the house all day, watching soap operas or something," she says. "It'd drive me crazy."

She and her husband, Mel, moved into a new subdivision near here last year. When she heard that a driver was needed for the Economy Disposal Service, she knew just the woman for the job.

Husband Mel didn't balk at the thought of being married to a garbage collector.

"He's always told me, 'Anything you really want to do, you do it,'" Joan says. "That's important to me."

There were more incredulous looks from some of the housewives on her route.

"At first, the women would ask me, "You do THAT?'" she recalls. "The men were surprised, too, and sometimes they'd offer to help with the cans."

Happily, "there wasn't any ridicule at all," she says. If there was any teasing on the home front, it ended when Mel took a job as driver for a container route in the Kalamazoo area.

"One of the things I like best about this job is that I'm really my own boss," Joan says. "I do all the bookeeping and billing for my routes. And since I work on a commission, it pays me to keep people happy.

"I'm not doing this to put men down. I can't stand women like that," Joan says. "I like it because it suits me. It keeps me on the move, and outdoors."

Full garbage cans can weigh anywhere up to 60 pounds.

She says the work "really isn't too hard — but you sure can tell when the canning season arrives."

One of the reasons that not many aspire to garbage collection is, of course, the stink that surrounds it.

But that doesn't bother them, the Burlews say.

"Before we moved here, we worked for a farmer in Marcellus," Joan explains. "He raised hogs."

Joan Little Arrested

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Joan Little, the 21-year-old black woman found innocent last August of charges she murdered her white jailer, was arrested Sunday night for not posting bond in her appeal of a breaking and entering conviction. Attorneys for Miss Little were scheduled to appear before the state Supreme Court today seeking reinstatement of bond and the woman's release. Police said Miss Little was arrested at a motel in Durham 23 miles away.

China Returns Flyer's Remains

HONG KONG (AP) — The ashes of two Americans killed in China during the Vietnam war were flown to a U.S. military identification laboratory in Thailand today for processing before being sent to the United States.

Joan Little Arrested

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Joan Little, the 21-year-old black woman found innocent last August of charges she murdered her white jailer, was arrested Sunday night for not posting bond in her appeal of a breaking and entering conviction. Attorneys for Miss Little were scheduled to appear before the state Supreme Court today seeking reinstatement of bond and the woman's release. Police said Miss Little was arrested at a motel in Durham 23 miles away.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Cautious Climb Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a slight gain today in a continuation of last week's cautious bargain hunting.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up about a point in the early going, and gainers held a narrow edge on losers at the New York Stock Exchange.

In the economic news, the Commerce Department reported that both business inventories and sales rose in October.

The figures were seen as further evidence of a pickup in economic activity. But analysts said investors were still inclined to be wary about the prospects for further progress in the recovery through the early part of next year.

Today's early prices included Polaroid, up ⅝ at 29; Chessie Sastem, unchanged at 32½; Avnet, up ⅛ at 9¼, and American Telephone & Telegraph, steady at 50.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average sneaked up .08 to 832.81, extending its gain for the week to 14.01.

But losers outnumbered gainers in both the daily and weekly tallies on the NYSE.

Friday's volume on the Big Board came to 13.10 million shares, a two-week low.

The exchange's composite index slipped .03 to 87.83, while the American Stock Exchange market value index picked up .20 to 81.92.

Eight Escape Blaze

Six children and two women escaped unharmed from a two-story farm house that caught fire this morning in Benton township.

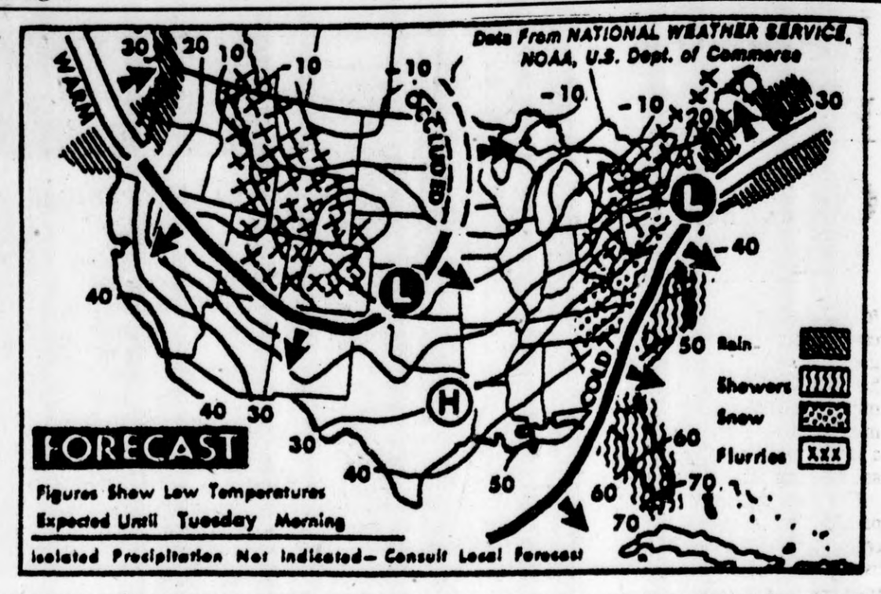

Mrs. Debbie Franks and her two children, who occupy the upstairs floor of the house at 2814 Britain avenue, fled through an upstairs window, Mrs. Franks said.

Mrs. Pat Perrone and her four children live downstairs and also escaped the house unharmed, she said.

Benton township firemen were still fighting the blaze at 9:30 this morning. They had not determined the cause of the fire, which caused heavy damage to the structure.

Mrs. Franks said she lowered her two small boys through a window to a friend below on the ground. She apparently had to jump to the ground.

Owner of the house was identified as Jack O'Brien, also of Britain avenue, firemen said.

TODAY'S WEATHER MAP: Continuing mild weather is forecast today for the East but showers or rain are expected for coastal states with snow and snow flurries inland from the Carolinas north. Cold weather is forecast for the West. Snow flurries are expected from the northern Rockies to the western Plains and Southwest. Rain is expected for the Pacific Northwest coast. (AP Wirephoto)

DIES: Arthur Treacher, the British-born actor who portrayed the archtypical butler on stage, screen and television, is dead at the age of 81. He died Sunday following an illness of several months. Treacher suffered from a heart condition. He was the founder of the Fish 'n' Chips food chain that bears his name. (AP Wirephoto)

North Central Establishes New Records

MINNEAPOLIS — North Central Airlines set new company records for November by carrying 353,910 passengers and flying 81.7 million passenger miles.

Both records were four percent higher than November 1974, when 338,920 passengers flew 78.3 million passenger miles. For the last five consecutive months, passenger traffic has increased over 1974. Cargo ton miles dropped four percent from 993,643 to 952,165, due largely to the suspension of air express service early in the month.

Through the first 11 months of 1975, North Central carried 4.1 million passengers and flew 967 million passenger miles. These totals are within one percent of 1974, when the fuel shortage in the early part of the year prompted many people to fly rather than drive. Cargo ton miles are off 10 percent at 10.5 million.

Operationally, the airline completed 98.7 percent of the 26.6 million scheduled miles through November of this year, and 84 percent of its 204,682 scheduled arrivals were on time.

North Central serves 90 cities in 13 states and Canada over a 10,200-mile route system. The airline annually carries 4.5 million passengers and flies a billion passenger miles.

Roll-Over Sends Pair To Hospital

NEW BUFFALO — Two Three Rivers men injured Saturday night when their auto rolled over on I-94 near here remained hospitalized this morning.

State police from the New Buffalo post said today that troopers remained uncertain who was driving the auto that rolled four times near the Mauldlin road overpass in New Buffalo township.

Police said Willie Crump, 31, and Wallace Perryman, 26, both of Three Rivers, were thrown from the auto as it rolled over.

A spokesman at St. Anthony's hosptial, Michigan City, Ind., said Crump was listed in critical condition, while Perryman was reported to be in satisfactory condition.

The auto was registered to Crump, police reported, but troopers said they had made no determination who was driving the vehicle.

The 10:10 p.m. crash remains under investigation police said.

Incident Leaves 2 Wounded

Two men, one an apparently innocent bystander, were wounded and a Benton Harbor man arrested after a shooting incident Saturday at the corner of Paw Paw avenue and East Main street, city police reported.

Treated for two bullet wounds in his right leg and released from Mercy hospital was Stewart Raines, 27, no address listed. Police said Ray Hampton was hit once in the leg as he walked out of a store and was not involved in an argument between two men that witnesses said sparked the shooting. Hampton, 44, of 413 Territorial road, was treated and released for a bullet wound in the left leg.

Booked at the Berrien county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon was Roosevelt Perkins, 26, Milner Hotel. Witnesses to the 9:30 p.m. incident told police two men were arguing when one pulled a handgun and fired three times.

State Farm Raising Auto Rates

MARSHALL, Mich. (AP)— State Farm Mutual is raising its auto insurance rates an average of 10.7 per cent across Michigan starting Jan. 15.

Charles Trubac, Michigan regional vice president for State Farm, said the increases will average about $16 per year. He said it will be the firm's first general increase since October, 1970.

Average increases ranged from 32.2 per cent in Detroit and 15.9 per cent in Jackson to 2.8 in Ottawa, Tuscola and Lapeer counties and 3.2 per cent in Northeastern Lower Michigan. State Farm, which says it is the state's second largest car insurer, covers about 720,000 autos.

Trubac blamed the increases upon increasing frequency of accidents plus soaring auto repair and medical care costs. He contended the firm lost $4 million on its Michigan auto insurance during the first nine months of this year.

BY Sylvia Porter — YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

BEWARE: VENDING MACHINE SWINDLE

"Four distributors wanted, immediate income, 8 hours a week nets you from $5,000 to $15,000 a year. Part-time or full time. Get in on the ground floor of this automatic merchandising opportunity. Large national concern looking for a few highly motivated self-starters to operate established routes in this area. Minimum investment, $3,500 secured by inventory. Written buy-back agreement. After this, you can't say that you never had your chance to make it. Call us for information . . ."

This hypothetical ad is similar to ads you'll see now in most business opportunity columns all over the U.S. More often than not, it is an invitation to be taken in. The "automatic merchandising" program turns out to be vending machines or perhaps merchandise racks. The "national concern" is really a group of promoters looking for people with savings to "invest" in an inventory of merchandise. The merchandise, vending machines or display racks offer none of the "security" touted in the ads.

Newspaper officials — particularly the leading papers in our country — are on the constant lookout for business opportunity ads which may result in a ripoff of their readers. There is no doubt that they try to eliminate the gypsters from their pages. But it is extremely difficult to differentiate between the ad offering an honest deal and the come-on of the vending machine swindler.

The con man makes his money by selling the machines and merchandise to the victim; the company makes its money on the reorders of the merchandise that the investor puts in to satisfy consumer demand for the merchandise.

But generally, there is no consumer demand. The investor ends up with the machines or racks and a garage full of hot dogs, soup, lipstick, pantyhose, whatever.

Why don't law enforcement agencies do more? A few are interested. As for consumer agencies, they usually are restricted to civil actions, which are rarely effective against business opportunities swindlers. And a criminal prosecutor has to prove intent beyond reasonable doubt to obtain a criminal fraud conviction. That's difficult.

So what can you do? If you are victimized by one of the schemes, write in detail to the nearest office of the U.S. Attorney — and help him eliminate that specific fraud.

If you have seen the ad in a newspaper, write to the publisher, make your complaint as specific as possible: list dates, places, names, who-said-what. The publisher will be grateful for the help you give in eliminating this fraud.

— And to start with, don't be taken in by unbelievable claims. Ask yourself: If it's so easy to make so much money, why does the company have to advertise in a newspaper? Why am I getting $15,000 a year for a $3,000 investment? Why doesn't the company make that money for itself?

— Never believe a claim by a vending machine salesman unless it's in writing and you verify it independently by your own investigation. Check out the claims with other investors by writing to them. Get their written replies.

— Ignore the saleman's flattery. Be honest about your own qualifications to run a business. Admit your own limitations. Do you really know anything about merchandising? Are you really a good enough salesman to develop and maintain successful relationships with 20 or more retail merchants where these machines and racks will be located?

— If the promoter boasts of a nationally known manufacturer in his sales pitch, check with the manufacturer to be sure the company in fact endorses the company. If it doesn't, be warned right there. And don't be impressed by companies with high-sounding words such as "international" or "general" in their names.

— After the salesman has finished his pitch to you, talk to the men behind the operation. Verify what the salesman has told you. Visit the company at their place of business. You may learn they don't even have a place of business.

— A final tip: have more faith in your own experience than in a promoter's promise. Enlightened skepticism can help you hold on to your lifetime's savings.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Long Or Short Term? Buy To Suit Goals

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. — When you discuss high quality bonds, you should — it seems to me — make clear whether they are long-term or short-term. Some time ago we bought U. S. Steel 4⅝s of 1996. They sell around 64. Other bonds we own mature in 1976, '77, '78 and '79. They are all around 100. Which is best — long- or short- term?

A. — Best for what?

If you want your money back in two or three years, you buy a bond which comes due then. If you want maximum current income from a bond — and are willing to take your chances with interest rate levels over the next 15, 20 or 30 years — you will get that income from long-term bonds.

As far as labeling bonds short- or long-term: The "label" is indicated right in the name of the bond. U. S. Steel 4⅝s of 1996 are due in 1996; Mountain States Telephone 9⅝s of 2015 are due in 2015, and Mountain States 8.7 per cent of 1981 are due in 1981. What more can anyone add?

Q. — How does one buy corporate bonds?

A. — Corporate bonds are securities — and handled by a securities broker.

Q. — In discussing market price fluctuation in even high grade bonds — isn't it true that if you hold to maturity you get full value?

A. — Right.

Q. — I am 52, have recently sold my home for $35,000 and will move to another section of the country. I don't know whether I will find a job there. What would you suggest I do with the $35,000?

A. — It seems to me the most conservative vehicle for this meney would be a savings account — at least until you become established in your new home. You certainly can't put it into any security which may be down in price just when you have to take the money out.

Q. — I am a widow, 62, with securities and about $10,000 in savings. I'd like to leave some money for my children although they are doing well; but I'd also like to take a trip abroad. It helps preserve my sanity.

A. — Anything which can help preserve sanity in these topsy-turvy days is well worth the money. Preserve your sanity now. Let your children take care of theirs later.

Q. — You wrote recently of a retired couple who were warned by the mutual fund that they were drawing out funds at a rate which would exhaust their capital. I am a widow holding 3,134 shares of a mutual fund. At the death of my husband the fund suggested I take a monthly withdrawal, but I declined. Should I do so now, or switch to another fund. If I did what income could I expect?

A. — At a net asset value per share of about $11, you have about $35,000 invested. Your present fund yielded about 4.2 per cent ' year, which is fair consid. ng it aims at both income and capital gain and is fully invested in common shares.

However, you should now aim at doubling that return — to somewhere around $3,000 a year. This would require a payout of a bit above 8 per cent. If the fund organization has a bond fund into which you could switch for a total fee of $5 and if the yield is around this level, make the change. Otherwise you may have to redeem and go into top quality corporate bonds which are now yielding around 9 per cent, plus.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Cautious Climb Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a slight gain today in a continuation of last week's cautious bargain hunting.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up about a point in the early going, and gainers held a narrow edge on losers at the New York Stock Exchange.

In the economic news, the Commerce Department reported that both business inventories and sales rose in October.

The figures were seen as further evidence of a pickup in economic activity. But analysis said investors were still inclined to be wary about the prospects for further progress in the recovery through the early part of next year.

Today's early prices included Polaroid, up ⅝ at 29; Chessie Sastem, unchanged at 32½; Avnet, up ⅛ at 9¼, and American Telephone & Telegraph, steady at 50.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average sneaked up .08 to 832.81, extending its gain for the week to 14.01.

But losers outnumbered gainers in both the daily and weekly tallies on the NYSE.

Friday's volume on the Big Board came to 13.10 million shares, a two-week low.

The exchange's composite index slipped .03 to 87.83, while the American Stock Exchange market value index picked up .20 to 81.92.

Eight Escape Blaze

Six children and two women escaped unharmed from a two-story farm house that caught fire this morning in Benton township.

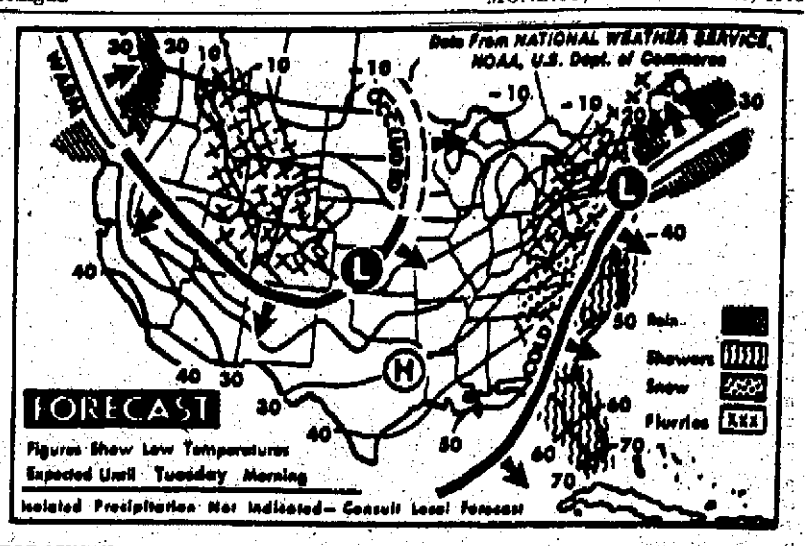

Mrs. Debbie Franks and her two children, who occupy the upstairs floor of the house at 2814 Britain avenue, fled through an upstairs window, Mrs. Franks said.

Mrs. Pat, Perrone and her four children live downstairs and also escaped the house unharmed, she said.

Benton township firemen were still fighting the blaze at 9:30 this morning. They had not determined the cause of the fire, which caused heavy damage to the structure.

Mrs. Franks said she lowered her two small boys through a window to a friend below on the ground. She apparently had to jump to the ground.

Owner of the house was identified as Jack O'Brien, also of Britain avenue, firemen said.

TODAY'S WEATHER MAP: Continuing mild weather is forecast today for the East but showers or rain are expected for coastal states with snow and snow flurries inland from the Carolinas north. Cold weather is forecast for the West. Snow flurries are expected from the northern Rockies to the western Plains and Southwest. Rain is expected for the Pacific Northwest coast. (AP Wirephoto)

State Farm Raising Auto Rates

MARSHALL, Mich. (AP)— State Farm Mutual is raising its auto insurance rates an average of 10.7 per cent across Michigan starting Jan. 15.

Charles Trubac, Michigan regional vice president for State Farm, said the increases will average about $16 per year. He said it will be the firm's first general increase since October, 1970.

Average increases ranged from 32.2 per cent in Detroit and 13.9 per cent in Jackson to 2.8 in Ottawa, Tuscola and Lapeer counties and 3.2 per cent in Northeastern Lower Michigan. State Farm, which says it is the state's second largest car insurer, covers about 720,000 autos.

Trubac blamed the increases upon increasing frequency of accidents plus soaring auto repair and medical care costs. He contended the firm lost $4 million on its Michigan auto insurance during the first nine months of this year.

Sylvia Porter YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

BEWARE: VENDING MACHINE SWINDLE

"Four distributors wanted, immediate income, 8 hours a week nets you from $5,000 to $15,000 a year. Part-time or full time. Get in on the ground floor of this automatic merchandising opportunity. Large national concern looking for a few highly motivated self-starters to operate established routes in this area. Minimum investment, $3,500 secured by inventory. Written buy-back agreement. After this, you can't say that you never had your chance to make it. Call us for information . . ."

This hypothetical ad is similar to ads you'll see now in most business opportunity columns all over the U.S. More often than not, it is an invitation to be taken in. The "automatic merchandising" program turns out to be vending machines or perhaps merchandise racks. The "national concern" is really a group of promoters looking for people with savings to "invest" in an inventory of merchandise. The merchandise, vending machines or display racks offer none of the "security" touted in the ads.

Newspaper officials — particularly the leading papers in our country — are on the constant lookout for business opportunity ads which may result in a ripoff of their readers. There is no doubt that they try to eliminate the gypsters from their pages. But it is extremely difficult to differentiate between the ad offering an honest deal and the come-on of the vending machine swindler.

The con man makes his money by selling the machines and merchandise to the victim; the company makes its money on the reorders of the merchandise that the investor puts in to satisfy consumer demand for the merchandise.

But generally, there is no consumer demand. The investor ends up with the machines or racks and a garage full of hot dogs, soup, lipstick, pantyhose, whatever.

Why don't law enforcement agencies do more? A few are interested. As for consumer agencies, they usually are restricted to civil actions, which are rarely effective against business opportunities swindlers. And a criminal prosecutor has to prove intent beyond reasonable doubt to obtain a criminal fraud conviction. That's difficult.

So what can you do? If you are victimized by one of the schemes, write in detail to the nearest office of the U.S. Attorney — and help him eliminate that specific fraud.

If you have seen the ad in a newspaper, write to the publisher, make your complaint as specific as possible: list dates, places, names, who-said-what. The publisher will be grateful for the help you give in eliminating this fraud.

— And to start with, don't be taken in by unbelievable claims. Ask yourself: If it's so easy to make so much money, why does the company have to advertise in a newspaper? Why am I getting $15,000 a year for a $3,000 investment? Why doesn't the company make that money for itself?

— Never believe a claim by a vending machine salesman unless it's in writing and you verify it independently by your own investigation. Check out the claims with other investors by writing to them. Get their written replies.

— Ignore the salesman's flattery. Be honest about your own qualifications to run a business. Admit your own limitations. Do you really know anything about merchandising? Are you really a good enough salesman to develop and maintain successful relationships with 20 or more retail merchants where these machines and racks will be located?

— If the promoter boasts of a nationally known manufacturer in his sales pitch, check with the manufacturer to be sure the company in fact endorses the company. If it doesn't, be warned right there. And don't be impressed by companies with high-sounding words such as "international" or "general" in their names.

— After the salesman has finished his pitch to you, talk to the men behind the operation. Verify what the salesman has told you. Visit the company at their place of business. You may learn they don't even have a place of business.

— A final tip: have more faith in your own experience than in a promoter's promise. Enlightened skepticism can help you hold on to your lifetime's savings.

SERVICE WRECKED

SUVA, Fiji (AP) — Air service in Tonga has been disrupted by two joyriders who wrecked the South Sea islands' only passenger plane.

North Central Establishes New Records

MINNEAPOLIS — North Central Airlines set new company records for November by carrying 353,910 passengers and flying 81.7 million passenger miles.

Both records were four percent higher than November 1974, when 338,920 passengers flew 78.3 million passenger miles. For the last five consecutive months, passenger traffic has increased over 1974. Cargo ton miles dropped four percent from 993,643 to 952,165, due largely to the suspension of air express service early in the month.

Through the first 11 months of 1975, North Central carried 4.1 million passengers and flew 967 million passenger miles. These totals are within one percent of 1974, when the fuel shortage in the early part of the year prompted many people to fly rather than drive. Cargo ton miles are off 10 percent at 10.5 million.

Operationally, the airline completed 98.7 percent of the 26.6 million scheduled miles through November of this year, and 84 percent of its 204,682 scheduled arrivals were on time.

North Central serves 80 cities in 13 states and Canada over a 10,200-mile route system. The airline annually carries 4.5 million passengers and flies 3 billion passenger miles.

Roll-Over Sends Pair To Hospital

NEW BUFFALO — Two Three Rivers men injured Saturday night when their auto rolled over on I-94 near here remained hospitalized this morning.

State police from the New Buffalo post said today that troopers remained uncertain who was driving the auto that rolled four times near the Mauldlin road overpass in New Buffalo township.

Police said Willie Crump, 31, and Wallace Perryman, 26, both of Three Rivers, were thrown from the auto as it rolled over.

A spokesman at St. Anthony's hospital, Michigan City, Ind., said Crump was listed in critical condition, while Perryman was reported to be in satisfactory condition.

The auto was registered to Crump, police reported, but troopers said they had made no determination who was driving the vehicle.

The 10:10 p.m. crash remains under investigation police said.

Incident Leaves 2 Wounded

Two men, one an apparently innocent bystander, were wounded and a Benton Harbor man arrested after a shooting incident Saturday at the corner of Paw Paw avenue and East Main street, city police reported.

Treated for two bullet wounds in his right leg and released from Mercy hospital was Stewart Raines, 27, no address listed. Police said Ray Hampton was hit once in the leg as he walked out of a store and was not involved in an argument between two men that witnesses said sparked the shooting. Hampton, 44, of 413 Territorial road, was treated and released for a bullet wound in the left leg.

Booked at the Berrien county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon was Roosevelt Perkins, 26, Milner Hotel. Witnesses to the 9:30 p.m. incident told police two men were arguing when one pulled a handgun and fired three times.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Long Or Short Term? Buy To Suit Goals

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. — When you discuss high quality bonds, you should — it seems to me — make clear whether they are long-term or short-term. Some time ago we bought U. S. Steel 4⅝s of 1996. They sell around 64. Other bonds we own mature in 1976, '77, '78 and '79. They are all around 100. Which is best — long- or short- term?

A. — Best for what?

If you want your money back in two or three years, you buy a bond which comes due then. If you want maximum current income from a bond — and are willing to take your chances with interest rate levels over the next 15, 20 or 30 years — you will get that income from long-term bonds.

As far as labeling bonds short- or long-term: The "label" is indicated right in the name of the bond. U. S. Steel 4⅝s of 1996 are due in 1996; Mountain States Telephone 9⅝s of 2015 are due in 2015, and Mountain States 8.7 per cent of 1981 are due in 1981. What more can anyone add?

Q. — How does one buy corporate bonds?

A. — Corporate bonds are securities — and handled by a securities broker.

Q. — In discussing market price fluctuation in even high grade bonds — isn't it true that if you hold to maturity you get full value?

A. — Right.

Q. — I am 52, have recently sold my home for $35,000 and will move to another section of the country. I don't know whether I will find a job there. What would you suggest I do with the $35,000?

A. — It seems to me the most conservative vehicle for this money would be a savings account — at least until you become established in your new home. You certainly can't put it into any security which may be down in price just when you have to take the money out.

Q. — I am a widow, 62, with securities and about $10,000 in savings. I'd like to leave some money for my children although they are doing well; but I'd also like to take a trip abroad. It helps preserve my sanity.

A. — Anything which can help preserve sanity in these topsy-turvy days is well worth the money. Preserve your sanity now. Let your children take care of theirs later.

Q. — You wrote recently of a retired couple who were warned by the mutual fund that they were drawing out funds at a rate which would exhaust their capital. I am a widow holding 3,134 shares of a mutual fund. At the death of my husband the fund suggested I take a monthly withdrawal, but I declined. Should I do so now, or switch to another fund. If I did what income could I expect?

A. — At a net asset value per share of about $11, you have about $35,000 invested. Your present fund yielded about 4.2 per cent [illegible] year, which is fair consid[illegible]ng it aims at both income and capital gain and is fully invested in common shares.

However, you should now aim at doubling that return — to somewhere around $3,000 a year. This would require a payout of a bit above 8 per cent. If the fund organization has a bond fund into which you could switch for a total fee of $5 and if the yield is around this level, make the change. Otherwise you may have to redeem and go into top quality corporate bonds which are now yielding around 9 per cent, plus.

Readers Express Opinions

for survival in many cases. My case is primarily against handguns, which are useless for hunting and whose primary purpose and function is to kill or maim another human being. As a society, we should "grow up" and face this fact.

The early pioneer days have passed for every advanced country in the world, including us, yet we alone continue to respond to the turbulence of our times as if we are still settlers surrounded by angry tribes. We cannot see that it is our stubborn retention of firearms that creates an atmosphere of lawlessness. Criminals take their cue from society at large.

In England, where no citizen has a gun, and even police have to make a special request to carry one, the criminal element goes largely disarmed, also. Every nation gets the sort of criminal it asks for and deserves.

As long as we continue to live in the past, present as well as future problems will elude us.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE CRITICIZES EDITORIAL

Editor,

It is interesting to note your quote of Thomas Jefferson as a preface to your editorial opinion, however, with respect to your opinion of December 5, 1975, on the subject of Michigan's Environmental Protection Act, I think Jefferson might have amended his remarks to include the responsibility of newspapers to present accurate representations of fact, even when expressing a viewpoint.

Although I disagree with the posture of your editorial, this is not my purpose in writing, but rather to cite the gross inaccuracies of fact that obviously misinform and mislead your readers. I would characterize your comments as the dissemination of misinformation based on second hand knowledge or false assumptions. It would appear that your editorial of December 5th was written purely for the sake of criticism, void of factual accounts and creditability.

Your fundamental errors as labeling me, Thomas J. Anderson, as a professor in the U-M Law School, leads me to conclude that you failed to examine even the basics of the issue and further confused the subject. Personally, I am not offended by this inaccuracy, but I do think your readers deserve correctness of copy. For your own record, the professor you speak of is Joseph Sax, internationally known and respected environmental law instructor at the University of Michigan and the author of the Environmental Protection Act of 1970. Myself, I am State Representative Thomas J. Anderson, as I have been for some 12 years, and I was the legislative sponsor of the Michigan E-P-A as it became law in 1970. My name is attached to the Act as is that of former State Senator Gordon Rockwell.

Act 127 of the Public Acts of 1970 (Environmental Protection Act) was, prior to its adoption, House Bill 3055 which I sponsored. The history of this bill, from the time of its introduction in the House of Representatives to the moment it was signed into law by the Governor, is preserved in the State Archives. I would suggest that you might take the time to examine these materials in order to gain an accurate knowledge of the extensive consideration of this bill by both the legislature and the citizens of this state, before it became law.

Your editorial remarks assume that the bill "sailed" through the legislature, and that few legislators bothered to read the measure before voting. On both counts you are wrong. Review the record. The Environmental Protection Act was perhaps one of the most extensively discussed, debated and publicized bills before the legislature in recent years. Public response was phenomenal as recorded in the many public hearings of the time and thousands of letters that flooded legislative desks. Debate on the passage of the bill, in both Houses, was exhaustive and I assure you that every legislator was familiar with the issue prior to the vote.

Further, your opinionated inaccuracy singles out one of the most important features of the Environmental Protection Act, which should correctly read, "or is likely to" pollute, as a prejudgment of guilt. First of all the question is not one of guilt or innocence, but rather, as an example, did industry X bother to review the environmental impact of their project plan and take reasonable measures to correct adverse effects, if any. The question of "or is likely to" is a public safeguard to allow examination of environmental questions before pollution occurs. With little difficulty we can provide numerous examples of pollution problems that should have been anticipated, that did occur, and were extremely difficult to eliminate in an after-the-fact situation. These are matters injurious to public health and, I might add, would have been less expensive to resolve in the beginning rather than after an industrial complex was built and damage has been done.

The Environmental Protection Act accomplishes two important things; one, a public policy of a clean and healthful environment and the importance of this to all concerned, and, two, a legal tool for anyone, including citizens, industries and government agencies, to litigate and resolve potentially harmful effects to our environment, regardless of the source. I was astounded by your statement that "any obstructionist can hold up indefinitely in court any new business or industrial projection on the flimsy ground it may influence the environment to some extent." This statement is not only a hostile and extremely exaggerated remark, it represents a direct slap at the courts more than the Environmental Protection Act. I would further suggest that while you are examining the legislative history of the E-P-A, you might also review the court records of E-P-A cases since 1970. The facts will clearly refute your opinion.

In conclusion, I am quite naturally disappointed that your editorial staff has elected to verbally abuse the E-P-A, but this is obviously a philosophical difference that we have and I support your right of opinion. However, this is not just a matter between you and me, but one of wide exposure to the general public and most certainly should be based on fact rather than emotion so that all concerned can draw accurate conclusions. The Environmental Protection Act is not an anti-economic nor anti-industrial law and it is most unfortunate that some have singled it out as the whipping boy during this economic slump. I'll stand by the record, which I hope you'll bother to read.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Officers Report Nun Flattened, Purse Snatched

Benton Harbor police said a nun was knocked down and her purse stolen Saturday about 6:15 p.m. on Catalpa avenue just outside St. John's Catholic convent.

Sister Marie Murphy, St. John's convent, 630 Columbus avenue, told police she wa not injured. She said a youth, about 17 years of age, came from behind her, knocked her down and took her purse containing $11 in cash. She said the thief fled on foot.

A 65-year-old Benton Harbor man told police he was robbed by three men armed with a shotgun outside his apartment hen he went to check on glass breaking in another part of the building. He was not injured.

John Smith, 255 Lake avenue, said the three took $86 in cash from his wallet when he encountered them on the porch of the apartment house. The three then fled on foot after the 7:30 p.m. incident.

Police indicated a window was found broken in another part of the building.

Benton Harbor police investigated seven thefts over the weekend in which goods valued at more than $2,000 were stolen and cash amounting to $285 was taken. They included:

—An electric typewriter, a clarinet and a saxophone, all valued at more than $550, from the Berrien County Performing Arts center, 145 West Main street.

—A portable color television and telephone, valued at $422, from the residence of Linda McGee, 764 Highland avenue.

—A camera, valued at $400, and $145 in cash from the apartment of Patrick Morrison, 770 Colfax.

—An amplifier, valued at $300, from St. Paul Church, 380 South McCord street.

—A stereo record player and clothing from the residence of Emery McClinton, 263 Morton street.

—A .25 caliber pistol, valued at $40, and $140 in cash from the home of Robert Jackson, 1188 Ogden avenue.

—A public address system, valued at $125, from the residence of Vickie Clark, 169 South Hull avenue.

STRIKE CONTINUES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post's deadline for an end to a 75-day strike by its pressmen's union passed at midnight Sunday with no developments, newspaper spokesmen said.

Car Jumps Tracks At Marcellus

MARCELLUS — One car on an eastbound Grand Trunk freight train derailed here early this morning, blocking traffic at three crossings for about two hours.

Frances Bowers, Marcellus village clerk, said the car went off the rails about 6:45 a.m., damaging crossings at Center, Burney, and Main streets. She said the engine was uncoupled by the impact, but was later able to move the cars away from the crossings by about 8:45 a.m.

Cause of the derailment was not immediately clear, but Mrs. Bowers said no one was injured.

Niles Home Loot Valued Over $1,800

NILES — Rick Radka, 2816 South 11th street, Niles, told state police from the Niles post that a drum set and electrical appliances valued at over $1,800 were taken in a break-in of his house last night.

Radka said he returned home about 11:15 p.m. yesterday and found a locked back door had been forced open.

Items reported taken included a drum set valued at $1,000, and a stereo record player and speakers valued at $800.

Also reported taken, all of unknown value, were a portable television set, two tape players, a shotgun, a clock radio and between 70 and 80 stereo tapes, troopers said.

Fire Hits Residence In Niles

NILES — Fire of undetermined origin swept through the Lucius Young home at 32 Cass street here last night, Niles firemen said.

Firemen said Young reported that he was watching television when he heard a loud noise and fire broke out in the basement furnace room of the two-story house about 7:48 p.m.

No cause for the blaze has been determined, but firemen theorized that either a faulty furnace or lightning striking an electrical power line leading to the house may have started the fire.

Firemen said the interior of the house was extensively damaged but said no damage estimate has been made.

Young escaped unharmed and there were no injuries to firemen. The electrical line leading to the house fell on a fire truck during the blaze and city utility employes were called to remove the line, firemen said.

Dead Surgeon Wins Acquittal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A neurosurgeon who died eight months ago has been acquitted of malpractice for performing two lobotomies on a patient.

Stanley Chase, 39, claimed the operations, in 1967 and 1969, had impaired his mental and physical functions and resulted in partial paralysis and loss of emotions and judgment.

Three Oaks Fire Chief Re-Elected

THREE OAKS — James Flick, 604 South Elm street, Three Oaks, was re-elected chief of the Three Oaks volunteer fire department during the department's recent annual business meeting here.

Other fire department officers elected were Wally Lowery, assistant chief; Kenneth Myers, captain; Larry Zebell, secretary-treasurer; Walter Avery, lieutenant; and Donald Portinga, sergeant. The department has 24 volunteer members.

FIRE KILLS 138

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A flash fire roared across a tent city on the outskirts of Mecca, Islam's holy city, killing 138 Moslem pilgrims and injuring 151, the Saudi Arabian government radio reported today.

say the words of a particular song helped them."

Miss Owen said she always wishes she could turn and tell these people about her personal relationship with the Lord, but she doesn't believe in "cramming the Bible down people's throats."

Another milestone in Miss Owen's year was competing in the Miss Muskegon County pageant last spring — where she won talent honors, was third runnerup and was n the queen's court.

"I was fat, older than the others and had polio," she recalled. "And I thought it was a cattle drive at first."

Miss Owen didn't tell any of her friends about entering the pageant tryouts for a long time because "being in a beauty pageant was so out of my concept for myself."

But she chose an operatic score, dieted stringently and began working with the other contestants at a health salon. Remarkable things happened to her legs, and eventually her limp.

"I'm walking better than I ever have before," she said. "And it's all because of the exercises."

She was still concerned about appearing in the swim suit competition at the pageant. But she had a long talk with herself about inner and outer beauty, she said, and decided to go through with it.

Miss Owen, who calls herself a fundamentalist, is active in the Olivet Evangelical Free Church and performs as a guest artist in Muskegon area churches as well.

"You really have to have a mental concept of yourself when singing," she said. "When I'm performing, I want to communicate. I want to tell you something. That's why I chose Christian music.

"You know, if I had to make the choice now of never seeing again or never singing, I'd choose to sing forever."

Readers Express Opinions

for survival in many cases. My case is primarily against handguns, which are useless for hunting and whose primary purpose and function is to kill or maim another human being. As a society, we should "grow up" and face this fact.

The early pioneer days have passed for every advanced country in the world, including us, yet we alone continue to respond to the turbulence of our times as if we are still settlers surrounded by angry tribes. We cannot see that it is our stubborn retention of firearms that creates an atmosphere of lawlessness. Criminals take their cue from society at large.

In England, where no citizen has a gun, and even police have to make a special request to carry one, the criminal element goes largely disarmed, also. Every nation gets the sort of criminal it asks for and deserves.

As long as we continue to live in the past, present as well as future problems will elude us.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE CRITICIZES EDITORIAL

Editor,

It is interesting to note your quote of Thomas Jefferson as a preface to your editorial opinion, however, with respect to your opinion of December 5, 1975, on the subject of Michigan's Environmental Protection Act, I think Jefferson might have amended his remarks to include the responsibility of newspapers to present accurate representations of fact, even when expressing a viewpoint.

Although I disagree with the posture of your editorial, this is not my purpose in writing, but rather to cite the gross inaccuracies of fact that obviously misinform and mislead your readers. I would characterize your comments as the dissemination of misinformation based on second hand knowledge or false assumptions. It would appear that your editorial of December 5th was written purely for the sake of criticism, void of factual accounts and creditability.

Your fundamental errors as labeling me, Thomas J. Anderson, as a professor in the U-M Law School, leads me to conclude that you failed to examine even the basics of the issue and further confused the subject. Personally, I am not offended by this inaccuracy, but I do think your readers deserve correctness of copy. For your own record, the professor you speak of is Joseph Sax, internationally known and respected environmental law instructor at the University of Michigan and the author of the Environmental Protection Act of 1970. Myself, I am State Representative Thomas J. Anderson, as I have been for some 12 years, and I was the legislative sponsor of the Michigan E-P-A as it became law in 1970. My name is attached to the Act as is that of former State Senator Gordon Rockwell.

Act 127 of the Public Acts of 1970 (Environmental Protection Act) was, prior to its adoption, House Bill 3055 which I sponsored. The history of this bill, from the time of its introduction in the House of Representatives to the moment it was signed into law by the Governor, is preserved in the State Archives. I would suggest that you might take the time to examine these materials in order to gain an accurate knowledge of the extensive consideration of this bill by both the legislature and the citizens of this state, before it became law.

Your editorial remarks assume that the bill "sailed" through the legislature, and that few legislators bothered to read the measure before voting. On both counts you are wrong. Review the record. The Environmental Protection Act was perhaps one of the most extensively discussed, debated and publicized bills before the legislature in recent years. Public response was phenomenal as recorded in the many public hearings of the time and thousands of letters that flooded legislative desks. Debate on the passage of the bill, in both Houses, was exhaustive and I assure you that every legislator was familiar with the issue prior to the vote.

Further, your opinionated inaccuracy singles out one of the most important features of the Environmental Protection Act, which should correctly read, "or is likely to" pollute, as a prejudgment of guilt. First of all the question is not one of guilt or innocence, but rather, as an example, did industry X bother to review the environmental impact of their project plan and take reasonable measures to correct adverse effects, if any. The question of "or is likely to" is a public safeguard to allow examination of environmental questions before pollution occurs. With little difficulty we can provide numerous examples of pollution problems that should have been anticipated, that did occur, and were extremely difficult to eliminate in an after-the-fact situation. These are matters injurious to public health and, I might add, would have been less expensive to resolve in the beginning rather than after an industrial complex was built and damage has been done.

The Environmental Protection Act accomplishes two important things; one, a public policy of a clean and healthful environment and the importance of this to all concerned, and, two, a legal tool for anyone, including citizens, industries and government agencies, to litigate and resolve potentially harmful effects to our environment, regardless of the source. I was astounded by your statement that "any obstructionist can hold up indefinitely in court any new business or industrial projection on the flimsy ground it may influence the environment to some extent." This statement is not only a hostile and extremely exaggerated remark, it represents a direct slap at the courts more than the Environmental Protection Act. I would further suggest that while you are examining the legislative history of the E-P-A, you might also review the court records of E-P-A cases since 1970. The facts will clearly refute your opinion.

In conclusion, I am quite naturally disappointed that your editorial staff has elected to verbally abuse the E-P-A, but this is obviously a philosophical difference that we have and I support your right of opinion. However, this is not just a matter between you and me, but one of wide exposure to the general public and most certainly should be based on fact rather than emotion so that all concerned can draw accurate conclusions. The Environmental Protection Act is not an anti-economic nor anti-industrial law and it is most unfortunate that some have singled it out as the whipping boy during this economic slump. I'll stand by the record, which I hope you'll bother to read.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Officers Report Nun Flattened, Purse Snatched

Benton Harbor police said a nun was knocked down and her purse stolen Saturday about 6:15 p.m. on Catalpa avenue just outside St. John's Catholic convent.

Sister Marie Murphy, St. John's convent, 630 Columbus avenue, told police she wa not injured. She said a youth, about 17 years of age, came from behind her, knocked her down and took her purse containing $11 in cash. She said the thief fled on foot.

A 65-year-old Benton Harbor man told police he was robbed by three men armed with a shotgun outside his apartment hen he went to check on glass breaking in another part of the building. He was not injured.

John Smith, 255 Lake avenue, said the three took $86 in cash from his wallet when he encountered them on the porch of the apartment house. The three then fled on foot after the 7:30 p.m. incident.

Police indicated a window was found broken in another part of the building.

Benton Harbor police investigated seven thefts over the weekend in which goods valued at more than $2,000 were stolen and cash amounting to $285 was taken. They included:

—An electric typewriter, a clarinet and a saxophone, all valued at more than $550, from the Berrien County Performing Arts center, 145 West Main street.

—A portable color television and telephone, valued at $422, from the residence of Linda McGee, 764 Highland avenue.

—A camera, valued at $400, and $145 in cash from the apartment of Patrick Morrison, 770 Colfax.

—An amplifier, valued at $900, from St. Paul Church, 380 South McCord street.

—A stereo record player and clothing from the residence of Emery McClinton, 263 Morton street.

—A .25 caliber pistol, valued at $40, and $140 in cash from the home of Robert Jackson, 1188 Ogden avenue.

—A public address system, valued at $125, from the residence of Vickie Clark, 169 South Hull avenue.

STRIKE CONTINUES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post's deadline for an end to a 75-day strike by its pressmen's union passed at midnight Sunday with no developments, newspaper spokesmen said.

Car Jumps Tracks At Marcellus

MARCELLUS — One car on an eastbound Grand Trunk freight train derailed here early this morning, blocking traffic at three crossings for about two hours.

Frances Bowers, Marcellus village clerk, said the car went off the rails about 6:45 a.m., damaging crossings at Center, Burney, and Main streets. She said the engine was uncoupled by the impact, but was later able to move the cars away from the crossings by about 8:45 a.m.

Cause of the derailment was not immediately clear, but Mrs. Bowers said no one was injured.

Niles Home Loot Valued Over $1,800

NILES — Rick Radka, 2816 South 11th street, Niles, told state police from the Niles post that a drum set and electrical appliances valued at over $1,800 were taken in a break-in of his house last night.

Radka said he returned home about 11:15 p.m. yesterday and found a locked back door had been forced open.

Items reported taken included a drum set valued at $1,000, and a stereo record player and speakers valued at $800.

Also reported taken, all of unknown value, were a portable television set, two tape players, a shotgun, a clock radio and between 70 and 80 stereo tapes, troopers said.

Fire Hits Residence In Niles

NILES — Fire of undetermined origin swept through the Lucius Young home at 32 Cass street here last night, Niles firemen said.

Firemen said Young reported that he was watching television when he heard a loud noise and fire broke out in the basement furnace room of the two-story house about 7:48 p.m.

No cause for the blaze has been determined, but firemen theorized that either a faulty furnace or lightning striking an electrical power line leading to the house may have started the fire.

Firemen said the interior of the house was extensively damaged but said no damage estimate has been made.

Young escaped unharmed and there were no injuries to firemen. The electrical line leading to the house fell on a fire truck during the blaze and city utility employes were called to remove the line, firemen said.

Dead Surgeon Wins Acquittal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A neurosurgeon who died eight months ago has been acquitted of malpractice for performing two lobotomies on a patient.

Stanley Chase, 39, claimed the operations, in 1967 and 1969, had impaired his mental and physical functions and resulted in partial paralysis and loss of emotions and judgment.

Three Oaks Fire Chief Re-Elected

THREE OAKS — James Flick, 604 South Elm street, Three Oaks, was re-elected chief of the Three Oaks volunteer fire department during the department's recent annual business meeting here.

Other fire department officers elected were Wally Lowery, assistant chief; Kenneth Myers, captain; Larry Zebell, secretary-treasurer; Walter Avery, lieutenant; and Donald Portinga, sergeant. The department has 24 volunteer members.

FIRE KILLS 138

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A flash fire roared across a tent city on the outskirts of Mecca, Islam's holy city, killing 138 Moslem pilgrims and injuring 151, the Saudi Arabian government radio reported today.

Ex-St. Joe Woman Turns To Music

say the words of a particular song helped them."

Miss Owen said she always wishes she could turn and tell these people about her personal relationship with the Lord, but she doesn't believe in "cramming the Bible down people's throats."

Anbther milestone in Miss Owen's year was competing in the Miss Muskegon County pageant last spring — where she won talent honors, was third runnerup and was n the queen's court.

"I was fat, older than the others and had polio," she recalled. "And I thought it was a cattle drive at first."

Miss Owen didn't tell any of her friends about entering the pageant tryouts for a long time because "being in a beauty pageant was so out of my concept for myself."

But she chose an operatic score, dicted stringently and began working with the other contestants at a health salon. Remarkable things happened to her legs, and eventually her limp.

"I'm walking better than I ever have before," she said. "And it's all because of the exercises."

She was still concerned about appearing in the swim suit competition at the pageant. But she had a long talk with herself about inner and outer beauty, she said, and decided to go through with it.

Miss Owen, who calls herself a fundamentalist, is active in the Olivet Evangelical Free Church and performs as a guest artist in Muskegon area churches as well.

"You really have to have a mental concept of yourself when singing," she said. "When I'm performing, I want to communicate. I want to tell you something. That's why I chose Christian music.

"You know, if I had to make the choice now of never seeing again or never singing, I'd choose to sing forever."

Properties will be listed in each local metropolitan area on a Monday. During the following ten (10) Calendar days, offers will be accepted from both OWNER OCCUPANTS and NON-OWNER OCCUPANTS. On the bid opening day, sealed bids will be opened from OWNER OCCUPANTS. If a satisfactory bid at the stated or above minimum asking price is received, NON-OWNER OCCUPANT bids will be returned to the broker unopened. If a satisfactory bid is not received from an OWNER OCCUPANT we will then open the NON-OWNER OCCUPANT bids and the property will be sold to the highest bidder at or above the stated minimum asking price. Your bid envelope must be marked with the statement OWNER OCCUPANT or NON-OWNER OCCUPANT. Those bid envelopes not properly marked will not be considered eligible for the bid opening. HUD-FHA reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids. Interested parties may call (616) 456-2211, 2212, 2478, 2502, or write for particulars concerning the properties. Bids over the stated minimum asking price on insured loans and on All Cash — As is offers may be in any amount.

SEALED BIDS ARE REQUIRED ON ALL PROPERTIES DURING THE 10 DAY BID PERIOD, AFTER WHICH PROPERTIES WILL BE ON A FIRST OFFER, FIRST SOLD BASIS. SEALED BIDS MUST BE MARKED WITH THE BID OPENING DATE, CASE NUMBER, PROPERTY ADDRESS, OWNER OCCUPANT OR NON-OWNER OCCUPANT AND THE WORDS "SEALED BID".

CODE: * Partial Warranty;  - Revised Price;  - Revised Priced/Partial Warranty.

THE DEALINGEST DEALER AROUND CONTINUES TO DEAL LIKE NEVER BEFORE!

THE CAR YOU HAVE WAITED FOR IS HERE NOW AND WE HAVE 5 IN STOCK TO CHOOSE FROM ... AND ALL WILL BE PRICED FOR DECEMBER SALE!

Chevette.

Chevette Coupe.

This is the basic economy version of our four-passenger Chevette lineup. But don't let its low price sticker imply we've skimped on quality and features. Standard is the 1.4-litre 4-cylinder OHC engine, along with wall-to-wall carpeting, wide hatch with supports, fold-down rear seat, glove compartment, bright bumpers and trim moldings, acoustical insulation, and more.

Chevette Scooter.

Introducing the Scooter, our lowest priced Chevette and a new kind of all-purpose, economy car just right for today's needs like shopping, commuting and pleasure driving. It has two full foam-cushioned front bucket seats, efficient 1.4-litre 4-cylinder OHC engine and synchronized 4-Speed manual transmission. There's less standard equipment than on the Chevette Coupe, but Scooter's price is less, too.

A new kind of American car.

WE WON'T BE UNDERSOLD

FREE! AMC
Double Buyer Protection Plan®
A $149.00 Value!
24 Months/24,000 Miles of Guaranteed Protection!

AMC Double Buyer Protection Plan®
1. A simple, strong guarantee: When you buy a new 1976 AMC car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 24 months from the date the car is first used or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada and that guaranteed repairs or replacements be made by an American Motors dealer.
2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.
3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.
4. And a toll-free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

The Double Buyer Protection Plan® is our Christmas gift to you when you purchase any 1976 Gremlin, Hornet, Matador or Pacer. Offer valid through Dec. 30 on cars in stock only.

- GREMLIN $2889* — The lowest priced car built in America.
- HORNET $3199* — Two door, three door, four door...Take your pick.

- MATADOR $3621* — Matador sales are the best in three years.
- PACER $3499* — The most innovative car in the industry.

*Not including freight, optional acc., taxes.

THE DEALINGEST DEALER AROUND CONTINUES TO DEAL LIKE NEVER BEFORE!
THE CAR YOU HAVE WAITED FOR IS HERE NOW AND WE HAVE 5
IN STOCK TO CHOOSE FROM ... AND ALL WILL BE PRICED FOR DECEMBER SALE!

Chevette.

Chevette Coupe.
This is the basic economy version of our four-passenger Chevette lineup. But don't let its low price sticker imply we've skimped on quality and features. Standard is the 1.4-litre 4-cylinder OHC engine, along with wall-to-wall carpeting, wide hatch with supports, fold-down rear seat, glove compartment, bright bumpers and trim moldings, acoustical insulation, and more.

Chevette Scooter.
Introducing the Scooter, our lowest priced Chevette and a new kind of all-purpose, economy car just right for today's needs like shopping, commuting and pleasure driving. It has two full foam-cushioned front bucket seats, efficient 1.4-litre 4-cylinder OHC engine and synchronized 4-Speed manual transmission. There's less standard equipment than on the Chevette Coupe, but Scooter's price is less, too.

A new kind of American car.

WE WON'T BE UNDERSOLD

YOUR OWN TV GAME SHOW??? Not quite, but lots of fun and enjoyment comes from this new innovation by Magnovox. ODYSSEY the exciting home video game is now featured at DOUBLEDAY BROS. at their Holiday Faire location in Fairplain Plaza and at their Benton Harbor store. Dick Wenham, store manager is shown above at DOUBLEDAY BROS., Holiday Faire facility. Christmas gifts of all kinds are on display, at both stores that will surely please each and every Christmas gift giver.

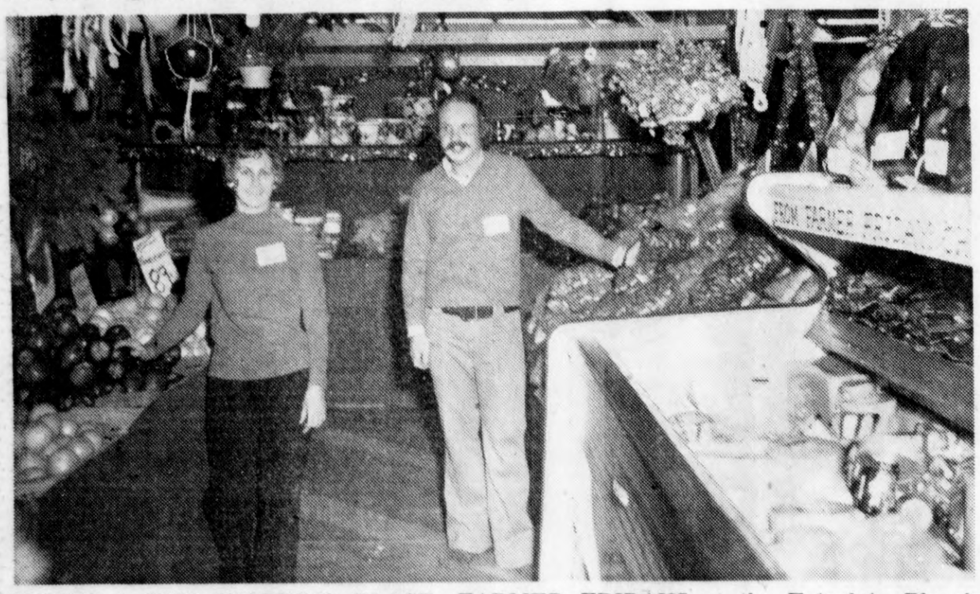

BEAUTY AT ITS BEST... Meet Lori Mayle of THE HANG UP at Fairplain Plaza. She is shown in the very latest coordinated fashions by Red I, exclusively featured at THE HANG UP. This outstanding outfit is available in Minted Tea Green, Melon Shell and Ice-Cap Blue. These luscious colors can be mixed or matched by coordinating pants, skirts and tops! The pants are washable knit or french whale. Like a particular style??? We have smock tops, wrap-around skirts and the very latest gored skirts. The unbelievable low prices are "un-real!!"! Just $17 for this top and only $19 for the pant. Other tops in the selection as low as $11. For salesgirls in tune with the times....come to THE HANG UP!

REMEMBER the "GOOD OLD DAYS"? So does everyone else at the WHITCOMB TOWER. They know the songs, stories, jokes and traditions that you know. How come? Because they are your generation...that's why. Lonely? No time for it. Too much going on! Live at the WHITCOMB TOWER in St. Joseph among contemporary friends. More than a place to live....a home. Phone Elvin Job at 983-2513 to make an appointment to visit the WHITCOMB TOWER, where people enjoy helping each other.

NEW IN THE AREA but not in the business..... Bud Wade, owner of M&W TIRE INC. can help you with all of your tire needs. With eighteen years of experience, he invites you to visit his new Firestone Tire and Service Center. M&W TIRE INC. has two handy locations in the Twin City area. They are located in St. Joseph at 2525 Niles Avenue and in Benton Harbor at 157 Hinkley Street. Both facilities are open from 8 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., Monday thru Friday and on Saturdays they are open from 8 a.m. until noon. Snow tires are in demand now and you can buy a pair Snow Biter Firestone tires at M&W for of as low as $43.90. There is no charge for tire mounting and the balancing is free. We also give you free valves! They also stock truck, tractor, earth moving, industrial, and solid tires as well as industrial batteries. As an extra added special---we have the new 1975 Christmas Music LP Album for only $1.49 (a $3.98 Value). Come in, compare prices and you'll agree---M&W TIRE INC. is the tire place!

HERE'S A FUN SHOPPING PLACE: FARMER FRIDAYS at the Fairplain Plaza's Holiday Faire. Everthing from soup to nuts.....(well not quite) but we do have the nuts! Fresh walnuts and produce are available to dress up any holiday table setting. FARMER FRIDAY'S comes to you at Fairplain Plaza. Russ Brown, the facilities manager can make the right selections. If cheese is your fancy — they have it! By the way, just ask for a tasty sample of cheese and you'll say "cheese" all the time! Christmas shopping is made easy here as they have inexpensive assorted gift items by the thousands for only 69c each. Hurry — Christmas is near and so is FARMER FRIDAY'S at Holiday Faire, Fairplain Plaza.

JOYFUL DINING...at WYNDWICKE COUNTRY CLUB is truly one of the most delightful experiences one can have. The hostess and manager, Ms. Eyleene Boozer makes the occasion even more pleasureable from her pleasant greeting at the door with her warm hospitable personality, to her friendly farewell. CHRISTMAS TIME OR ANYTIME is the time to visit TROOST BROS. FURNITURE in downtown St. Joseph. Whether it be juvenile furnishings or decorative fixtures for the home, TROOST BROS. is a name you can trust. June Tragna is one of our interior designers at TROOST BROS. She is shown holding a Gift Certificate which is available as the ideal Christmas Gift. No need to wonder what to get—just give the most practical—a gift certificate. This eliminates the whys and wonders of what to get. Come in and see our fine selection of merchandise on display. We have three sales floors of fine furnishings. While you are at it---stop by at our Christmas Corner near the front of the store. Look at our beautiful tree and enjoy our many gift ideas at TROOST BROS. Serving Berrien Country since 1903. Happy Holidays!

ATTRACTIVE Debbie Sink, sales clerk at THE CLOTHESLINE invites you to come in and see the large array of fine fashions for women and children. THE CLOTHESLINE is located on Niles Avenue (across from Mr. Steak) in St. Joseph. Debbie is showing Santa one of the newest winter coats which is outlet priced at only $33. The regular price of this leather-like coat is $66. The lovely two-piece dressy outfit that Debbie is modeling is outlet priced at only $34.75 (regular price, $47). If you haven't visited THE CLOTHESLINE--hurry in. You'll be glad you did. THE CLOTHESLINE is open from 9:30 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday. On Saturdays they are open from 9:30 until 5:30, and Sundays: noon until 5 p.m.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS to all of their friends and customers is the friendly thought conveyed by the smiling faces above. Who are these people??? Well, as you probably know already, (if you shop at their store), they are one of the most personable employee groups in the Twin City area! Want to meet them? Come on in to BUY LOW THRIFTIMART where quality food is sold at the most competitive prices. Wide aisles and a full service meat counter are only two reasons you should shop there. Come in and say hello to their friendly staff. Pictured above from left to right, (back row): Vaughn McKinney, ass't mgr., Mike Rapp store mgr., Pete Heyn, Roy Williams, Willie Campbell,stockers.
